Making effective use of spinner and quick-opening plays the Prowlers notched their first touchdown midway in the opening period Friday night. Bob Baker returned a Bemidji punt 10 yards to the Lumberjack 48-yard line. Herb Claffy spun off right tackle for 7 yards; Wes Hovie pounded through for a first down on Bemidji's 33-yard line. A pass, Claffy to Art Forsberg, counted another first down on the 20-yard line. After an incompleted pass, Ninak Carlson picked up 6 yards on a cutback over right tackle; Hovie added 3 yards at right guard; and Claffy moved for a first down on the Bemidji 8-yard line. Bemidji, defending the east goal, called for time. Forsberg failed to gain on running play; but Claffy sliced off right tackle for the touchdown. Carlson added the point on a slant off tackle.

A poor Bemidji punt, giving the Prowlers the ball on the Lumberjack 18-yard line, set up the locals' second score. Forsberg, on cut-back, made 4 yards at right tackle; Ray Offerdahl took a shovel pass for a yard; Hovie drove through center for 4 yards; and then carried the ball for a first down on the Bemidji 8-yard line. A Bemidji penalty moved the ball to the 3-yard line. Claffy picked up 2 yards at guard, and then sneaked through center for the marker. Carlson, on a sweep around end, failed to add the point.

Moments later the Prowlers had tallied their third touchdown. Offerdahl recovered a Bemidji fumble on the Lumberjack 34-yard line, and on the first play Claffy shot a short pass to Norm Furuseth at the line of scrimmage, and Furuseth flipped a lateral to Carlson, and Ninak scampered around right end to cross the west goal standing up. Forsberg's placekick for the point was good.

Bemidji, on the first play following the Prowler kickoff, made their most serious threat to score. With the ball on the Lumberjack 30-yard line, Bob Brown tossed a pass to tall Phil Fair, who made the catch on the Prowler 40-yard line, and then lateraled to chunky Walt Herman, who appeared to have an open field to the Prowler goal, but Chuck Richards hauled the Lumberjack down from behind on the 8-yard line, and the locals held for downs, smearing a running play and three pass plays.

The game's final marker was chalked up in the first minutes of the second half. The Prowlers received the kickoff, Forsberg returning the ball to the locals' 43-yard line. Claffy, trying a cutback, slipped and lost a yard; Forsberg made 3 yards at right tackle; and then Ninak Carlson broke off right tackle, reversed his field as he reached the secondary, and was away for a touchdown. Hovie plunged over for the extra point, bringing the score to 27 to 0.

The Prowler line was out-charging the Lumberjack forwards, with captain Norm Furuseth and Tony Dorn being especially effective in clearing the way for the Prowler ball-carriers. The locals' backfield, Herb Claffy, Ninak Carlson, Art Forsberg, and Wes Hovie—two juniors and two sophomores—ran very well and picked their openings nicely. The play of Bob Baker at center was another Prowler highlight, as was the line play of Chuck Richards, end Ray Offerdahl, and guards Don Fretland and Cal Ripley.

.... With BUCK OLSON

Plenty Sweet

The Prowlers looked plenty sweet in racking up that satisfying 27 to 0 win over Bemidji on Friday and, incidentally, they made a number of us second-guessers look very sour. That Prowler win, which was only the sixth victory registered over a Lumberjack eleven in a series that dates back to 1917, was the most decisive that a Blue-and-Gold team had ever scored. In 1917, with such players as John Steen, Ralph Hilson, Ambrose Zeh, Chuck Prichard, George Mostue, Rufe Barackman, and Denny McGinn, and coached by Charles Roberts, the Prowlers (called the midgets in those days) defeated Bemidji, 18 to 6. That held high-score until George Lee's 1937 team marked up a 20 to 6 victory over the Lumberjacks. That 1937 team was undefeated during the season and was one of the strongest teams to ever represent Thief River Falls, with such players as Bob Quale, Don Lorentson, and Clark Michelson at the ends; Bones Stadum, Lefty Bredeson, and Zipper Mattson at the tackles; Red Eide and Wes Johnson at guards; captain Bob Hanson at center; and Lynn Booren, Lowell Nesse, Mel Haughom, and Gordy Caldis in the backfield.

Joe Gavin, Wendell Lundell, Tom

1923 Was the Bad Year

On the other side of the ledger we find that the worst lacing that the Prowlers absorbed from Bemidji occurred in 1923, when the Lumberjacks won, 53 to 0. Math Barzen, John Sether, Mike Parenteau, Joe Gavin, Wendil Lundell, Tom Belland, Don McCrum, Lloyd Bennes, Roy Langevin, Walt Larson, Allan Sorenson, and Mel Peterson were some of the local players that year. But maybe I shouldn't have brought that score up.

But I doubt if that great 1937 team ever looked any better than the Prowlers did Friday night. Everything clicked, and they made and took advantage of the breaks. Earl Hoffman and Roy Trueblood, the referee and umpire, and who had officiated the Prowlers' game at Red Lake Falls, admitted that they didn't recognize the Prowlers as the same team that had been tied by Red Lake Falls. Trueblood added, though, that perhaps Red Lake Falls has a stronger team than most of the fans realize, and that 14 to 7 win that Red Lake Falls scored over a highly-touted Crookston team on Friday indicates that Trueblood may be right.

Played Like All-stars

The Prowlers played like an all-star aggregation on Friday, with Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Hub Claffy, and Ninak Carlson perhaps sparkling a bit brighter than their teammates. Norm and Tony really went to work on the left side of the Bemidji line, with the result that big Phil Fair was pretty "fed up" with football when the fourth period rolled around. Claffy's tackle of Walt Herman, and Chuck Richards successful chase of the same player, were the game's defensive features. Herb hit Herman so hard that coach Red Wilson had to remove the chunky ball-carrier from the game.

Tomorrow night, at Moorhead, the Prowlers meet up with Cliff Halmrast's Spuds, and again the locals will be the short-enders. Halmrast has a team, with big Charlie Melberg at tackle and Harvey Stowers in the backfield, that is reputed to compare with some of the strongest Spudder clubs. Well, if the Prowlers can stay "up" for the game and play like they did against Bemidji, they'll give the Spuds a game.

Bowling Notes

Oscar Cerny's Mint alleys, with George Gall as manager, opened for the season Monday. Gorge, who was care-taker of the local golf course this year, will probably keep the alleys as slick as he kept th golf club greens, and that means fine bowling for the local keglers.

Officers of the city bowling association—president Ed. Carlson, vice-president Bush Hallstrom, secretary Stan Larson, and directors Wally Carlson, Dr. Cliff Jacobson, Alex Smith, and Al Weber held an informal meeting Tuesday evening and drew up preliminary plans for th season. Present plans call for the organization of two eight-team leagues, with the leagues tentatively scheduled to begin bowling on Oct. 26th. Team rosters have not been completed and any bowler wishing to participate in league bowling, and not having been signed to a team, should get in touch with Ed. or Stan.

Bluebird Weather

Ever since opening day, which found most of the nimrods getting their limits, the mild late-summer weather has been mor plasing to th robins and bluebirds than to the duck hunters. Opening day, though, was tops.

B, C GAS COUPONS REDUCED IN VALUE TO TWO GALLONS

Order Last Thursday Does Not Affect Value of A Coupons

Gasoline rations of B and C card motorists in Minnesota and the rest of the country east of the Rocky mountains were cut from three gallons to two gallons a coupon Thursday in office of price administration's newest rationing regulations.

The change became effective at midnight Thursday.

Value of A coupons remained unchanged at three gallons each under the order, but the coupon period was shortened in eastern states to give motorists there two gallons of gasoline a week instead of one and one-half.

OPA gave no indication of what action might be taken later with regard to reduction of A rations.

There have been reports that value of A coupons also would be reduced to two gallons a week in the midwest, effective by Nov. 1 or earlier.

JIM CROW BECOMES ACCOMPLISHED MOOCHER

Montevideo.—The Wogan's crow, apparently deserving of more personal attention than to be anonymously chronicled, is an accomplished moocher. After a night and a breakfast at home he hies himself to the court house, where he raises a rumpus on the ledge of one of the county officials until someone brings him some tidbits. Where he goes from there has not been disclosed but it is suspected that Mr. Jim Crow may wind up in the county jail on a vagrancy charge.

DRIVERS LICENSE REVOCATION LISTS AVAILABLE HERE

Gives Public Opportunity to Check up on Law Violators

Lists of cancelled and revoked drivers' licenses should be of interest to persons who desire to know whose driving performance is such as to endanger the lives of others in the community, according to W. F. Rosenwald, traffic engineer of the Minnesota Department of Highways. These lists are available at the offices of the sheriff and chief of police.

"Early each month a list of names of persons whose drivers' licenses have been revoked or cancelled during the preceding month, is posted in the office of every sheriff and chief of police in the state," said Mr. Rosenwald. "This enables the enforcement agencies to realize the usefulness of the drivers' license law in preventing those from driving, who, by their own performance and record, have shown that they are not safe persons to be allowed to drive a motor vehicle upon the public streets and highways.

"Any person who questions the right of another to drive a motor vehicle upon the public streets or highways should check these lists with the local law enforcement officers. If it is found that any person is driving after his license has been revoked or cancelled, the facts should be reported to the local authorities."

Next Shoe Ration Stamp Valid November 1, Must Last Six-Month Period

Take it easy with brogans, boys and girls, it's going to be a longer time between pairs.

Six months is the period set by the Office of Price Administration for stretching the next new-shoe ration stamp, which becomes valid Nov. 1.

Heretofore, it's been four months between coupons.

Principal cause, OPA explained, is a critical shortage of leather.

Present production estimates indicate, OPA said, that the new stamp will have to last until May 1.

In naming Stamp No. 1 on the "airplane" sheet of ration book 3 as the coupon for the next period, OPA also announced that the expiration date of stamp 18 in book one has been extended indefinitely beyond Oct. 31. Its use will overlap the new stamp, which likewise has no expiration date.

Elimination of expiration dates is intended to forestall last-minute rushes and to permit families to budget their needs over longer periods.

HOW WE IN THIEF RIVER FALLS Can Help Win the War and Peace

We who are not in the armed services, often ask the question, "How can I help shorten this terrible war?"

We can help in many ways. The American Army is only as strong as the home front. Our continued cooperation, sacrifice and work is vital to victory. The following are six definite things we can do:

1 Buy and hold war bonds.
2 Pay cheerfully our share of taxes.
3 Comply with the rationing rules to conserve scarce things.
4 Buy only what we need and make that last longer.
5 Write often and keep our letters cheerful to the service men.
6 Protect our American liberties in our own community.

American Armies are winning victories, but every hour this war lasts means more casualties. Don't let down, don't rest, our efforts can help shorten the war, let's carry on!

New Ulm. — From sheep to shoulders is the record of Donald Atkins, telephone lineman and weaver extraordinary. Next a frame was built and an Afghan 6 feet inches by 7 feet 8 inches was woven in one piece of nine strips. The stitch was preliminarily worked out in a scarf before making the Afghan, which is four thicknesses of yarn.

TAX LEVY FOR CITY NEEDS TO CHANGE LITTLE

Council Votes to Raise Sum of $16,000 Thru Taxes; $14,100 Last Year

WILL REQUIRE LEVY OF ABOUT 8.9 MILLS

Aggregate Tax Levy for City of Thief River Falls Not Yet Known

The city council at its October session Tuesday evening adopted a budget for the coming year calling for the raising by taxes of the sum of $16,000, compared to $14,100 in 1942, $16,000 in 1941, $22,200 in 1940 and $41,550 in 1939.

The levy, which City Clerk P. G. Pederson estimated would involve a tax rate for city purposes of approximately 8.9 mills, compared to 8.2 mills in effect this year, includes the following items: Auditorium fund, $5,000; library fund, $5,000; park fund, $5,000; and cemetery fund, $1,000.

The amounts levied will fall short about $11,400 of meeting the requirements of the budget, which will be balanced by transferring this sum from the current expense fund, into which fund goes receipts from the municipal power plant and other sources of income.

Not available yet is the total tax rate which will apply on Thief River Falls property for 1943, as the office of the county auditor has not yet been advised of the rate for state purposes.

At its session the council approved a partial payment to Peter Breznay on his contract for work at the municipal airport. He has completed the plowing of 200 acres, and has disked a considerable portion of the area.

Arrangements were made at the meeting for a half-dozen members of the official city family to go to Crookston next Wednesday, October 20, for a regional meeting of the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

State Headquarters Calling for Heavy Deliveries from This Area

A total of 649 tons of scrap iron and steel has been set as Pennington county's quota in the Victory Scrap Bank drive to get under way October 24, state salvage headquarters announced today.

This amount is sought from county farms, homes, shops and stores, with the farms being depended upon to produce the greatest amount, it was stated. An average of half a ton from each farm has been set as a goal for each farm in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana. These states have a combined quota of 500,000 tons of scrap, he said.

"The Victory Scrap Bank," The statement said, "is the answer to the needs of our fighting forces now that they're pushing ahead and reaching out for victory we all want. The demand for scrap in the plants that are making munitions is getting heavier because of the need for munitions on all fronts."

Board Grants Salary Adjustment to Public School Janitors

Supplemental aid to the Thief River Falls school district, No. 18, will be paid in full this year, instead of being prorated at 65 per cent, as was the case last year, Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted informed the board of education at its October session Monday evening.

In the budget drawn up for the current year, it had been estimated that supplemental aid would be prorated at 75 per cent, yielding the district $21,496.90. On the basis announced this week the district will receive $28,662.54, an increase of $7,165.64.

The board at its meeting approved an arrangement whereby a five-cent lunch, including milk, will be served at Lincoln high school, while half-pint bottles of milk will be sold for two cents in the grade schools.

Mr. Fjelsted submitted a final report on the Lincoln high school potato picking project in West Polk county, stating that local students had picked a total of 71,800 bushels, earning approximately $5,500. He reported that Burdall Merritt led the young people with a record of having picked 1062 bushels in 13 days, followed by Robert Hayes with 882 bushels in 12 days, while Arlene Peterson led the girls with 815 bushels picked in 15 days.

The board approved a salary adjustment for school janitors, under the terms of which the minimum salary schedule is raised from $1,200 to $1,320 a year, rising after three years to a maximum of $1,560. The new schedule, which takes effect this month, will cost the district a total of $60 additional per month, Mr. Fjelsted said.

Famous Author Speaks at Annual Banquet of Women's Club Tuesday

Approximately 90 members of the Women's club gathered in the Community church parlors Tuesday evening for their 29th annual dinner meeting. Miss Vera Kelsey, noted author of travel books dealing with the South American countries, was guest speaker for the evening using the country of Brazil as her subject.

In her talk the author compared the work of the local club units with activities of that nature in Brazil. The young matrons of Brazil, she said, have copied our ideas to a great extent and have watched over our activities and our mode of living.

She went on to describe Brazilian music which, being very rhythmic, gets its strains of sadness from the Indians and from various European countries. Touching on the subject of art, Miss Kelsey mentioned that the work of Candido Portinari, who also drew illustrations for one of her books, was not accepted in Brazil until we in the United States and Europe recognized his type of art.

On the subject of Current Events, Miss Kelsey said that by reading alone the women of this country could influence the good neighbor policy in relation to Brazil, as the people from that country copy our type of reading, and what we read has a definite influence on them.

Speaking again of the women of Brazil, Miss Kelsey described the mode of dress of women of that country, adding that in recent years the well-dressed women has turned to gayer colors. The Brazilian women are very capable and have much executive ability and, she added, "In Brazil a successful man plants a tree, raises a son, and writes a book."

Following the writer's talk, Women's club members were given a chance to ask questions, which Miss Kelsey willingly answered.

With Mrs. J. M. Bishop as toastmistress, a varied program was presented including community singing under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Hanna, director of the music group; a reading by Miss Shirley Simonson; two songs by the music group, "Kerry Dance" by Molly-Lynes and "In the Luxembourg Gardens" by Kathleen Manning; piano solo by Mrs. Alan Purdy, "Fantasie Impromptu" by Chopin; and remarks by Mrs. V. D. Borry. The chairman of each group then told of the work her unit does and outlined plans for the coming year.

Vegetables were used as the motif for the decorations, centerpieces being made up of squash, gourds, and carrots. Sprays of bittersweet also decorated the tables, as well as lighted orange tapers placed in potatoes for candleholders. Programs were printed on colored paper in the shape of vegetables.

L. D. R. Has Supper for Prospective Members

Getting acquainted with prospective members of the L. D. R. was the purpose of the supper given by the organization in the Trinity church parlors Tuesday evening. With Miss Margaret Stadum, president, as toastmistress, a program was presented including the piano solo "The Shepherd Boy" by Mrs. Wilhelm Hanson; the reading "Facts About Lutherans" by Elizabeth Dahlen; and another reading "Lutheran Daughters Covenant" by Hazel Hegrenes. The tables were decorated for the occasion with lighted tapers and bouquets of autumn flowers. Misses Betty Ann Jacobson and Eileen Louze waited on tables. Group singing followed the program and the remainder of the evening was spent playing games.

Trinity Circle Honors Mrs. E. O. Gullingsrud

Circle No. 9 of the Trinity Lutheran church surprised Mrs. E. O. Gullingsrud Thursday of last week at an informal gathering. The self-invited guests brought the lunch and flowers decorated the rooms for the occasion.

Miss Doris Israelson Is Married Sept. 19 in Bremerton, Wash.

Vines and autumn leaves interspersed with fluffy white asters formed the background for the beautiful home wedding which united Miss Doris Israelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Israelson of Bremerton, formerly of this city, and Delphine Paul Seefeldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seefeldt of Eland, Wisconsin. The couple repeated their nuptial vows in Bremerton, Wash., Sunday afternoon, Sept. 19, at a 2 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Theo. Hokenstad. On either side of the improvised altar were huge bouquets of mixed autumn flowers and hanging from the archway overhead was a silver wedding bell and white satin streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Israelson was charming in her two-piece ensemble of blue wool. Her jewelry was a necklace of pearls and she wore a corsage of pink rosebuds and bouvardia.

Mrs. Jerome Jensen (nee Darleen Israelson) attended her sister as matron of honor. She chose a two-piece frock of brown wool and wore a corsage of yellow roses. Best man for Mr. Seefeldt was Alfred L. Kiemele.

Preceding the ceremony, lovely nuptial music was played, and "I Love You Truly" was sung by "Arizona Joe," of radio fame. He also sang several selections during the reception.

The close friends who had gathered for the ceremony remained for the reception over which Mrs. Charles Green and Mrs. Israelson, mother of the bride, presided. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Israelson chose an afternoon frock of flowered jersey. She wore pearls, given her by the bridegroom.

A two-tiered wedding cake centered the lace-covered bride's table, flanked by slender tapers in crystal holders. A bouquet of larkspur and sweetpeas, in a silver bowl, also added an attractive note to the table motif. Mrs. Green served the cake after the bridal pair had traditionally cut the first piece, and pouring were Miss Mildred Nordhagen and Miss Myrtle Karlstad.

The new Mrs. Seefeldt was educated in this city and went to Bremerton with her parents about a year ago. Mr. Seefeldt, who has been in that city for two years, was educated in Wisconsin. Both are employed in the Puget Sound Navy Yard and are now at home in Bremerton.

The H. C. of L. is making people toe the mark so they can foot the bills.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Nelson Weds in Tacoma, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Nelson, formerly of this city and now residing in Tacoma, Wash., announce the marriage of their daughter, Doris Louella, to Pfc. John Maynard Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stedman Wood of Tacoma. The ceremony took place in the First Lutheran church in Tacoma with Rev. Carl A. Rydell officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was lovely as she advanced down the aisle with her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Karl Weiss. Her gown was of filmy white marquisette, the square neckline of the close fitting bodice filled in with lace which was repeated in the inserts of the softly trailing skirt. A three-quarter length tulle veil fell from a Juliet cap trimmed with fresh stephanotis centered in a white orchid.

The bridegroom's brother, Donald Wood, acted as best man, and ushers were Eugene Nelson and John Mucky. The songs, "For You Alone" and "Through the Years" were by Miss Betty Cheney. Many candles blazed at the altar, where baskets of dahlias contrasted with palms.

One of the stars of the bridal party was 5 year old Linda Elliot Wood, niece of the bridegroom, who was the flower girl. Her floor length white marquisette frock was a replica of the other attendants, with its snug bodice, its square neck outlined in lace and full skirt with lace insets. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Mrs. Dean L. Thompson, in pale green, was matron of honor; Miss Kathryn McDonald wore powder blue, and Miss Louise Cheney, pale pink. Their flowers were white gladioli and red rosebuds. Mrs. Nelson chose for her daughter's wedding a frock of white crepe and Mrs. Wood, Sr., was in Alice blue crepe, both wearing lavender orchids.

The 200 guests remained for the reception in the church parlors, which were gay with colorful autumn flowers. Silver candelabra bore aloft the white tapers at the supper table with its lace cloth, and presiding were Mrs. James Nelson, Mrs. Edna Anderson, Mrs. Rex Pierce, and Mrs. Robert Sconce.

Mrs. Donald Wood was in charge of the guest book, Mrs. Bernard Gunderson of the bride's cake, and assisting were Misses Norene Invoen, Mary Thomas, Betty Jean Jackson, and Jean Johnson.

For her traveling costume Mrs. Wood wore a powder blue wool suit with brown lizard accessories, a matching off-the-face hat and a brown fur coat. The honeymoon was spent on Vashon Island and in California.

Both Pfc. and Mrs. Wood are alumni of Stadium high school in Tacoma, and the bridegroom also attended the College of Puget Sound.

Stork Shower Fetes Mrs. Lindahl O. Johnson, Jr.

A stork shower in form of a bridge party was given last evening at the C. S. Simonson home honoring Mrs. Lindahl O. Johnson, Jr., (nee Vivian Ward). Mrs. Morris Howick and Miss Joyce Olson won the first and second prizes, respectively, for the bridge that was played at three tables, and Miss Annette Simonson, hostess, served a two-course luncheon, using pink and white as the color scheme for the favors and other decorations. Miss Betty Simonson and Mrs. C. S. Simonson assisted with the serving.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Johnson in a large basket decorated in pink and white. Present at the shower besides the honored guest and Miss Simonson were Misses Jean Frissell, Helen Howick, Anne Hanson, Joyce Olson, Joyce Bennes, Mmes. George Munt, Norman Peterson, Raymond Munt, William Sexton, Robert Bredeson, Morris Howick, Gaston Ward, and T. J. Reierson.

Costume Party Given for Crookston Visitors

Mrs. Loren Dillon entertained Friday night at a Halloween costume party in honor of Mrs. Morris Marsten and son Kent of Crookston, who were visiting at the Dillon home. The guests, who were all in costume for the occasion, spent the evening playing whist, for which high honors went to Mrs. Kathleen Langevin and second high to Mrs. Marsten. At the close of the evening an old-fashioned lunch was served buffet style.

Those present at the gathering besides Mrs. Marsten and her hostess were Mmes. Yvonne Rossen, Henry Storhaug, Art Berg, Albert Kriel, Kay Hanson, Harry Hendrickson, Bertha Forsberg, Ward Long, Don Houfek, and Kathleen Langevin.

Recruitment of Nurses for Armed Services Is Lagging, Says Red Cross

Recruitment of nurses for the armed forces is by no means keeping pace with the ever-increasing need of the armed forces, and the situation is now critical, Miss Mary Beard, director of nursing service, American Red Cross, announced as September figures were released.

Although the quota for each month during the coming year has been set at 2,500 a month, only 1,289 applied for war service in September, she reported. This is the fifth consecutive month that applications have fallen off, which is serious in view of the fact that about 400 new hospitals are to open up in all theaters of war during the coming 12 months to care for the increasing number of casualties.

That recruitment figures for the past five months have lagged far behind quotas is shown by the fact that in May, 1,241 signed up; June, 1,128; July, 1,044; August, 1,090; and September, 1,289.

Halloween Birthday Party Honoring Billy Maruska

Mrs. Joe Maruska entertained for her son Billy Saturday afternoon, the occasion being his ninth birthday. The Halloween motif was carried out in the decorations, and the table was topped with a large Jack-o'-lantern, a birthday cake, and flowers. Halloween games and stunts were enjoyed, after which lunch was served by Mrs. Maruska to the guests.

Those sharing in the occasion besides Billy and his mother were Peter and Caylor Adkins, LaVerne Johnson, James Thompson, Jerry Sanstad, Mrs. Harold Sanstad, Joey Maruska, and Mary Ann Maruska. Out of town guests were Billy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Sanstad, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson and Jerome Henning of Holt. The honored guest received many gifts, cards, and a cash purse from his friends and relatives.

ATTENTION Victory Aides

Our organization has been called upon to assist in the drive to raise Pennington County's quota of $8,000 for the National War Service Fund.

In order to save time and gasoline our people are asked to be their own solicitors, bringing their donations to the office of Robert J. Lund in Thief River Falls. From October 18th to November 1st every effort will be made to secure voluntary contributions by this method. As contributions are received they will be credited to their proper communities.

Starting November 1st lists of the names of those who have not contributed will be given to us and it will then be necessary to contact these individuals personally.

In order to reduce as much as possible the work of solicitation after November 1st, will you please encourage your people to be their own solicitors, bringing in their own contributions at their convenience as soon as possible.

Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

MRS. E. C. KARWAND,
County Chairman.

REGISTRATION IS SET FOR RATION BOOK 4 IN PENNINGTON COUNTY

Single applications will be filed for all members of any one family living in the same household, while separate applications will be filed by persons living in the same household who are not related by blood, marriage or adoption.

Book 4 is designed to last nearly two years, eliminating frequent registrations. It will have 8 pages, with a total of 384 units, each of which can be designated for the purchase of items or groups of items. Twelve of the 384 units are marked "sugar", another 12 "coffee". There are 72 black spare stamps which may be used for other articles that might be designated for rationing, and 12 marked "coffee" will be available for the same purpose since coffee is no longer rationed.

Change tokens are scheduled to come into use early in 1944. When that happens the stamps on which tokens are used will have one designated point value instead of the present 8, 5, 2, 1. If this value is set at 10 points and a purchase is made that calls for 9 points, 6 tokens worth 1 point each would be received as change. The tokens will be made of plastic slightly larger than a nickel and thicker than a quarter. For red stamp change, the tokens will be red flecked with blue, and the opposite for blue stamp.

The tokens may be spent at any time, without designated periods.

PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editors:

Here's something that puzzles me and I think it does a lot of others too. Maybe someone can shed a bit of light on it.

When our service men come home they want to go places, see people and do things they haven't done in a long time. I'm asking, is 5 gallons of gas enough for them?

For the boys who have been in camp here in the States it may be alright, but for those who have been away on the dirty battle fields, seeing death, misery and going without, why can't they be given a bit more than 5 gallons of gas without so many questions about it?

Just recently a young man came home after spending many months at Guadalcanal and the stories he can tell are enough to make anyone shiver. He wants to forget it all while he's home again, and how far can he get on 5 gallons of gas? When he goes driving along the beautiful country roads during this nice fall weather on his 5 gallons of gas do you suppose he's singing the song, "This Is Worth Fighting For."

Could someone answer this more clearly?

Mrs. S. Stephens

ON SECOND THOUGHT

All these drives for this or that get us down. Now that the war bond drive is completed we are asked to get steamed up about the drive to raise funds for the war chest. And another scrap iron drive is ready to be launched. Then too we must remember to cut pulpwood. If it isn't one thing then it's two or three other things and we wonder how in the world they expect us to take care of our own business.

In that fashion we fussed and fumed when we were asked to lend a hand in the coming drive to raise Pennington County's quota for the War Service Fund. That was our first reaction. The second reaction was different.

The fellows who are doing the actual fighting in this war probably get a little discouraged at times too. There is no vacation for them after a battle has been won. The end of one hard fight merely means the start of another hard fight. From North Africa the scene shifts to Sicily and then to Italy and from there to many more places. Guadalcanal was a splendid victory but it was only the first stop in a long, hard road back. One battle follows hard upon the heels of another and the fellows who are doing the fighting will have to win many battles before this war can end.

Compared with what the men in uniform are called upon to do the little sacrifices we are asked to make are trifling. That was our second reaction. We expect the men on the fighting fronts to do their part and they expect us to do ours. Beyond that there isn't much to be said. We have a few chores to do. Let's get them done.

Pennington County is asked to contribute $8,000 to the National War Fund for the coming year. This fund will be distributed among 17 service and relief organizations. About half the total will be used to provide comforts for our own service men at home and abroad, including as far as possible those of our men who are in enemy prison camps. The other half will be used for relief as it can be extended in such countries as Norway, Belgium, Holland, Greece, France, Russia, China, Poland, etc. Whatever amount is raised over the $8,000 we are asked to give will be retained here at home to be used in caring for the needs of returning soldiers. As individuals we will be asked to contribute one day's earnings to be divided among all these worthwhile activities and that surely is not asking too much of us.

President Roosevelt administered a well deserved rebuke to the five globe trotting senators who climbed on their soap boxes and started beating their gums as soon as they returned from their junket. A tour of inspection, such as the one they made, could serve a useful purpose, but partisian political purposes are not useful under the present circumstances. It is unfortunate that the President himself has started mixing war and politics but his shortcomings do not justify others in resorting to similar practices. Right now we have a war to win, and, following that, a peace to establish. Until the war is won, at least, we owe it to ourselves and to our allies to be reserved in our criticism of military policies.

Slowly but surely Hitler's house of blocks is falling down upon him. A couple of years ago Portugal would not have dared to open the Azores to Hitler's enemies. Now the little country takes such action without fear. Italy's declaration of war on her former ally may be little more important than Portugal's gesture of friendship to the United Nations, but it is more bad news in Hitler's camp and one more dent in German morale. Day and night German cities are being destroyed by bombing raids of steadily increasing intensity. Day by day the Russian armies are advancing from the East while from the south comes the threat of a major offensive that could bring a Balkan explosion at any time. No nation could stand up very long under such pressure.

Most of the harvest is out and over but not all of it. There still is a harvest problem ahead of us and that is our poultry crop. Harvesting this crop is not so much a headache for the farmer as it is for the buyer who does the killing and packing. Poultry plants are crowded to capacity and the labor shortage is making it difficult to keep up with the heavy demand. The turkey selling season is going to add to these difficulties. This is another problem that may require some community cooperation.

Lud Roe of the Montevideo News has come through with another idea that seems to be meeting with a favorable reception in his community. He suggested that stores adopt a half-day schedule during the week between Christmas and New Year's Day, remaining closed until noon. The idea sounds reasonable and could well be considered by local merchants. There is little business that week and the public would not suffer. Stores are short handed and clerks will be overworked during the Christmas rush. The half-day holidays would give them a well deserved breather.

Card of Thanks

We wish hereby to extend our most sincere thanks to all friends and neighbors for their kindness to us during our recent bereavement, and to all who contributed the beautiful flowers, and the memorials. In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son and brother Carl F. Green who passed away one year ago Oct. 13, 1942.

God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are alone
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Green and family. 41p

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Thora Dagny Bjornaras, who passed away 7 years ago, on Oct. 12, 1936.

This day recalls sad memories
Of a dear one laid to rest;
And those who think of you this day
Are we who loved you best.
We think of you in silence
No one can see us weep;
But many are the tears we shed
When others are asleep.
People may think we're happy
When at times they see us smile,
But they do not know the heart-aches
We suffer all the while.
Thora, your smiles are with us yet,
They are smiles we can't forget! 41c

Now it claims attention for mammoth pumpkins. In a field of uniformly excellent specimens of pie on the hoof was found dessert enough for an army camp in a sleek, sound 57-pound pumpkin.

MINUS ONE "T"— HOTEL GUEST EJECTED

Northfield.—Making his custom ary morning reconnaisance, the proprietor of a local hotel found a sleek black cat comfortably ensconsed in the midst of a clean bed. He lurred kitty to the back door and more or less forcibly ejected him. Later, Mr. Proprietor wondered if he had actually acted too hastily when he found registered for the night before one A. T. Catt.

MARSHALL CO. IS NEAR GOAL IN 3D WAR LOAN DRIVE

Sales and Pledges in County Aggregate $721,975, Says Chairman

Marshall county is practically over-the-top in the 3rd War Loan Drive and when final figures are compiled at the Federal Reserve Bank in Minneapolis on Saturday, it is expected that the county will have reached or bettered its quota of $782,500.00, O. M. Mattson, chairman of the Marshall County War Finance committee, announced today.

Sales and pledges for the county up to Tuesday totaled $721,975.00 and with sales made in the county through Thursday and Friday continuing to count in the drive, it is very possible that the quota will be reached, said Mr. Mattson.

According to a report issued from the Federal Reserve Bank in Minneapolis on Monday, Marshall county was in 41st place in actual sales of bonds with an even 94 per cent of the quota reached. On this basis, which is official, only six per cent will be needed to reach the quota.

In Series E Bond sales Marshall county was well towards the top among counties in the state with sales reaching 188 per cent of the quota of $227,300. This placed the county in 10th place among counties of the state. Norman county heads the list in E bond sales with 215 per cent.

A powerful Moorhead Spud football team, scoring in each of the first three periods, rolled over the Prowlers for a 26 to 0 decision in a game played on the Moorhead state teachers college field at Moorhead Friday night. The Prowlers have an open date this week as the game originally scheduled with East Grand Forks at East Grand Forks, has been postponed to Oct. 22nd. Warren, who were to have played here on the 22nd, cancelled their game when they decided to forego football this season.

Don Juberg intercepted a pass on the Prowler 40-yard line midway in the first period to set up the Spuds' first counter. Moorhead, with a heavy and fast-charging line, and utilizing a double wing-back formation, shook loose Harvey Stowers for 33 yards, to the Prowler 7-yard line. Fullback Duane Euren, on two plunges at the guards, went over for the score, and then added the conversion point on a placement kick.

The Prowlers made a bid for a score in the second period, recovering a Moorhead fumble on the Spud 33-yard line; but the Spuds broke up the Prowler attack and held for downs, taking the ball on the 38-yard line. And with Euren and Stowers doing the bulk of the ball-carrying, the Spuds drove 62 yards for their second score, with Euren plowing over center for the touchdown. Just before the end of the period Moorhead recovered a Prowler fumble on the locals 15-yard line, Big Charlie Melber, from a short kick formation, ran the ball over from the 5-yard line for a touchdown. Euren's place-kick was good and Moorhead held a 20 to 0 lead at the half.

The second half, with Norm Furuseth being shifted back to guard on defense, found the Prowlers playing the Spuds on more even terms. A Moorhead run-back of the kickoff to the Prowler 38-yard line, and a punt, forced the Prowlers back to their 5-yard line in the opening minutes of play in the third period; but Ninak Carlson, booting from the goal-line, got off a quick kick that travelled to the Moorhead 30-yard line. The next play found Moorhead scoring the game's final touchdown, with Dick Mitchell tossing a pass to right end Ray Spencer, who made the grab on the Prowler 48-yard line and galloped for the score. The remainder of the game found the teams playing mid-field ball, with neither making any serious threats to score.

For the winners, the play of Melberg at tackle, and Stowers and Euren in the backfield, was outstanding, while Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Herb Claffy, Ninak Carlson, and Wes Hovie turned in creditable performances for coach Hanna's charges.

Ask Ration Applicants to Use Mail More Often

A plea that applicants for tires and tubes, food points, supplemental and non-highway gasoline use the mails as often as possible rather than make personal visits to the ration office, was voiced by Waldie Christensen, chairman of the Pennington county war price and rationing board. Clerks find it easier mail applications than personal calls, he declared. Personal visits should be made only in emergency cases or when the applicant has other business at the county seat, Mr. Christensen said.

One year of war spending today equals this nation's entire expenditure for all purposes in the 143 years from 1789 to 1933.

WILL HOLD TESTS FOR ARMY & NAVY SCHOOL TRAINING

Examinations Will be Held Thruout Country on November 9

The second qualifying test for the army specialized training program and the navy college program V-12 which will be given throughout the country on Tuesday, November 9, will be administered at the University of North Dakota, Donald J. Robertson, armed services representative, announced today.

A pamphlet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at the president's office. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are recent high school graduates or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to Mr. Robertson in the president's office in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both army and navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test each candidate will be given a choice of service preference, but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The army specialized training program and the navy college program enable students to continue academic training at government expense following induction into the armed services. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training, lead to a commission in the army or the navy.

Those selected for the army will, after further screening and basic military training, be sent to college. Students chosen for the navy program, after selection by the office of naval officer procurement, will be detailed directly to college. Students who attend college under either of the programs will be under military discipline on active duty in uniform with pay. All expenses, including tuition, food, housing, books, and uniforms will be paid by the army or the navy.

Keeping Score

Quite a Story

Local fans who listened to the broadcast of the Thief River Falls vs. Moorhead game over the Moorhead station last Friday night, must have been mystified at the announcer's comments about the Prowlers' 210-pound fullback, their pair of 200-pound tackles, and several other 190-pound players. The announcer, after seeing Wes Hovie, did correct himself and say that Wes didn't appear to weigh more than 180 pounds. Well, all those fanciful weights, about the 210-pound Hovie, the 220-pound Dorn, the 200-pound Richards, etc., is the result of some unfavorable ballyhoo from the Fargo paper, and a "feud" between the sports editor of that paper and Coach Glenn Hanna.

This feud had its inception a number of years ago, at the time that Coach Hanna was tutoring the Moorhead Spud teams. Hanna, when he decided to leave the Moorhead school and accept a position at Bismarck, gave that information to Dick Hackenberg, a writer on the Moorhead News and a close friend of Hanna's, and that paper consequently "scooped" the Fargo paper with the news that Coach Hanna was leaving Moorhead. And that was big news.

Holds a Grudge

Hanna has never been forgiven for that and the Fargo sports editor has maintained a grievance ever since. Whenever Hanna brings a team into Fargo or Moorhead that team is always certain to be written up as an all-veteran team, or a club that has an abundance of speed and weight. The idea that is meant to be conveyed is that if Hanna's team does defeat the Moorhead or Fargo team, it will be an accomplishment of the team and not because of Hanna's coaching. That's the story behind the "big" Prowler team that played at Moorhead on Friday.

The Prowlers have an open date this week and it's perhaps just as well, for it will give them an opportunity to recover from their bruising game with the Spuds. The Prowlers didn't play "bad" ball against Moorhead, but they were far off the form they revealed against Bemidji. Coach Cliff Halmrast's Spuds were well-supplied with power, and their line, with tackle Melberg doing much of the damage, was able to smear the Prowler running plays.

Mooseburgers

Dr. O. F. Mellby, Helmer Baumann, Haakon Olson, and Red Johnson, the latter from Bemidji, returned this week from a moose-hunting trip into Ontario. The party hunted out of Wine lake, north of Quibell, and they each bagged a bull moose, with Red Johnson getting a bear in addition to his moose. All the hunting was done from canoes, as the country they hunted was interlaced with waterways.

With the exception of Red Johnson, who shot his moose the evening before the hunt ended, the hunters did not bring any moose steaks back to town. The meat was iced at Quibell and then shipped to Winnipeg where it will be frozen and held until later in the year. So don't expect Doc, Helmer, or Haakon to be serving mooseburgers for a while yet.

Angler's Week

Local fishermen have been having more fun and getting better results the past two weeks than the local duck hunters. For instance, Herman Dietz finally hooked and landed that "lunker" that has been in the pool below the dam, and it was a 9½-pound northern pike. Roy Shetler, fishing at Waskish, came back with an 18-pound northern, making the catch at the mouth of the Tamarack river. Harold Gronningen, fishing the Rainy river near Indus this week, casting a spinner and minnow made a limit catch of wall-eyed pike and in addition he caught a 9½-pound musky.

Miscellany

Billy Bye, right halfback on the Anoka football team, broke his left hand in the Elk River game, and does not expect to get back into action for a couple of weeks. May be able to play with the hand in a cast, but that depends upon the doctor's recommendations. Bill tells me that Anoka is well supplied with coaches, having Willard Kottke for football, and Jack Campbell, former Hamline star, in basketball. — Wally DuChamp dropped seven mallards in eight shots at River Valley on Monday, and now he's ready to challenge Jimmy Robinson to a mallard-shooting contest. — Ole Froseth bagged one blue-winged teal in twenty-five shots, and he isn't ready to challenge anybody.

104 Stars Are Discovered

That it discovered 104 heretofore unknown stars last year, has been announced by the Sternberg Astronomical Institute in Moscow.

CUT PULPWOOD TO KEEP PRESS FREE, STATE MAN URGES

Extensive Curtailment Seen for Newsprint During Coming Year

With another five per cent cut in newsprint set for the last quarter of 1943, C. K. Andrews, member of the board of the Minnesota Forest Industries information committee, took occasion to warn that the pulpwood shortage is threatening the freedom of the press more than ever.

National Newspaper Week being set during the first week in October, Mr. Andrews pointed out that woodlot farmers of Minnesota and other states can show their appreciation to the newspapers by "cutting a cord or a carload" to keep the news of the day from being reduced in our daily and weekly press.

Donald Nelson, WPB chairman, in a recent report stated that American newspapers must be prepared for more extensive curtailment in their newsprint use in 1944. Even the last quarter of this year would see a shortage of 94,000 tons of newsprint. No pulp relief can be expected for at least nine months.

"Minnesota, as one of the 27 pulpwood producing states, can do a real job for our newspapers during Newspaper Week by cutting all the pulpwood possible", Mr. Andrews said. "Every time the usage of newsprint is cut it means further curtailment of one of the basic foundations for which we are fighting— 'The freedom of the press'. I again urge every woodlot farmer or producer to bend every effort to cut as much pulpwood as possible to keep our newspapers operating at full schedule for the remainder of 1943 and 1944", Mr. Andrews concluded.

WHAT COULD BE WORSE IN GAS RATIONING DAYS?

Northfield. — Hunting, fishing and getting up early in the morning are the most important things in the life of one local man. Leaving his nice warm bed at 3:00 in the morning is no hardship as he anticipates one of his favorite sports, fishing. But alas a few mornings ago he dug out and drove 30 miles to his favorite lake for a bit of the sport. Arriving while it was still dark, he slumped into the seat of his car for forty winks as he awaited daylight. Right at the crack of dawn he awoke and grabbed for his fishing tackle but lo and behold he had forgotten to put it in the car. That to a man with a three-gallon allotment of gasoline was a catastrophe.

NATION IS SHORT 8 MILLION TIRES ON NEEDS IN 1943

Only War-essential Drivers Can Hope to Get Tires, OPA States

Here are the reasons why any but war-essential drivers can't get tires. The figures on the acuteness of the tire situation have recently been released by the rubber director.

53,500,000 new passenger car tires were made available to the American public in 1941—before Pearl Harbor made tire rationing necessary.

3,700,000 new tires were available in 1942. This is the number of tires the war production board gave the OPA to ration. In other words, in 1942, less than 7% of the normal new tire needs could be satisfied.

17,000,000 new and used tires for 1943 were allowed by the rubber director. (Notice that before the war, in 1941, 53,500,000 new tires were purchased. In 1943 civilians can get just over one third of the number they received in 1941—and part of the one third is used tires, part synthetic.)

A 25,000,000 tire demand is the conservative estimate for 1943. Purchase certificates for approximately 15,000,000 have already been issued.

It doesn't take much figuring to see that civilians are going to be short 8,000,000 tires this year.

OPA hopes to salvage about 2,000,000 usable tires from scrap heaps by the end of the year. These "emergency tires" are now being rationed, after repairs and recapping, which would bring this year's tire shortage down to 6,000,000.

Any idea that additional synthetic tires will relieve the 1943 rubber situation is a hopeful dream, OPA and rubber experts say, and "only those drivers whose work is most essential to the winning of the war can count on new replacement tires for at least the next twelve months."

Traffic Safety Record in This State Suffers Setback in September

Minnesota's good record of reducing traffic accidents had a bad set-back in September. Twenty-eight fatalities have so far been reported to the Minnesota highway department's traffic and safety division. This figure will increase if any more deaths occur from September accidents. August fatalities, originally reported at 11, were increased to 22, due to later reported deaths from August accidents.

Traffic fatalities in September were the greatest in any month since December, 1942, when 29 were killed. Worst previous month in 1943 was May, when 23 were killed. Total deaths from January 1 to September 30 were 168, compared to 334 in the same months in 1942 and 434 in the same months in 1941.

Eleven of the 28 killed in September were pedestrians. Eight pedestrians were killed in urban areas and three on rural roads.

Three motor vehicle occupants were killed in railroad crossing accidents. Fourteen occupants of motor vehicles were killed in motor vehicle collisions or upsets, eleven of them on rural roads and three in urban areas.

Used Household Goods Now under Price Control, OPA Fargo Office Says

Used household goods are under price control, announced OPA, whether sold by dealer or at auction. Ceiling prices are determined by the age and condition of the furniture.

Previously, effective September 1, household goods sold at auction in good faith were not covered by price ceilings, and the amendment, effective October 5, brings auctioned used furniture under price control.

OPA officials explained that the order was written to stop the rising cost of household goods, particularly in defense areas, and pointed out that farm auctions of such articles in this territory were now affected.

Used sewing machines have been added to the list. Some articles of used furniture under price control include vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, baby carriages, bed springs, davenports, etc.

REPAIR FARM BUILDINGS for greater production

How to do it with CONCRETE and save scarce materials

To increase food production to meet war requirements it is essential that buildings used to house livestock and store crops be in good repair.

Concrete foundations under barns, hog houses or poultry houses will restore these buildings to usefulness and provide protection against rot, termites and waste and damage caused by rats.

Free booklet, "Restoring Old Farm Buildings With Concrete" tells how to make essential repairs with the use of little or no steel or other scarce materials.

From where I sit ...

Dan's always made a point of finishing up whatever food was put before him. "Don't make sense to waste food just to be stylish," he says.

Now out comes an etiquette authority who says it's wartime fashion to take only what you're going to eat—and finish it up clean—because "Food Fights for Freedom."

As Doc Mitchell says, "Most folks eat too much anyway. Man and boy, I've watched this town for years, and 75% of us dig our own graves with our teeth."

From where I sit, this new style in eating may lead to moderation, and moderation has never hurt anybody.

In fact, you find moderation and tolerance go hand in hand ... whether it's what you eat or what you think.... Or whether one man prefers a moderate glass of beer when you yourself would rather have a soda.

MAINTENANCE OF ROADS IN '42 COST TOWNSHIPS LESS

Expenditures Reported at $802,000 Less Than Income

Minnesota townships reduced their road maintenance expenditures nearly $750,000 in 1942 and increased their construction outlays slightly, according to data gathered by the highway planning survey, joint project of the state department of highways and the federal public roads administration. Many townships reported large graveling projects in 1942, classed as construction.

Receipts exceeded expenditures by $802,667 in 1942 and $480,872 in 1941, indicating a net improvement in finances of $1,283,529 for the two year period. Receipts from road tax levies were $205,000 greater in 1942 than in 1941 due to slightly higher mill rates and less tax delinquency. Receipts from borrowings were $172,889 in 1942 and $637,287 in 1941. The 1942 borrowings were all used for construction, while the 1941 borrowings were used to redeem outstanding warrants.

Average current expenditures were $2,290 per township in 1942, but there was a wide variation in expenditures by individual units. A considerable number of townships spent less than $50 each for road work, while one township spent $166,915 and another $141,177.

Livestock Buyers No Longer Require Permits, War Food Agency States

The War Food Administration has announced that Food Distribution Order 26 has been revoked effective September 30. The order had required all livestock dealers (except farmers) to obtain permits to buy and sell livestock and to keep records of their operations.

This order, which has been in effect since April 1, was needed to supplement the quota system regulating the deliveries of meat to civilians. Since the quota system has been suspended, it is no longer necessary to have the dealer-permit order in effect.

Under the dealer-permit plan anyone (except farmers) who bought and sold cattle, hogs and sheep and kept them for less than 30 days, was required to have a permit and to keep a complete record of this livestock purchases and sales.

GRAND FORKS S. S. FIELD OFFICE TO SERVE PENNINGTON

This County Is Transferred from Bemidji Social Security Area

Transfer of four Minnesota counties from the Bemidji field office of the social security board to the Grand Forks field office was announced Monday by John Goldman, manager of the Grand Forks field office.

The four counties added to the Grand Forks office are Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, and Roseau. This brings the total number of counties under the jurisdiction of the Grand Forks office to 17.

Mr. Goldman stated that it will not be necessary for persons living in any county in the area to travel to Grand Forks on matters relating to old-age and survivors insurance inasmuch as a field representative will help check on social security accounts of individuals, take claims applications for old-age and survivors insurance and answer questions relative to the program.

In view of economy measures instituted recently it is hoped that correspondence between individuals and the field office will effectively take care of most matters. Application blanks for social security account number cards may be obtained at any postoffice.

"Persons having claims for insurance benefits under the social security act will be given every possible assistance in filing their claims," said Mr. Goldman. "Among those eligible for monthly insurance payments under the act are workers who retire from work covered by the law when they are 65 or older; their wives if they also are 65 or older; aged widows of insured workers, and widows and children of deceased workers covered by the law."

State Supreme Court Rules for Marshall Co.

The county in which an indigent person is legal resident is responsible for medical and hospital expenses incurred by him in another county, even though the home county was not previously notified of the need for such attention, Minnesota supreme court ruled Friday.

Marshall county had appealed from a lower court decision awarding it $348.40 on a claim of $526.15 for medical services to an indigent resident of Redwood county.

The opinion held Marshall county was entitled to full reimbursement from Redwood county.

DRY SPELL MENACE TO WOODS AREA IN NORTHERN REGION

Lengthy Drouth Results in Tinderbox Situation in the Forests

With forest fires reported raging in Wisconsin, Michigan and Canada and Minnesota's timber country described as "a tinderbox," forest officials moved to lessen or eliminate fire hazards.

At Warroad, Supervisor Dick Willems of the state forest service stopped issuance of all burning permits after an estimated 5,000 acres of grass lands were swept by fires over the week-end. Willems said the damage was limited to a few piles of pulpwood and some hay but added that strong winds and continued dryness in the area made it necessary to use every precaution against further blazes.

Rangers extinguished one 40-acre grass fire in the Beltrami island forest before any serious timber loss. Several hundred miles of fire guards have been plowed by foresters in the past week, Willems said, to halt fires and protect property.

In St. Paul, Henry C. Weber, state director of forests, warned that the most serious forest fire hazard in many years confronts the state because of the warm, dry weather of recent weeks.

Gasoline Coupons Must be Endorsed by Owners Without Delay, Says OPA

Motorists are not to wait until they buy gasoline before endorsing coupons, cautioned OPA, but all gas coupons must be endorsed immediately.

Endorsing of coupons enables the government to locate criminals who have been trafficking in illegal gasoline. By checking back the ownership of gas coupons that had been handled by suspected gas stations, OPA can determine whether a station is operating legally or illegally.

Holders of A, B, C, D or T books are to write their license number and state of registration on the face of all coupons.

Holders of E and R books write name and address. Holders of interchangeable book coupons for official or fleet vehicles write official or fleet designation and city and state of main office. If the commercial vehicle does not operate under a fleet designation, the number of the certificate of war necessity is to be written on the coupons.

Lake Superior

Consider This

This is the season of the year when it's time to think about fall and winter egg production.

Early spring pullets are ready for the laying house, and flocks started later in the spring will be matured in a short time.

This year, when Uncle Sam is calling for egg production still greater than the record-breaking production of 1942, it will pay the farm flock owner to give his pullets greater attention than ever before.

Laying houses should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected before the pullets are brought from summer range.

"Use plenty of elbow grease and let lye water do the scrubbing, and be sure to get into the corners and cracks where lice and mites like to breed. Finish the job with any reliable disinfectant."

After the laying house is ready, it's time to give serious consideration to a feeding program because hens will lay only in proportion to the balance of their rations.

Farm grains make excellent feed but grain alone lacks certain proteins, vitamins and minerals hens need to grow eggs and keep on laying them.

The flock owner has two alternatives: first, provide a complete commercial egg mash; or, second, have your feed dealer grind your own grain and mix it with a concentrate or other feedstuffs to provide those missing elements.

DAKOTAN 18% LAYING MASH	$3.25
DAKOTA MAID 20% LAYING MASH	$3.50
DAKOTA MAID 45% ALL-PURPOSE CONCENTRATE (With Oil) (For mixing with your own home grown grains)	$4.60
DAKOTA MAID 31% GRAIN BALANCER CONCENTRATE (For Free-Choice Feeding)	$4.00

Uncle Sam needs the eggs for his fighting forces in all parts of the world and the farmer who feeds well for peak production will be in a position to do his bit for his country and make a reasonable profit as well.

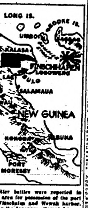
Where Japs Lost



Bitter battles were reported in this area for possession of the port of Finschafen and Wewak harbor. When the Japanese attempted to reinforce bases in this sector, Allied air fighters destroyed 58 enemy planes, seven surface vessels, and many supply barges. Many enemy planes were caught on the ground.

MECHANIZED BEES HAVE ROAMIN' HOME

Willmar—During the summer a nomadic colony of bees selected the James Tait farm as their promised land, setting up housekeeping between the body and the cab of a pick-up truck. John Tait, who drives the truck, proved complete dominion over his winged guests, being able to herd them around and use the truck normally at all times. Until recently he drove to a cousin's place, where the sparkling fields and autumnal warmth coaxed his passengers into a foray for sweets. Not missing them, John drove home. The honey-laden bees searched in vain for the car, settled in a tree for a chilly night, and happily swarmed into their itinerant home when John drove back the next day.

HE HAD THE WING BUT NO PRAYER

Albert Lea.—When a flock of woodducks flew from Pickerel Lake, Jack Sommis of Conger noticed that one of them rose from the water, spun dizzily, and plummeted downward. He thought the bird had been wounded and shot it. When the woodduck was retrieved it was found to have but one wing, and showed every evidence of having always been in that unhappy state, as there was no indication that there ever had been a second wing.

County AAA Clarifies Suspension of Quotas on Farm Slaughtering

Food Distribution Order 75.1, effective September 1, 1943, suspended slaughter quotas in connection with federal livestock slaughter permits and licenses for the months of September and October.

Under this modification of the regulations, says the county AAA war board, any slaughterer holding a slaughter permit or license was relieved from complying with quotas established in connection with this authority to slaughter. This does not mean that anyone who does not have a permit can start slaughtering. None of the other regulations controlling livestock slaughter were changed.

Suspension of quotas does not apply to farm slaughterers who slaughter for their own use without a permit nor does it apply to the farm slaughterer who has no 1941 slaughter history and holds a permit calling for three or four hundred pounds of meat during the year. All regulations are in full effect with regard to the establishment of bases and eligibility to slaughter.

CUCUMBER GROWN IN BOTTLE AT DEER RIVER

Deer River.—A cucumber four and one-quarter inches long and over two inches wide on the flat side accidently grown in a flat whiskey bottle could be the beginning of a new method of making pickles. Train the vines into a bottle, let the fruit mature, cut off the stem and pour in the proper liquid pickling fluid. Result: pickles in bottle. It is believed the cucumber in the whiskey bottle the local editor has in his pocket these days got its start after the little vine unintentionally grew into the bottle and became Pollinated.

Gasoline Tax Receipts Continue Their Decline

Receipts from gasoline taxes in the Minnesota trunk highway fund in September were $830,253, a decrease of 28.3 per cent under the receipts in September, 1942, and 42.6 per cent under September, 1941.

Since gas tax collections are made a month or more after inshipments, still further decreases are expected when the full effects of recent decreases in gasoline ration coupon values is reflected in tax collections.

Trunk highway gas tax receipts for the months of January to September, 1943, were $6,748,132, a decrease of 28.3 per cent under the receipts for the same months in 1942. Beginning in May, 1942, each month has shown a decrease under the corresponding month in the preceding year.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

MODERN MEDICAL MIRACLE

From war, which seeks to destroy men's lives, we learn how to save lives. Near-miracles of Blood Plasma now lift the severely wounded safely beyond the yawning grave—With time gained by replacing the liquid depleted veins with the needed volume of death staying plasma, the wounded fighter is saved from death by traumatic shock. He then can be removed to where his wounds can be treated. In time he can again be well. Major General Norman Thomas Kirk, Surgeon-General of the U. S. Army, says that the death rate in the Army's evacuation hospitals during the African campaign was "the lowest rate of any Army at this time. Death on the battlefield often comes from shock and hemorrhage. Plasma plus surgery, is the answer. If infection sets in later, it is controlled by sulfa drugs" — This great discovery, Blood Plasma, was proven practical and effective by tests with blood collected by several Red Cross Chapters and used by the British. Following this a comprehensive cooperative plan was instituted by the Army and Navy to collect blood on a large scale from the people of this country, process it into dried blood plasma and pack it for easy use in the theatres of war by Army and Navy—Because, since the bloody catastrophe of Solferino when in 1859 the French fought the Austrians, Red Cross has been identified with alleviating human suffering, it was natural that to Red Cross should go the job of recruiting and collecting blood through its close chapter contacts with the American people.

Today there are 33 Blood Doner Centers; (9 in Midwestern Area) St. Louis, Kansas City, San Antonio, Denver, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Chicago, and Detroit.

Blood Doner Depots recruit and enroll doners, handle the bleeding and finally ship the blood to the nearest processing center.

11 Processing Centers (4 in Midwestern Area) receive the bottles of blood daily from the Red Cross Centers and process it into the life-saving powdered plasma.

The quota of 20,000 pints per week in May 1942 had grown to 50,000 in December of the same year. Then to 70,000 in January 1943 and in May 93,950 pints were being given. The Army and Navy asks for 5,300,000 pints.

What is Blood Plasma?

Plasma is the yellow content of the blood after the corpuscles are removed. The plasma is then processed into dry powder and packed in a box 8" x 8" x 4".

How is Plasma Used?

Along with each box of the dry plasma goes a bottle of distilled water. When ready to use, the distilled water is added and the liquid resulting is injected into the veins of the patient.

Advantages of Blood Plasma.

Keeps indefinitely. (Blood must be refrigerated). Easily shipped. (No refrigeration). Need not be typed as is necessary in blood transfusions. Technique of transfusion by plasma is so simple a corps man or pharmacist's mate can administer.

Does it hurt?—Is there any danger to blood giver?

No more serious than a haircut. Not as inconvenient as a permanent wave. No serious consequence has been reported out of millions of bleedings.

A volume of Blood Plasma is reserved for victims of catastrophes or disasters at home. Located at strategic points in the U. S., it can be gotten to the scene on short notice. Blood plasma was on hand at Pearl Harbor. When supply was exhausted, 10,000 civilians freely gave more blood.

Surgical Dressings

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Child's First Days at School

Is your child happy at school? Have you ever stopped to think that a child's happiness or ability to adjust to new situations may depend upon his home relationships?

Many mothers dread to think of the time when their "baby" must leave to enter school. It is hard for them to share their child with another person. Since going to school is a step on the way to adulthood, parents should make every effort to see that this step is a natural and easy one for the child. No tears should be shed. The mother should send the child off to school with a smile.

The mother must realize that from now on she will share her child's loyalty and love with the teacher. She must be prepared for the child's feeling that the teacher is all wise and that parents just do not know! A wise mother will not resent the child's feeling that the teacher is all-sufficient, but will cultivate the friendship of the teacher so that she can work hand in hand with her.

Going to school is the child's first adventure into the real world. Here he is judged on his own merits. This is such an important step that is also necessary for the teachers to understand the critical nature of this experience in the child's life. An effort must be made to make the child feel at home in the new situation. He must not experience failure, fear, shame or ridicule. The teacher should be kind but not sentimental; impersonal, friendly, and understanding.

Do you know your child's teacher? You can help her and she can help you in understanding and guiding your child to better adjustment in school and life.

Trade-ins Not Needed to Purchase New Cars, OPA Agency Points out

Holders of certificates for purchase of new trucks and automobiles are assured of obtaining the vehicles without a used car trade-in, announced Harold W. Bangert, district OPA director.

Mr. Bangert explained that it has been customary practice for dealers to require a trade-in of a used car before selling a new car or truck to a holder of a purchase certificate.

Effective October 9, 1943 a penalty will be imposed on dealers violating the new price amendment, in the form of withholding the monthly 1% increment of the retail price allowed dealers for storage and service on new cars, the 1% increment being withheld from the date of refusal by the dealer to sell, until the sale is consumated.

Buyers must only possess a certificate of purchase, based on necessity, and be able to make satisfactory cash or credit arrangements with dealers to acquire a new truck or automobile.

NOT A NEEDLE BUT A WATCH IN HAYSTACK

Blue Earth. — Looking for a needle in a haystack is an old game, and one with little chance to win. But a newer game and easier one to win is looking for a watch in the haystack. While grinding feed at a local mill Richard Warren spotted a 40-year-old watch in a load of grain sent in from D. L. Blair at Bass Lake.

Must Renew License or Forfeit Right to Drive

Persons who had birthdays in September and neglected to renew their drivers' licenses, are now without the right to drive and are subject to arrest and fine if they drive a motor vehicle on a public street or highway, according to a highway bulletin.

"Under the new law, all driver's licenses issued before September 1, 1943, expire on the licensee's first birthday thereafter," said E. P. Lee, head of the drivers' license division of the highway department. "The renewal applications that have come in so far indicate that a good many of those who had birthdays in September neglected to renew their licenses. If so, they forfeited their right to drive on their last birthday. The law does not allow any days of grace. The privilege of operating motor vehicles on public roads can be regained only after a new drivers license has been issued."

Now all we have to lick is Germany, Japan and overconfidence at home.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

THIS AREA NOW HAS LOCALIZED HIRING SETUP

Plans Perfected at Meeting of Committee Held October 12

WILL FUNCTION THRU EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

Aim Is to Obtain Maximum Utilization of Labor Resources

Steps to bring the application of the War Manpower Commission's employment stabilization program to the local level was taken Oct. 12 when the recently appointed Thief River Falls area committee met with Russell E. Olsen area WMC director, at Thief River Falls and adopted a plan that includes basic policies of the national, regional, and state plans.

The purpose of the area employment stabilization plan is to implement the War Manpower Commission's program. This calls for the elimination of wasteful labor turnover, the reduction of unnecessary labor migration, the direction of the flow of scarce labor to points where it is most needed and, in general, obtain maximum utilization of the area's manpower resources.

The area committee, which is composed of Chas. Hellquist, Gilmore Grindeland and Lawrence Phillion, representing labor, and W. W. Wade, Roy Oen and John Helm, representing management, felt that in view of the large area served by the Thief River Falls office, it would be difficult for workers to get in touch with the local office in some cases, and the following regulations were adopted to cover the changing from one local job to another:

Control of hiring and solicitation of workers.

All hiring and solicitation of workers in or for work in Thief River Falls area shall be conducted in accordance with this employment stabilization program.

The decision to hire or refer a worker shall be based on qualifications essential for performance of or suitability for the job, and shall be made without discrimination as to race, color, creed, sex, national origin, or, except as required by law, citizenship.

The following regulations for the control of hiring shall apply to Red Lake, Pennington, and Marshall Counties:

Hiring through the United States Employment Service. A new employee may be hired only upon presentation of a referral card from the United States Employment Service if:

1. During the preceding 60-day period the new employee was engaged in an essential activity.
2. The new employee is to be

With 112 tons of scrap metal delivered locally since July 1 to be credited to Pennington county, an appeal was directed to residents of the rural areas of the county to bring in during the week of October 24 every available bit of scrap so urgently needed in the Nation's war effort in order that the greater part of the county's quota of 649 tons may be collected before snow falls.

Mayor H. W. Kinghorn today issued a proclamation designating next Wednesday, October 27, as Zero Day in the scrap campaign, and calling on all citizens of the city and surrounding area to dispose of all waste metal that day if possible.

Announcement of the result of a survey showing that approximately 225,000 pounds had been delivered since July 1, was made by F. E. Hagaman chairman of the implement dealers' committee cooperating in the direction of the local campaign. He added that the survey indicated that much scrap remains to be brought in, especially from the rural areas.

Scrap iron and steel to be found on northwest farms is a vital element in America's conduct of the war, F. Peavey Heffelfinger, northwest WPB chairman, said today in an appeal for an "over the top" acceptance of the Victory Scrap Bank drive, now under way.

His appeal was made in an open letter, which follows:

"We of the war production board in Region No. 12 comprising the States of Montana, North and South Dakota and Minnesota, are very proud of the record of accomplishment in war production and food production by the citizens of these states. Your achievement on the 3rd war loan drive speaks for itself, and we know that you will do equally well on the War Service Fund drive.

"A few unthinking people have bemoaned the fact that life on the home front seems to be one drive after another. To those few individuals we say—it is in keeping with our responsibility to our fighting forces who also are putting on one drive after another.

"Still another drive has been proclaimed by our government, which is known as the "Victory Scrap Bank" campaign. This is a national drive for scrap iron and steel for the purpose of building scrap banks which can be drawn upon through the winter to maintain full production of war steel. We wish to emphasize the fact that the drive for scrap is one of the most important phases of the war effort. Scrap alone cannot win the war, but the war cannot be won without scrap".

War Service Fund Drive Off to Fast Start Here

More than $2,000 Collected in Business District up to Wednesday

STRESS IMPORTANCE OF VOLUNTEER GIFTS

Campaign in Residence and Rural Districts Opens November 1

While all reports had not been filed up to late Wednesday with Treasurer Robert J. Lund by teams soliciting the business district of the city this week in the interest of the War Service Fund, it was evident that, with a number of teams not yet having completed their canvass, a sum in excess of $2,000 has been collected to date, it was announced by the committee in charge. The Pennington county quota is $8,000.

As was the case in the third war loan campaign, the village of Goodridge again won the distinction of being the first county subdivision to exceed its goal, going over the village quota of $75 with a margin of $9 to spare.

Chairman W. E. Dahlquist stated that the house-to-house canvass to be conducted by Victory Aides in the residence district of Thief River Falls and in the rural districts of the county will not get under way until November 1.

This portion of the campaign, he said, is being deferred to give citizens an opportunity voluntarily to bring in their contributions, thus eliminating much travel for the solicitors. As each contribution is made at the office of Robert J. Lund, across from the postoffice, the donor's name will be checked off the list of those to be solicited.

It was emphasized that all donations in excess of the county's quota will be retained here to be disbursed by the Civic Service Organization for the benefit of men now in the armed services or following their discharge.

All over the state, volunteers went into action Monday seeking gifts from their neighbors for—

Support for the far-flung USO—the home away from home for our own fighting men.

Comforts for the "barbed wire legion" of prisoners of war.

Food for starving Greece; medical supplies for gallant Russia; aid for the scorched earth of stricken China.

Assistance for hundreds of thousands of homeless refugees.

Those and dozens of other needs will be supplied through the $2,500,000 which is being sought in Minnesota this week and next as this state carries on its share of the National War Fund campaign. Through Minnesota War Service Fund campaigns in every county, the campaign is being carried to every family in the state with the appeal "Give Once for All of These".

FARGO OPA OFFICE EXPLAINS USE OF RATION BOOK NO.4

New Ration Books Will be Put Into Use Monday, November 1

Beginning Monday, November 1, the housewife will use green stamps from the new War Ration Book Four to buy rationed fruits and vegetables, the Office of Price Administration says. The final series of blue stamps in War Ration Book Two will be used, as well, through November 20.

The "A", "B" and "C" series of green stamps in Book Four will be valid to buy rationed items of processed foods from November 1 through December 20. These green stamps will be used in exactly the same manner as the familiar blue stamps in War Ration Book Two, which have been used to buy processed foods since the inception of rationing last March 1.

The last blue stamps in War Ration Book Two series "X", "Y" and "Z" became valid October 1, and remain good for purchases of processed foods through November 20.

This means that between November 1, and November 20 two separate sets of stamps may be used to buy canned goods—blue stamps "X", "Y" and "Z" from War Ration Book Two, and green stamps "A", "B" and "C" from War Ration Book Four. After November 20, only one ration book—Book Four—will be needed for buying canned fruits and vegetables.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The October allotment of surgical dressings has not arrived as yet.

It was decided at a meeting of instructors that surgical dressing room would only be open on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons and Monday and Thursday evenings because the four or five workers that do come out on Fridays may find another afternoon on any open day just as convenient. We are never too crowded with workers that any one has to be turned away.

At a special meeting of the Red Cross called by chapter chairman, Herman A. Kjos, Oct. 13th, Mr. H. O. Gronningsen, field representative of the Minnesota Red Cross spoke about the blood donor service with the closest center at Minneapolis, and how the mobile units travel within a radius of 60 or 70 miles from a center where the blood may be shipped out within 24 hours. He also showed articles made by Junior Red Cross members that can be made in schools for the use of soldiers. H. O. Berve of the home service committee gave an outline of the work being done by that committee which meets every week to discuss questions that are brought to their attention and which helps solve those problems. Mr. Kjos urged everyone to donate generously to the War Service Fund which is no part of the Red Cross but which is just as important. The Red Cross drive for funds will be carried out in March.

We wish to thank the employees of the Mint for the gift of $5.00 given in memory of Mr. L. J. Cerny, who recently passed away.

Mrs. A. B. McLaughlin, chairman of knitting, has asked that all those who have articles of knitting still out to please turn them in within the next week and if that is impossible to please contact her.

Mrs. O. G. Lynde stated that the home nursing room is in readiness for classes to be conducted this winter if there are enough interested to make a class worthwhile. She explained that home nursing instruction helps a person to follow good health habits and to be on guard to treat symtoms of a disease in order to ward off or to shorten illnesses. This free course takes only 24 hours time divided in 2-hour sessions, and will be conducted either in the afternoon or evening depending upon the wishes of the majority. Will you please drop Mrs. Lynde a post card or contact her by telephone simply stating that you wish to join a class and stating which time of day you prefer. Do this by Nov. 1st. All Victory Aids are advised to take the course.

TRINITY CHURCH TO CELEBRATE 100TH BIRTHDAY OF NLCA

Lutheran Herald Editor to Speak at Festival Services Sunday

Making the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, services next Sunday, October 24th, will be held throut this synod in commemoration of that event. At Trinity Lutheran church a festival commemoration service will have the Rev. O. G. min, editor of the Lutheran Herald, as its guest speaker. Organized work in the local church dates from 1893, this year being the 50th year of its existence. The centennial observance commemorates the ordination of Elling Efson and Jens Clausen, the latter of whom was pastor of the Muskego Church at Muskego, Wisconsin, which was built in 1843.

Preparations for the celebration were begun five years ago when a drive for $1,750,000.00 was undertaken, with pledges payable by 1945. Reports from the director of the appeal, Dr. A. J. Bergsaker, Minneapolis, reveal that a total of $2,500,000.00 was pledged and that an amount of $1,000,000.00 has already been received in cash.

At the local service a hymn written for the occasion by the Rev. Jesse M. Runestad, of Badger, will be sung by the congregation. A processional offering of thanksgiving to be received at the service, will be consecrated to the use of the church's missionary opportunities in the post-war period. An anthem of praise by the vested choir of Trinity church, under the direction of Edward Anderson, will heighten the interest of the service.

Lena Gullingsrud and her brother Oliver spent Friday at Bemidji where Miss Gullingsrud attended the M.E.A. convention.

EVERY KERNEL WITH A HUSK

Farmington. — Successful was the experiment of farmer Marvin Smith, Castle Rock, with corn seeds sent to him by a seed company for trial. An ear of hybrid corn brought to the newspaper office has a set of husks for each kernel. At home Mr. Smith claims he has a whole bushel of such ears.

POULTRY PLANTS ARE SHORT 2,000 CHICKEN PICKERS

Employment Offices Urged to Help Industry Find Needed Workers

Faced with the necessity of processing about 5,000,000 more chickens than the 25,000,000 handled last year, poultry dressing plants in Minnesota currently are some 2,000 workers short of what will be needed to carry them over the peak.

To help meet this situation, all U. S. Employment offices in the state have been called on by Dreng Bjornaraa, state WMC director, to recruit the men and women needed. Bjornaraa's survey of 80 plants in the state having 25 or more workers shows current employment to be 5,000, with an expected total of 7,500 needed soon.

Normally peak operations are reached about November 10, but because of the larger number of chickens to be processed this year and the tight labor market, it is expected that the peak will occur earlier this year and will continue longer.

Bjornaraa has asked USES managers to work closely with county agents and has suggested, as one possible solution, a reciprocal idea of farm women assisting in these plants, in return for the efforts of local town people who helped out during the harvest.

Sugar Stamp No. 29 in Book IV Good Nov. 1st

Consumers will use Stamp No. 29 in the new War Ration Book Four for buying sugar beginning November 1, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

Stamp 14 in War Book One, which has been good for five pounds of sugar since August 16, expires on November 1. Stamps 15 and 16, which have been used to buy sugar for home canning, expire at the end of October.

The new stamp, No. 29, will maintain the present consumer ration for another 2½ months' period, being good for five pounds of sugar through January 15, 1944.

Sugar stamps in the new War Ration Book Four are on the last page. They are numbered from 29 through 40, and each stamp is marked with the word "Sugar."

Official Paper of Pennington County and City of Thief River Falls
J. W. MATTSON, President
W. E. DAHLQUIST, Editor
NORMAN A. HOLEN, City Editor
A. E. MATTSON, Business Manager.

People who are called upon to contribute to the War Service Fund are giving generously and reports on solicitations, while incomplete, are extremely encouraging. So far this solicitation has been confined to the business section of Thief River Falls, which reaches a large share of city residents. There are a large number of residents, however, who will not be reached by this downtown drive and in order to make the canvass complete it will be necessary to call on them at their homes. In order to reduce the cost in time and gas of this later solicitation it is hoped that these residents of the city and rural areas will bring their contributions to the office of Robert Lund at their convenience but before November first. As these contributions are received the names of the contributors will be scratched from the lists that after that date will be turned over to the Victory Aides for personal calls. Many have already responded to this call. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

With contests for only three of the offices to be filled in the city election there will be a light vote unless something is done about it. A light vote is never satisfactory because there is always the possibility that it is not representative. All candidates, whether they have competition or not, should unite in a "get-out-the-vote" effort.

Moscow is the world capitol for the time being as American and British diplomats try to work out a war and post-war plan with the Russians that will be satisfactory to all three nations. It is not strange that there are differences to be ironed out and it will be quite remarkable if, after the conferences end, there still will not be important differences that have not been satisfactorily adjusted. These powers have been divided by misunderstanding and suspicion too many years to justify much hope for a speedy reconciliation. They are brought together now by a common enemy and united action is prompted by selfish motives. Reasonable harmony will prevail as long as the threat of a common enemy continues and so the results of this conference probably will be judged more by what is done to establish post-war relations than by what is accomplished toward winning the war. Post-war peace and security can be hoped for only to the extent that these three world powers will be able to work together in harmony, and so the present conference is tremendously important. Agreements among diplomats are not in themselves enough to establish future policies. There must also be a spirit of understanding among the people themselves, and so it is important that we, the people of America, curb our prejudices and approach the questions involved in a spirit of tollerance.

Goodridge again takes the honor of being the first subdivision of our county in going over the top. Instead of waiting for the November first call they organized their War Fund drive and got it out of the way in a hurry. A round of cheers to the good people of Goodridge for both their generosity and their initiative. Now which township will be the first to ring the bell.

ICC DISCONTINUES HOLDING FREIGHT CARS FOR ORDERS

Washington Order Affects Business in Thief River Falls

Waybilling of cars of grain or seeds to five points in Minnesota to be "held for orders" was ordered halted last Thursday by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Acting on a request by the Office of Defense Transportation, ICC said the way-billing of cars to Glenwood, St. Cloud, Staples, Thief River Falls and Willmar, to be "held for orders," impeded the "use, control supply, movement and distribution of such cars."

This practice ICC said, created an emergency situation "requiring immediate action to prevent a shortage of equipment and congestion of traffic."

The order, effective at midnight Thursday, applies to cars of grain or seeds for reconsignment, diversion or for any other disposition orders; but not cars held for sampling.

Cheap Cuts

Strangely enough, some of the most nutritious meats are found at the bottom of the butcher's price list. Kidney, brains, heart and liver have a distinctive flavor and an attractive appearance when they are properly cooked. Yet, all these meat organs, except liver, are not expensive.

METER NEEDLE TAKES A RIDE

Hutchinson.—"The volt meter is acting funny. It's going up and down and still everything is all right," was the startling telephone message municipal power plant manager, Ralph Young received one night recently from the night operator. Getting himself to the plant as fast as he could he found the operator was sure enough right, the needle on one of the meters was way up and then way down, and then again it was normal. Such action for a meter needle! Still the lights didn't blink—neither was the phone ringing with irritated customers on the other end of the line. Very close examination soon solved the mystery, a lowly spider was riding gaily up and down. As soon as he was removed the current was again steady as it had been right along on all the other meters.

EVER SEE AN OMELET TWELVE THOUSAND EGGS?

Lanesboro. — Few people have had the experience Mark Sorom and Andrew Lodahl shared a few nights ago. Driving a truck load of eggs, 12,600 to be specific, the truck hit a soft shoulder in the road, and it rolled over three times. Luckily, the men escaped without injury so it was quite a personal "break" but a very bad financial "break" to loose 35 cases of eggs.

WAR MANPOWER UNIT ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR HIRING LABOR IN AREA

hired for work in a critical occupation or his last employment was in a critical occupation.

3. The new employee has not lived or worked in the locality of the new employment throughout the preceding 30-day period; (for the purpose of this section, it shall be required that before a worker may be hired in a new locality, he must have received a Statement of Availability from the United States Employment Service office in the locality in which he is or was last employed, and be referred by the local office of the United States Employment Service in the locality of his proposed employment).

The new employee's last regular employment was in agriculture and he is to be hired for non-agricultural work, provided that no such individual shall be referred to non-agricultural work except after consultation with a designated representative of the War Food Administration, and provided further that such an individual may be hired for non-agricultural work for a period of not to exceed six weeks without referral or presentation of a Statement of Availability.

One of the most important phases of the program is the definition of an "essential worker". Such a worker is defined as one who is or has been employed in an essential activity at any time during the past 60-day period.

An essential activity is any activity included in the War Manpower Commission's list of essential activities and one that has been designated by WMC authorities as "locally needed."

The plan provides that the area WMC director shall have certain controls over the transfers of essential workers. This control extends to the employment of all essential workers, and employers are not permitted to hire such workers without WMC clearance. Thus, a worker who does not conform to the employment stabilization program cannot obtain a job with an essential employer for 60 days, the period during which he remains "essential".

Basic in the administration of the program is a "Statement of Availability". This is a document issued in ordinary circumstances by the employer to a worker establishing that his transfer to other employment is in conformity with the WMC program. It will be noted that in Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties a statement of availability must be addressed to the United States employment service at Thief River Falls.

The plan does not apply to (1) agricultural labor; (2) hiring of an employee for less than seven days; (3) hiring by municipal county, state, or other governmental agencies (unless they so elect); (4) domestic service; (5) school teachers.

Employers are not allowed to advertise or otherwise solicit workers without WMC approval.

Lodge to Join in Campaign for Men for Navy Ship Repair Units

The Navy's needs for Seabees are being met far ahead of schedule and therefore the B. P. O. Elks cooperative recruiting program will come to an end on October 30, George W. Werstlein, chairman of the war committee of Thief River Falls Lodge No. 1308 said today.

This announcement was made after Mr. Werstlein received copy of a letter to this effect from Capt. R. A. Koch, U. S. Navy (Ret.), special assistant to the chief of the bureau of naval personnel. In his letter Capt. Koch said: "We wish to express our thanks for the loyal and energetic cooperation of the Elks which contributed so largely to the success of the campaign. Because of these favorable results, the recruiting campaign for Seabees comes to an end on October 30."

The completion of the Navy campaign for Seabees follows closely a similarly successful cooperative campaign conducted by the army, with the assistance of the 1400 Elks lodges throughout the country, for the recruitment of construction engineers.

In his letter Capt. Koch said: "Immediately following, there will be a new program for the voluntary induction of men between the ages of 18 and 37 inclusive to serve in the navy's ship repair units. These units require many of the same skills as Seabees, and the same field organization will work on the job".

Speaking for Thief River Falls lodge, Exalted Ruler Peter Westergard said: "Elkdom will be proud to assume this new responsibility. No request of our Armed Forces is too great to demand our wholehearted cooperation."

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

They'll be Tough Enough

The Prowlers return to the football campaign on Friday, meeting the Little Green Wave at East Grand Forks, and coach Hanna's charges aren't a cinch to return with a win over the improving East Siders. The East Grand Forks team, coached by H. E. Hanson, has passed that early-season set-up stage, when they absorbed a couple of 27 to 0 defeats by Red Lake Falls and Crookston. Last week, playing a return game with Crookston, the East Siders, although beaten by a 20 to 6 score, played the highly-rated Pirates on near-even terms. The return of Harold "Red" Johnson to the East Grand Forks lineup has bolstered the team considerably, the husky junior being the key man in the backfield.

Coach Hanna has been doing some shuffling of the Prowler lineup the past week, sending captain Furuseth back to guard and shifting Cal Ripley to right end, and giving veteran Billy McKechnie a workout in the backfield. Billy, the squad's best passer, has been out of action since the Red Lake Falls game, having received a badly bruised hip in that contest, and he's still handicapped by the injury. The Prowlers' passing attack hasn't been much of a threat during the previous games, due largely to the lack of experience of the passers, and Bill's return should sharpen the locals' aerial game. Right halfback Manny Forsberg is reported to be running into ineligibility trouble, and coach Hanna has been drilling Les Vigness and Roy Rupprecht, in addition to McKechnie, in the Prowler backfield. With East Grand Forks and Crookston remaining on the schedule, the Prowlers will need capable backfield reserves.

Guessing on the Score

The score of Friday's game? According to Norm Furuseth and Tony Dorn, and they claim to have first-hand information, it will be 26 to 7 for the Prowlers. Maybe. By the way, the football series with East Grand Forks, which dates from 1919, finds each team having won eleven games, with one game, the 1941 tussle, ending in a tie, so Friday's contest, if it doesn't end in a deadlock, will give one of the clubs the advantage.

The most lop-sided score in the series was chalked up in 1919 when Denny McGinn's team rolled up a 92 to 0 win. That team, which was coached by Albert Tommeraasen, was captained by Denny and had Tubby LaBree, Rube Hadrath, Ernie Zeh, Leland Schuster, Joe Weirus, Chuck Herron, Vic Korquist, Roy Flattum, Elmer Larson, and Jim Parenteau on its roster.

Partridges

It's evident, judging by all the reports, that the partridges are on the downward spiral of their "prosperity" cycle. Hunters were forced to beat the popple and spruce groves pretty thoroughly on Saturday and Sunday in order to bag their limits. The Thorhult, Fourtown, and Carmel area, usually a partridge paradise, was well-worked by the hunters and while a number of birds were taken, the hunting was much harder than in former years.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gustafson hunted the Thorhult area on Saturday and they came in with their limit, but only after an all-day hunt. Hank Munson and Frank Bond were in the jack pine north of Carmel on Sunday and they, too had a limit shoot. Oscar Ellingson, Bill Parbst, and Engvald Lund were at Washkish on Saturday and Sunday, planning on mixing some fishing with partridge hunting; but the fish weren't biting and the cover was so thick that partridge hunting around there was nearly impossible, so they returned to Thorhult on Sunday. Hilmer Lunke's party appeared to have the best luck on Sunday, for they reported getting their limit without too much difficulty while hunting the Randen territory. Frank Rinkel and Helmer Baumann were up around Norris Camp and the Rapid river, and they only saw five partridges and bagged four of those.

The early-morning duck-hunters, hunting around the Mud lake refuge near Gatzke, have been coming in with some mallards. Fred Lorentson and Busher Hallstrom were up there on Monday morning and they bagged ten mallards. During last Thursday's storm George Williamson and Hank Storhaug, hunting north of Mud lake, had good luck, getting ten mallards apiece. Dr. Ed. Bratrud, with a 14-pound Canadian, and Art Forsberg, with a 12-pound Canadian, were two local hunters who bagged geese on Sunday, and both were shot at Thief lake.

The Team to Beat

Only two weeks have elapsed in the Women's City league bowling schedule, but it already is apparent that the Land O'Lakes team, which was runner-up last year, will again be a top-ranking team. Bea McLeod, Mary Dryden, Tracy Ristau, Eleanor Leiran, and Ardith Sandum, with six straight wins, have already bowled the Lakes to first place in the league standings, and they intend to stay there. They're a good bet.

Japanese War Against China Theme of Avalon Picture This Week-end

Japan's war against the Chinese people furnishes the background of "China", film presentation at the Avalon theatre Saturday thru Monday. In addition to the featured roles filled by Loretta Young, Alan Ladd and William Bendix, more than 800 Chinese players take part in the production.

"Cabin in the Sky", film version of the Broadway musical production of the same name, will be the offering at the Falls theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight prevue Saturday evening at 11:15. Prominent Negro actors appearing in the picture are Ethel Waters, Lena Horne and Louis Armstrong, band leader.

The forecast for the production of Irish potatoes in this country this year is 443,000,000 bushels, about 72,000,000 bushels more than last year.

EXPLAIN PLAN TO GIVE BOUNTY FOR FINDING BARBERRY

State Leader Tells of Plan to Reduce Grain Rust Infestation

Residents of Pennington county will be given an opportunity to perform a patriotic duty in helping to protect the nation's small-grain crops and, at the same time, to earn a substantial reward according to L. W. Melander, state leader of barberry eradication in Minnesota. In a recent meeting of the county commissioners, a resolution was passed offering a bounty of $5, payable to any person who finds and reports a property on which rust-susceptible barberry bushes are growing.

For the purposes of this bounty, a property is defined as any real-estate unit regardless of whether it is a farm or city property. Only one bounty will be paid for a property, regardless of the number of barberry bushes found, and no owner can receive a bounty for cultivated or planted barberries growing on his own property. No official, including federal, state, county or township, whose specific duty it is to locate and destroy rust-susceptible barberries, shall be eligible to receive a bounty.

In order to learn how to identify the rust-spreading barberry and obtain a bounty, information cards can be obtained at either the county agent's or the county auditor's office.

School children, 4-H club members, or adults, who find a barberry-infested property, should make application to the county auditor and submit with this application a small twig of the bush. These reports will be checked by a federal or state official to make sure that the find is authentic, before the county auditor is authorized to issue a warrant in payment. The applicant must agree to show the investigator the location of the barberry.

Thye Sells Hog Won from Gov. Griswold of Nebraska for $506.25

Farmers who have hogs to sell should get Governor Edward J. Thye to auction them off. The Governor was the auctioneer when the hog he won from Governor Dwight Griswold of Nebraska in a wager was auctioned off at the Junior Livestock Show in South St. Paul this past week for the benefit of the Army Emergency Relief.

Thye explained that the money obtained from the sale of the hog would be turned over to the Army Emergency Relief to help in the assistance it gives needy veterans or their wives and children, and, by the way of setting a pace for the bidding, said that it should sell for at least $2 a pound. The hog sold for $2.25 and brought $506.25.

Governor Thye won the hog in a wager with Governor Griswold over which state, Nebraska or Minnesota, would do the best in the U. S. bond sale.

WARTIME NEEDS INCREASE STATE APPROPRIATIONS

Taxes Reduced Despite 21.8 Per Cent Increase in Expenditures

Increased demands brought on in large degree by the war and resulting economic changes necessitated an increase of 21.8% in appropriations made by the Legislature for the current biennium as compared with the previous two years, the Minnesota Institute of Governmental Research pointed out in a new report issued this week.

The balances accumulated in state funds and the increased return being received from the state's earnings taxes are sufficient, however, to permit the state to meet these new demands, the report said, and still authorize tax reductions of $14,000,000.

"Conditions arising out of the war activities more or less forced new expenditures on the state," the report said. Listed among such expenditures were $3,857,039 additional for salary increases for state employees to meet cost-of-living increases, $2,451,592 for larger grants for old age assistance, $306,417 more for aid to dependent children and the $2,500,000 fund set up to aid returning veterans. Substantial increase also was made in the state aid to be paid out to local schools.

Appropriations for the present biennium as listed by the Institute, are $91,978,437, or $16,285,379 more than for the two previous years. This total, however, includes the $2,000,000 set aside from the balance in the general revenue fund from the previous biennium and used in this biennium to pay debt before due.

The tax reductions for the current biennium authorized by the Legislature come in the main from the cut in the state property tax, increased allowance for dependents under the state income tax and suspension of the moneys and credits tax for two years.

Reporting a reduction in relief appropriations, the Institute said the relief load in Minnesota has dropped 51.2% for the first three months of 1943 over the corresponding 1942 period.

A shortage in liquor due to the conversion of distilleries to the production of alcohol for the war effort is cutting heavily into return from the liquor tax, the report said, and this may make it difficult for the state to balance its budget in the second year of the biennium. Return from this tax will not be more than $4,000,000 annually during the two years, it is estimated, or $2,300,000 less than in the 1942 fiscal year.

More Positions in State Opened to Citizens Thru Civil Service Division

The Minnesota state civil service department is looking for men and women to help in caring for, guiding and training physically handicapped, delinquent, or dependent children and adults in the state institutions, or assisting in supervising a college dormitory. These jobs offer many advantages, some of which are permanency of work, vacation with pay, and sick leave privileges.

The salary ranges are $96.75 to $123.00 per month for Housemother I and Housefather I, and $112.50 to $144.00 per month for Housemother II and Housefather II. Complete maintenance, including room and board, will be furnished for approximately $30.00 per month in many of these positions. Written examinations for these positions will be held on November 13, 1943. Complete information and application blanks may be obtained from the Minnesota state civil service department, 122 State Office Building, St. Paul, or from any local United States employment service office. Completed applications must be postmarked not later than November 2, 1943.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY A FULL JUNK YARD!

Don't listen to people who say—"They can't need scrap very badly. Look at that junk yard, or the auto graveyards—they've got plenty of scrap. And remember the last time we had a drive the stuff sat around for weeks." Tell such people these true facts . . .

Of course the junk yards are full. They are "factories" that turn out finished scrap—sorted, broken up, and bundled . . . ready for the mills of America. The scrap has to go through these yards; and it keeps going through fast!

The auto graveyards too, are busy. They specialize in used car parts, but produce plenty of scrap as well. In June alone, these yards moved 450,000 tons—for they are required to junk within 60 days as many cars as they buy.

As for Salvage Depots—communities all over the country are staging drives. All this scrap can't be taken away at once. The junkies can't handle it and the mills can't store it. But every pound is needed and will be used. We've got to pile it up ready for instant use at any time.

The day when all junk yards are empty, when the auto graveyards are cleaned out, when all the local scrap stockpiles are gone—that is the day to dread. It is a day to avoid at all costs.

So remember—steel is needed to fight the war, and millions of lives depend on it. This steel is made of 50% scrap—and the mills have not enough scrap to last even 30 days longer. Don't fail to do your part in this emergency.

Why VICKS Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

BRANDT OPPOSES CAMPAIGN AIMED TO PROMOTE OLEO

Urges Opposition to Bill to Ease up on Federal Restrictions

"Oleomargarine lobbyists, who are taking advantage of a war situation to make another of their periodic attempts to ruin American dairy farmers, are trying to confuse the American people with untrue propaganda."

With these words John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries and head of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, today called on all dairy farmers to rally their forces for a finish fight in the impending congressional battle over the Fullmer bill. This bill would remove all federal restrictions on the manufacture and sale of domestic oleomargarine. Public hearings on the bill will open before the house committee on agriculture in Washington October 26.

"The oleomargarine people complain that a prohibitive tax prevents the sale of their product to the American people," Brandt declared. "As a result some uninformed people, who have never taken the trouble to look up the federal law, have been so taken in by the oleo argument that they have called the oleomargarine laws a form of subsidy for dairy farmers. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

"The federal tax on oleomargarine," Brandt continued, "is only one-fourth cent per pound. By no stretch of the imagination can anyone call this a 'prohibitive' tax that prevents the oleomargarine people from selling their product to the American people.

"Of course, this tax of one-fourth cent per pound is not the tax that the oleomargarine people talk about. But it is the tax that applies to all except a very small part of the oleomargarine manufactured at the present time. And it is the tax that they would lead the people to think that they are talking about because they constantly refer to all oleomargarine.

"There is an additional federal tax of 10 cents per pound on the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, but this tax applies only if the product is colored yellow in imitation of butter. This, however, is just as much protection for consumers as it is for dairy farmers.

"The 10 cents tax on colored oleomargarine protects the people by making it difficult for the oleo interests to fool the consumer into thinking he is getting butter when he is not. Retention of this tax is in the national interest. It is demanded by dairy farmers, who have always said that the oleo people could color their product with any tint they might possibly desire except the yellow that means real butter to the great mass of the American people."

PROCLAMATION

ECUADOR PLANT GROWS WELL IN MINNESOTA

Albert Lea.—Perhaps it was the "Good Neighbor" policy or just plain curiosity that prompted Ed. Oppegard to send for Ecuador seed a year ago. Whatever it was, the plant seems to be thriving well in Minnesota climate and so far hasn't been harmed by frost. First a single stem comes out of the ground, from this stem grows two branches which in turn sprouts two more. There are four branches in all, two being 12 feet in length and the other two 11 feet. The flowers resemble violet colored morning glories with pods from them resembling wild cucumber pods.

NEW DEPARTMENT HELPS VETERANS GET FRESH START

Casualties of Battle Field Find State Prepared to Help Them

Without headlines, often unnoticed, veterans of World War II already are trickling back into Minnesota, casualties from far-flung battlefields. A few months ago, the exploits of their units filled the papers and stirred the multitudes. Today, one by one, they come back, unpublicized and unnoticed, to start war's greatest battle, the fight of the disabled to find a place in the pursuits of peace again.

No one to listen or give a helping hand? Not this time. Minnesota has set up a program, thanks to former Governor Harold E. Stassen and the Minnesota legislature, to assist the returning veterans who need help, and it already is functioning effectively under the new state department of veteran's affairs, one of the first states to get under way with such a program. Minnesota has a welcome for them, the returning veterans are finding, and is ready to give all who need it a friendly lift.

Of the $2,500,000 fund which the legislature provided to meet needs, most of the benefits so far paid have been for educational aid. Typical of this is that given a boy from St. Paul. He had worked at a plant, and going to night school for four years, had completed his pre-medic course when war came. When he came back a few weeks ago, discharged from further service, the state department arranged to give him the $250 tuition allowed under the state law, got a scholarship for him and a part-time job so that he will be able to continue his education, with a plan carefully worked out for the whole four years.

"Most of the men want only a little boost so they can get a start again," said W. E. Weavier, director of the new department.

Millions for Victory

The U. S. A. spent more than 131 million a day for war during last April, enough to pay for a battleship, an aircraft carrier, a heavy cruiser, and a submarine and twice what we spent for weapons in the month before we entered the war.

One Job Well Done Begets Another

THERE'S no satisfaction in all the world like the feeling of having done a job well—of being able to see the results of your work. This is one thing that all producers of useful things have in common.

And those of us whose job is production—whether of goods on farms and in factories, or of services in stores and banks and utilities—can best see the results of our work in the high standard of living which we have helped to create in America. For this standard is built on our ability to produce more per person than any other nation on earth. And the people of every country, who are looking hopefully to us for food and weapons, can count on America because it has this great productive might.

After the war is over? Many people are talking about a richer life for all of us then. And they're right! For that richer life will be brought about, not by promises, but by hard work on the part of America's producers. And they—those who grow and make and do things—can do this post-war job better if they work together and understand each other. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

DRIVERS' LICENSE REVOCATIONS DROP COMPARED TO 1942

Decreased Travel and Less Patrol Personnel Seen as Main Causes

A marked drop in drivers' license revocations and suspensions in September is shown in the monthly report to M. J. Hoffmann commissioner of highways, by E. P. Lee, head of the drivers' license division of the Minnesota highway department. There were 131 revocations and 290 suspensions, compared to 261 revocations and 512 suspensions in September, 1942. Totals from January to September, inclusive, were 1,489 revocations and 2,141 suspensions in 1943, compared to 2,580 revocations and 3,218 suspensions in the same months in 1942.

September revocations included 23 in Hennepin county, 26 in Ramsey, 11 in St. Louis, and 71 in 39 other counties, while 45 counties had none. Suspensions were 128 in Hennepin, 41 in Ramsey, 8 in St. Louis and 53 in 33 other counties, while 51 counties had none.

Principal causes for revocation were intoxication, 109; inebriacy, 10; driving stolen car, 7; reckless driving, 5. Principal causes of suspensions were speeding, 73; lack of financial responsibility, 46; disobeying signs and signals, 30; reckless driving, 29. Of the 230 whose licenses were suspended, 120 were under 20 years old. Only 12 of the 131 whose licenses were revoked were 20 or under. Only 8 female drivers had licenses revoked and 7 had licenses suspended.

Truck Tire Situation Is Serious, Says OPA

That this country faces a possible shortage of one million truck tires by the end of this year is the statement approved by the national office of OPA and the rubber director.

The present truck tire demand exceeds the estimated civilian truck tire production by more than 200,000 tires per month. Heavy military demands, the introduction of synthetic tire construction, the shortage of man power, equipment and facilities may reduce the production of new civilian truck tires even more.

Nationally this country has today less than a two-month service stock of civilian truck tires.

The total truck tire demand for 1943 may be 11,000,000 tires as compared to 11,000,000 new truck tires shipped by manufacturers in 1941, the largest number in the history of the tire industry.

In 1942, OPA cleared on certificate only 3,500,000 truck and heavy service tires, an amount far below requirements.

From where I sit . . .

- by Joe Marsh

Ned Buxton was home on furlough last week. And you ought to see the fuss the town made over him. Seems like almost everybody wanted to give a party, or a testimonial dinner, or stage something special in the way of celebration.

Of course, Ned acted grateful. But he told me later, all he really wanted was to sit down with a few old friends, enjoy a glass of beer or two, and talk about old times again.

I guess that's how many soldiers feel. They don't want a lot of fuss made over them, with formal celebrating and such.

What they really like are the simple pleasures—one of Mom's home-cooked meals, visiting with friends over a glass of beer—enjoying things that mean home and comfort and security.

From where I sit, our biggest job, apart from helping win the war, is making sure those things are waiting for our men when they come back home for good.

Joe Marsh

Railway over Kasserine Pass, blown up by retreating Axis forces, was quickly rebuilt and put in operation by Military Railway Service. Note caves which were occupied by enemy. Insert shows soldiers of the railway service assembling an American-built locomotive.

IDAHO or ITALY

it takes the same stuff to run a railroad!

It's a whole lot tougher over there, of course, with machine guns strafing and bombs and cannon blasting at trains and tracks and shops.

But the same things that make the Great Northern a dependable, efficient railroad are producing bang-up results wherever the [redacted]* Railway Grand Division is sent.

For the officers and men of the [redacted] were recruited, for the most part, from every part of the Great Northern system—trackmen, shopmen, clerks, telegraphers, signalmen, switchmen, trainmen, enginemen, superintendents, and so on.

They have demonstrated that they have what it takes—experience, resourcefulness, determination, endurance and courage. Often under fire and always under desperate pressure, they keep the military trains rolling toward the battle fronts.

Pride in the achievements of the [redacted] and the other military railway outfits extends far beyond mere expressions of admiration here at home. It inspires railroad workers on the home front to keep those Victory-laden cars speeding along.

Here at home trains are hurried over crowded rails. Tanks and jeeps, shells and guns and bombs are rushed night and day from factories to docks. Food and raw materials are sped over the ribbons of steel in endless procession.

Overseas the job is continued by the Military Railway Service. Theirs is the responsibility of rushing troops and supplies to the fighting fronts—the job of taking a railroad—any kind of a railroad—and making it run, even in the face of enemy attack.

The highest hopes and best wishes of the whole Great Northern family accompany officers and men of the [redacted] wherever they go.

PINEVILLE
WELCOME HOME BILL
PINEVILLE'S HERO

. . . or how to welcome a returning hero

He'll be looking for the old familiar things—the gang at the corner store, his old room, the family radio. That's why Coca-Cola makes such a perfect welcome. He learned to like its ice-cold refreshment in his boyhood. In camp and overseas it helps him make new friends. On his return it says to him, Son, you're home again. In all the world there's no better way to say Auld Lang Syne than that simple American phrase—Have a "Coke".

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

"The right of free people to choose their own form of government is one of the tenets for which our men in the armed forces are fighting, so let us not be less vigilant here on the home front.

"To vote is not only a privilege, it is also a duty which you owe to your government and yourself and to the men who you elect to office. A light vote is not representative, therefore the men you elect to office deserve a good vote.

Regional Director Requests Cooperation of All Concerned

With the first major phase of the Victory Scrap Bank campaign now being completed, scrap metal has been coming into the city in good volume this week, it was announced today by Carl Christofferson, Pennington county salvage chairman.

Concerning the outlook for the northwest as a whole in the present drive, he quoted Harry E. Blumenthal, northwest deputy director in charge of salvage for the War Production Board:

"It's too early yet to determine whether the northwest will hit its 500,000 ton quota. However we have had the cooperation of men and women who have been eager to do everything in their power to top our quota and we may have hit it.

"The important thing is to keep scrap flowing whether we are making our quota or not. That scrap is needed for the front lines and it is going to be a critical item as the manufacturers keep pouring out war materials."

The drive which started October 25 in Pennington county is scheduled to run through November 15.

RED CROSS NEWS-NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The October quota of surgical dressings has not arrived as yet. We are asking for volunteer surgical dressing instructors to help with dressings. Please call Mrs. L. W. Rulien by Saturday and she will give you the necessary instructions.

The Junior Red Cross enrollment for service campaign begins November 1 to 15th. Philip L. Fjelstad is chairman of the Junior Red Cross in the city schools while Mrs. A. C. Matheson is chairman for the rural schools of this county. This is a national organization which numbers more than 17,000,000 young people in the schools of the country.

During the past year members of the organization have made more than 9,000,000 comfort and recreational articles for men in the armed forces, have collected thousands of tons of salvageable material, and have been generally active in assistance to the war effort as well as providing help to children of war-stricken nations in many parts of the world. Adult members of the Red Cross can give a great deal of assistance by cooperating with the junior members at this time.

Another reminder to contact Mrs. O. G. Lynde, chairman of home nursing, by Nov. 1st, if you wish to take advantage of the free instruction course that takes only 24 hrs. time. Please drop her a post card or contact her by telephone simply stating that you wish to join a class and stating which time you prefer, evenings or afternoons.

There was no advisory board meeting of the Red Cross Wednesday evening because of the special meeting called Oct. 13th.

Auxiliary Notes

By Mrs. J. W. Stewart
Publicity Chairman

The regular meeting was held Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. G. L. Biddick, district president, gave an interesting report on the rallies she attended recently at Roseau, Crookston, and Fergus Falls. She and Mrs. Leverson were also in attendance at a joint unit and post meeting at Viking on Oct. 7.

It was decided to send a cash donation to the Christmas Gift Shop at Fort Snelling in place of gifts, which were sent last year. The "Gift Shop" is for the benefit of disabled war veterans who select free gifts for their families at Christmas time.

The annual state fall conference will be held Nov. 12, 13, and 14 at St. Paul. Our president, Mrs. Orrin G. Lynde, and her secretary, Mrs. Marshall Kays, will attend as delegates from this unit.

The unit voted recently to sponsor a rummage sale in connection with the legion. No definite date has been set, but a committee of two, namely Mrs. Emil Hedlund and Mrs. Alex Cloutier, were appointed to take charge of the task, further particulars to be given at a later date.

Auxiliary membership up to date has reached 87. With a quota of 93 we hope to be "Over the Top" within a few days.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The girl scout council will have their regular monthly meeting Monday at 3:30 in the library rooms. Mrs. Hilding Peterson (nee Harriet Hellquist) is the leader of troop No. 9 for the present, while Mrs. John Lager and Mrs. Frank Steinke have charge of the brownies at Northrup. Mrs. Otis Wold is assisting Mrs. Weigelt with troop No. 11 and Joan Lynde assists Mrs. Floyd Olson with troop No. 10 at present.

A CHIMNEY SWEEP WITH AN IMPROVED METHOD

Foley.—The chimney sweep who recently visited Ronneby claimed to have a brand new and simple method for cleaning chimneys at the moderate charge of $1.50 to $2.50 per chimney depending upon the length of the chimney and pipe. He admitted his method was a bit slow but it was sure, requiring some 12 to 24 hours depending on the length of the chimney. Observers could see the process was simple, a sheet of newspaper with something sprinkled from a small box was placed in the stove and lighted with a match. Carelessness in spilling some of the precious contents of the small box on the floor led to discovery of the ingredient — just plain Copenhagen snuff.

[illegible]

Before revarnishing or reshellacking a floor, wash it thoroughly with strong soap suds, rinse well and dry. If there is any doubt that the wax is entirely removed by the soap and water scrubbing, the floor may be wiped over with turpentine or a turpentine substitute called petroleum spirits. To make sure that the wax is entirely removed, varnish one floor board and leave it overnight. If the varnish seems sticky the next morning, that is proof that the wax is not thoroughly removed and the floor must be recleaned.

Recreation Highlights

A great many enthusiastic children and adults enjoyed the presentation of the puppet show, "The Little Vegetable Men" last Thursday afternoon. A great deal of credit for the success of the show can be given to Delores Anderson, Jeanette Grinde, Jean Thomas, Patty Clinton and Abigail Thomas.

Little Patty Clinton puppeteered for the first time. She did very well.

The next puppet show will be held Thursday, Nov. 18th in the puppet theatre.

Anyone who would like to puppeteer may do do.

The puppet theatre and game room will be closed Friday afternoon, Oct. 29th in preparation for the big Hallowe'en parties the next day. Do not come to play on Friday afternoon.

A 'teen-age dance will be held Friday evening, Oct. 29th after the football game.

New Electron Device Made

Development of a new electron apparatus that creates 20,000,000-volt X-ray which may possibly prove useful in detecting deep flaws in metal castings was recently announced.

FARMERS SELLING RATIONED FOODS MUST GET POINTS

Ration Boards Are Mailing Report Forms Direct to Farmers

In order to assist farmers in sending OPA the ration points they collect from the sale of rationed foods, local war price and rationing boards are mailing direct to farmers in their areas the necessary reporting form, addressed envelopes and complete instructions regarding the collection of ration stamps, the Office of Price Administration announces.

Farmers who either sell or transfer rationed foods, such as fresh or smoked meat, all types of sausage, lard, butter, and cheese, are required to collect ration points from purchasers. The number of points they should collect for these foods is listed for the particular item on the official table of point values for rationed meats, fats, and dairy products.

This table is available at both the county war board and the local war price and rationing board.

The full cooperation of farmers is essential for the success of the food rationing programs, OPA pointed out. Under these programs the main responsibility of farmers is simply this:

1. Farmers who sell or transfer rationed meats, fats, and dairy products are required to collect the number of ration points listed on the table of point values for the item.

2. They are required to turn over to their local OPA rationing board all ration points received for the sale of rationed foods. These points are to be surrendered with the report for the month in which the sales were made. This report must be filed not later than 15 days following that month.

3. Farmers who deal in these rationed foods must also register with their local rationing board.

Buying Shirts IS DIFFERENT TODAY

A man no longer walks into a store and demands a shirt in his size for immediate delivery. Today, the typical shopper approaches the salesman and asks with a hopeful expectancy, "Do you have a blue striped shirt in my size?" or sometimes even, "Do you have a shirt in my size?" We are happy to announce that we do have shirts in all sizes, but not in every style or fabric. If you need shirts, buy the best and give them extra care.

DRAFT BOARD TO PLACE PENALTIES ON DELINQUENTS

Announces Impending Prosecution of Delinquent Registrants

Chairman Owen A. Olson of the Pennington county selective service board announces that selective service is making a concerted drive on delinquent registrants. Delinquencies for which a registrant may be prosecuted and sentenced to the federal penitentiary or fined, or both, run all the way from failing to keep one's board advised of one's whereabouts at all times, to failing to report for induction. In outlining the steps to be taken in the campaign by his board, chairman Olson says the procedure will be as follows:

Prior to November 1, the local board will have reviewed the file of each registrant who is a delinquent or is suspected of delinquency, and if possible will secure his compliance and dispose of his delinquency. On November 1, 1943, the case of each person remaining a delinquent will be examined by the local board, and the board will mail a report on each delinquent to the U. S. district attorney in the case of any registrant, who, before November 1, 1943, had been issued an order to report for induction or to a work camp.

Commencing on November 1, and proceeding as rapidly as possible, an order to report for induction, or to a work camp in the case of conscientious objectors, will be sent to every delinquent registrant from 18 to 37 years of age, who was classed as available on November 1, 1943, but to whom such order had not previously been issued. If such delinquent registrant then fails to report for induction or to a work camp, he will be immediately reported to the U. S. district attorney as a delinquent registrant.

Also beginning November 1, and proceeding as rapidly as possible, Chairman Olson states his board will classify or reclassify into 1-A, or, where applicable, into 1-A-O or IV-E, every delinquent registrant, and issue to such registrant an order to report for induction or to a work camp. Those registrants who do not comply with these orders will be immediately reported to the U. S. attorney as delinquents.

Registrants over 38 years of age will likewise be reported to the U. S. attorney as delinquent, if the local board believes such registrants should be prosecuted.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD TRACTOR DRIVER COMES TO GRIEF

Mankato.— Five-year-old Kenny Smith would like to do his bit in helping out on the manpower shortage, but his first experience in driving a tractor ended rather disastrously with unusual result. The little kindergarten fellow climbed onto the seat of a tractor sitting on a vacant lot, started the motor, put the tracor in gear and off he went. His ride was a short one as the machine knocked down a clothes pole, and then immediately climbed the outside wall of a garage. Young Smith rolled off, unhurt just a few feet before the impact which raised the frame garage approximately a foot and a half from the ground.

SPEEDERS KEEP PATROLMEN BUSY IN PAST MONTH

Arrests in September Near Double 1942 Figure, Report Shows

A policy of more arrests and fewer warning tickets for excessive speed is indicated in the September report of Eldon Rowe, chief of the state highway patrol, to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways. Arrests for excessive speed numbered 377, compared to 201 in September, 1942. Warning tickets for less serious or inadvertent violations of the speed limits were issued to 358, compared to 601 in September, 1942.

Arrests for nearly all offenses except excessive speed showed decreases. Arrests for driving while under the influence of liquor were 39, compared to 107 in September last year. There were 91 arrests for careless driving, and 158 in September last year. Total arrests were 971, compared to 1,090 in September a year ago.

"There seems to be a growing tendency to ignore the wartime speed limit of 35 miles an hour," said Mr. Rowe. "This low speed limit was instituted primarily to save tires, and the tire shortage is still serious. The need for moderate speed is, if anything, greater now than ever, because the tires in use are getting older and the danger of blowouts is greater. If drivers won't conserve their tires voluntarily, it's up to the patrol to help them do so."

The Boy Scouts will continue the drive during the coming month with an effort to pick up all the available wast paper before Thanksgiving day, Scoutmaster I. E. Quist stated today.

Farmers who have waste paper and wish to contribute can place it in the collection depot across the alley back of the Red Owl store. The paper should be securely tied in bundles of ten to fifty pounds each, Mr. Quist said, and high grade magazine stock should be tied separately. The war effort needs all available paper for packing boxes for ammunition and supplies to be shipped overseas.

All scouts are called for 2:00 P. M. next Saturday to gather and load out their first shipment. They are asked to meet at the collection depot and be ready to work.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

In spite of the abnormal conditions existing as a result of the war it seems rather strange that we in Thief River Falls should be isolated from the rest of the United States by roads such as those between here and Red Lake Falls, and also between here and Erskine. The condition of these roads would be a disgrace even to communities which do not enjoy the privilege of paying a four-cent gasoline tax.

People from the more advanced sections of the United States are appalled when they attempt to negotiate these roads to the south of us. Those that do survive the vibration set up by the washboards, arrive in this city with the firm conviction that we have arranged this condition purposely in order to forestall any invasion from that quarter by the Panzer Division of the German Army. That conviction is justified. Rommel himself, after travelling over these washboards, would find himself peering anxiously at the tires on his vehicles.

Which brings us to the tire situation. Certainly it might be well to consider tire conservation from the standpoint of decent roads. There can be no doubt but that it is more destructive to our thin tires to travel over these washboard stretches than to travel five times that same distance on a smooth road.

Perhaps a humble suggestion to our lawmakers that we in this section of the state do pay a gas tax and that we too like good roads would remind them to have these roads levelled out before the freeze-up.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Keeping store," Sam Abernethy says, "can teach a person plenty about human nature.

"Now coffee rationing's lifted, folks ain't a-breakin' their necks tryin' to buy all they can. Knowin' they can have it if they want it, they ain't so all-fired anxious to get it."

Sam's right, as usual. I don't crave that second cup half as much as when I couldn't get it.

But that's human nature ... Like allowing moderate beer in the Army's post exchanges. Instead of leading to more drinking, the OWI report says it works out just the opposite—often as not the men choose soda pop or milk, with beer right there and no restrictions on it.

But if it wasn't there, like in the last War, the story might be altogether different.

From where I sit, that's how it is with Americans. Tell 'em they can't have a thing and by golly, they'll find ways to get it. But admit their right to have it, and their own good sense will lead to moderation.

Tuesday is election day in the city, the day we choose our city officials for the next two years. The fact that there is little competition for these offices does not mean that the contest is not important. All elections are important and all of them impose upon us a responsibility to express our preferences. In fairness to themselves and to their community citizens of Thief River Falls have a duty to perform Tuesday. Vote. Vote as you please but vote.

The fox is rapidly becoming a serious problem for the farmers of this part of the state. Reports of losses of chickens and turkeys are coming in with increasing frequency. Fox hunting should be encouraged this winter not only as a sport but as a necessary part of the program of home defense. Keep in mind, you young fellows who have an occasional opportunity to shoot one, that there is a bounty of four dollars on them.

At one time more than two thousand different agencies were asking the people of this country to contribute to war relief in one form or another and for many various purposes. Under the direction of President Roosevelt a board was organized to study this problem and effect reorganizations that would eliminate unnecessary duplication of effort and provide reasonable supervision of the handling of the large sums of money collected. As a result of this effort we now have 17 recognized and properly supervised organizations, each handling a particular service or relief problem, being financed by one nation-wide, annual solicitation which is known as the War Service Fund. By this concentrated effort waste and the possibility of fraud is greatly reduced. People can give to the War Service Fund with the assurance that their contributions will be used for the purposes for which they are intended.

In a couple of weeks the river will be coated with ice and that will be a fairly dependable sign that cold weather is on the way. A month of exceptionally fine weather has enabled the farmers to make better progress than usual with their fall work and our community is in fine condition to get off to a good start next spring. Farming conditions this past season have not been good. Maybe that justifies the hope that next season they will be better. It doesn't hurt to be hopeful.

Harold Stassen is not considered the leading Republican candidate for the presidency but he is one of the few who are recognized thruout the nation as a possibility. Under the circumstances he is deserving of the whole-hearted support of the members of his party in his home state. It is said that his age is against him. That argument was advanced too when he first became a candidate for governor, but his record as governor is exceptionally good. He has several advantages as a candidate. His opponents will not be able to say of him that if he is elected he will sabotage the war effort. He is neither an appeaser or an isolationist and it is reasonable to assume that under his leadership the nation's war effort would not be adversely affected. His administrative record in Minnesota has earned for him the confidence of those who know him that he would restore sanity to the administration of our nation's internal affairs. Minnesota citizens have never had a native-son presidential possibility more deserving of their support.

We do not envy our representatives in Washington their responsibility for finding new sources of tax revenue. Whatsoever they now do in this respect is going to be unpopular. For this, however, they are themselves largely to blame. The time to have taken drastic action was immediately following Pearl Harbor when the nation was in a more receptive mood for making sacrifices. At that time many necessary adjustments could have been effected that would have made our present problem less difficult. The administration, however, followed the course of imposing the sacrifices of war upon the people gradually, like the fellow who chopped off his dog's tail a little at a time so it wouldn't hurt so much. The conversion of our economic life to the necessities of war, instead of keeping us in constant agony by the gradual method, could have been accomplished with better results and less pain if it had been inflicted in one major operation.

University Homecoming Set for Saturday, Nov. 6

Most of the usual fanfare will be eliminated from University of Minnesota homecoming activities Saturday, November 6, but there will be a hearty welcome and wartime entertainment on a modest scale for the many alumni who are expected to find their way back.

Bonfires and decoration of fraternity and sorority houses will be dropped. Men in army and navy units on the campus, several of whom were pre-war professional entertainers, will be among members of the cast which will present a show in Northrop Memorial Auditorium Friday evening, November 5, on the eve of the Purdue game, which will be the chief Homecoming event November 6.

A dance in the main ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union, with the big Union cafeteria cleared as an overflow hall, will be the principal entertainment for Saturday evening after the game.

OUR CORN GROWERS PROGRAM SET FOR NOVEMBER 10TH

The date for our Corn Growers Party has been set for November 10th.

The men who will judge the corn insist that all the entries be left at our place not later than Noon of November 10th, so they can complete the judging in the afternoon and be all ready for the evening program which will start at 8 P. M. So just as soon as you can pick out the ten ears of corn for the show, bring them in and we will take care of your exhibit for proper entry on the 10th.

We are arranging for the ribbon awards, the Blue, the Red and the White classes together with $50.00 in cash prizes.

Here is the plan for the evening program. We will arrange the party right here in our show room. Mr. Ernest A. Palmer, our County Agent, is helping us with arrangements and will be on deck to take part in the evening program.

Supt. T. M. McCall of the Northwest School and Experiment Station and Professor R. S. Dunham have promised to be with us to take part in the program. They have expressed sincere interest in this type of venture and I am sure you will be interested in hearing what these men have to say.

Mr. Howard Grow, our former County Agent, who was with us at our first Corn Growers Contest has promised to come again for this meeting and from the very many complimentary remarks we have heard as to the benefits they got out of his last program I know we shall all be glad to have him here again.

Now then, while this program of ours is planned for the farmers of this territory who have the matured corn to exhibit we also wish to invite all and any one interested in growing matured corn in this section, trade territory to Thief River Falls.

The corn growers party and program will take place in our show room and starts at 8 P. M., November 10th. But don't forget to bring your 10 ears of corn in before noon of November 10th. Bring your exhibits in next time you come to town.

First Cocker Spaniel

According to the records of the American Kennel club the first spaniel came to this country on the Mayflower in 1620. Whether it was a cocker spaniel, most popular breed of dog in the country, isn't known, but Freeman Lloyd says a painting by John J. Audubon in 1800 shows a liver-colored spaniel definitely of the cocker type.

In 18 or 20 years from now, new Herods may arise on earth to put that infant son or daughter of yours to the sword. Prowlers Swamp E.G.F.; Crookston Here Friday

Playing one of their "peak" games and piling up their biggest scoring total of the year the Prowlers, by a 39 to 0 score, galloped to an easy win over East Grand Forks on the Little Green Wave field Friday night. Tomorrow night, under the lights on the local field, the Prowlers will play their schedule's "climax" game, meeting the well-publicized Crookston Pirates.

Friday's resounding victory was featured by the crunching line play of the Prowler forward wall and the flashing footwork of the Prowler backs. With Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Chuck Richards, and Bob Baker leading the line's charges Herb Claffy, Bill McKechnie, Wes Hovie, Ninak Carlson, and Roy Rupprecht were able to break away for sizeable gains. Claffy marked up four touchdowns during the game, two of the scores coming after runs of 78 yards and 56 yards.

The Prowlers, although making two strong threats, were held scoreless during the first period. McKechnie broke loose for a 30-yard gain, but a fumble halted the Prowler drive. Early in the second period the locals, with Claffy and McKechnie leading the attack, drove from the East Grand Forks 42-yard line for a score, with Claffy sliding off tackle from the 8-yard line for the touchdown. The try for point failed. Herb Claffy, on one of the game's neatest runs, broke off right tackle on the Prowler 27-yard line and scooted 78 yards for a score, and Ninak Carlson, on a plunge, added the point, to give coach Hanna's team a 13 to 0 lead at half-time.

In the opening minutes of the third period Claffy pulled in an East Grand Forks punt on the locals 46-yard line and swiveled away for a 56-yard touchdown run. The extra point conversion failed. The Prowlers, receiving the ball, on a punt, on their 38-yard line drove to the 8-yard line as the third period ended. Claffy opened the final period by knifing off tackle for a score. Carlson, on a try at the line, added the point. The Prowlers continued their touchdown parade, recovering an East Side fumble on the Green Wave 34-yard line.

Claffy, McKechnie, and Carlson, behind some vicious blocking, ran for a first down on the 9-yard line, and a pass, Claffy to Carlson, was good for a touchdown. The extra point try, a placekick, was wide. After making a drive from their 40-yard line, a fumble giving them possession of the ball the Prowlers, with Billy McKechnie plowing through the line from the 2-yard line, marked up the game's final tally.

SOCIAL WELFARE CHIEF DISCUSSES PROGRAM FRIDAY

Bernhard LeVander Speaker at Civic and Commerce Meeting

Addressing sixty members of the Civic and Commerce association and guests last Friday evening at a dinner meeting in the Palm Garden Cafe, Bernhard LeVander, director of the state division of social welfare, presented a comprehensive outline of the program being administered by his department.

He stated that at the present time 59,500 persons in Minnesota are receiving old-age assistance at an annual cost of $17,000,000, and he added that this program, which is based on need, is frequently misconstrued as being a pension plan.

Mr. LeVander said that the case load in the general relief program, which is locally financed has dropped 50 per cent during the past year. Other features of the welfare program discussed included veterans' relief, aid to dependent children, aid to crippled and handicapped children, and the medical program.

Summing up, the speaker declared that the aim of his department is to extend a helping hand, not to give a handout. He also took occasion to praise the efficient administration of public welfare programs in Pennington county under the direction of the welfare board and John X. Lynskey, executive secretary.

Keeping Score

…. WITH BUCK OLSON

One to Go

"The boys did everything right. In fact, they looked better than they did in the Bemidji game, for their timing was sharper and they were smoother in running off their plays. It was the kind of game where I could sit on the side-lines and recognize every play as it developed." That was the comment of coach Glenn Hanna following the Prowlers smashing 39 to 0 win over East Grand Forks last Friday.

Hanna added that much of the success of the Prowler offense, and it was so successful that the locals did not need to punt during the entire game, was due to the fine play of the line. The forwards opened huge holes in the East Grand Forks line, and thru these holes Herb Claffy, Billy McKechnie, Les Vigness, Ninak Carlson, Wes Hovie, and Roy Rupprecht would sprint for big gains. Herby, incidentally, had a field day for himself, racking up four touchdowns and turning in an exhibition that was reported as the finest the Grand Forks territory had witnessed all year.

Lysaker Takes Notes

Coach Herschel Lysaker and his Crookston Pirates football team were spectators at the game Friday night, with Lysaker taking copious notes on the Prowlers. Crookston will play here tomorrow night in a game which concludes the locals' schedule and which promises to be filled with fireworks. Lysaker saw the Prowlers generate a lot of power on plays that were directed at the center of the line, so it is expected that he will reinforce the Crookston line in an effort to stop the off-tackle shots of Claffy, McKechnie, Hovie, and Carlson.

The game appears to be an even-stephen affair, with the weather and field conditions being a factor in the outcome. The Pirates, physically, are one of the finest teams in the region, having weight and height in the line and fair speed and power in the backfield. And if the Prowlers continue to play teeter-totter football, as they have been doing all year—they were "down" in the 12 to 12 game against Red Lake Falls; they were "up" in the 27 to 0 win over Bemidji; they were "down" in the 26 to 0 loss to Moorhead; and they were "up" in last Friday's 39 to 0 win—they won't be able to handle the Pirates.

Locals Win Most Games

In the twenty-four games that Thief River Falls has played against Crookston, since 1915, the locals have been on the long-end of the score sixteen times while the Pirates have registered but four wins, with four of the contests being deadlocked. George Lee's powerhouse team of 1937 chalked up the biggest score in the series, a 43 to 0 triumph. That's the outfit that boasted of Gordy Caldis, Bones Stadum, Red Eide, Earl Nicholson, Don Lorentson, Pomeroy Hill, Clark and Rube Mickelson.

Tough Going

Week-end pheasant hunters reported varying luck, with some coming in with possession limits and others being able to get only a bird or two; but all were agreed that the going was tough. A number of local hunters were in the Fertile-Twin Valley area and they said that the heavy cover made hunting difficult and nearly impossible without a good dog. A great deal of fall plowing has been done down there, with the result that the pheasants have been forced into heavy cover. Abby Jaranson and Goose Gulseth, having the benefit of Goose's springer "Snipper," hunted near Hitterdal and secured their limit by noon on Saturday. Gil Gilbertson, Bush Hallstrom, in a party of six, hunted around Ashby, south of Fergus Falls, on Saturday and Sunday, and they returned with their possession limits. Oscar Ellingson and Engvald Lund hunted near Pelican Rapids on Saturday, had good luck, and then moved up west of Ulen on Sunday where they ran into flooded lowlands and had only fair shooting.

And it's evident that the northern duck flight has not come down yet. Hunters reported seeing only a few ducks on the lakes to the south, although there were some northern mallards in the smaller sloughs. Harold Olson and Ole Ness had their names added to the goose-getting list, for they bagged a goose apiece while hunting near Greenbush last week. But they should have had a couple more, but they began shooting at the geese too soon, missing with their first shots.

Leonard Russell, member of the 1940 Thieves hockey team and a co-coach, with George Beverley, of the Hornets junior hockey team, has been reported missing in action following an allied bomber raid over Germany last Saturday. COMMISSIONS IN NAVY STILL OPEN TO CIVILIAN MEN

Branch Procurement Office in Minneapolis Solicits Inquiries

"The Navy needs officers and is still commissioning men from civilian life," Lieutenant-Commander P. J. McNurlen, officer in charge of the naval officer procurement office in Minneapolis, advised men of the Northwest this week.

"We want to interview men who think they may be qualified for naval officers," he said. "We do not want men to disqualify themselves because they imagine they lack certain requirements. If he is not qualified, we will tell the applicant so at the time he is examined, but he should come in here for an interview."

The primary need of the navy is for men with technical or engineering training, particularly for construction battalion and public works officers; secondly, the navy requires men with broad experience in some phase of supply work, such as administration, cargo, purchasing, shipping, stock control, warehousing, packaging, and transportation; and the third demand is for professional men, doctor and dentists and chaplains.

Attorneys, particularly younger ones, who have had a successful practice are also needed by the navy. They will be commissioned and trained for air combat information and radar-plot.

"In general, a college degree is desired of applicants," Lieutenant-Commander McNurlen said, "but in many cases success in a particular field may permit a man to qualify for a commission as a naval officer. Our new offices are at 1643 Northwestern Bank building, and I personally invite all men to visit us for an interview."

Son-in-law of Goodridge Couple Given Medal for Bravery in North Africa

Pvt. Donald M. Mack, serving in the U. S. army with a medical detachment in North Africa, and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Akin of Goodridge, recently was awarded an army medal in recognition of his valor. The citation reads:

"For gallantry in action during the period of March to April 1943, in the vicinity of Tunisia, North Africa. During an attack by the Infantry Regiment on strongly held enemy positions in the area, Pvt. Mack, with utter disregard for his own personal safety, left the cover of his own fox-hole and went forward to aid two of his wounded comrades. Upon arriving at the fox-hole which they were sharing and while administering first aid to the soldiers, the enemy laid down a heavy barrage of mortar fire wounding Pvt. Mack. In spite of the fact that he was wounded, Pvt. Mack continued to administer first aid and care for the wounded. Pvt. Mack's outstanding bravery and devotion to duty in face of grave danger were examplary and reflect credit upon the armed forces of the United States."

Railway Express Agent Asks Early Forwarding of Christmas Packages

Christmas shipments should be on their way by December 10, J. H. Osborn, Railway Express Agent, declared today, in order to keep the channels of transportation free for the movement of vital war business.

This is the keynote of a nation-wide effort requested by the Office of Defense Transportation; to assist in clearing the way for handling war materials on schedule and to enable soldiers on leave to get home for the holidays.

"By shopping early and shipping promptly," said Mr. Osborn, "we will be contributing to the war effort." Department and other retail stores and shops here are taking an active part in this endeavor and are urging their customers to advance their Christmas gift-buying by several weeks, so that personal Christmas packages can be started on their way to recipients by December 10.

Mr. Osborn urged that packages for the boys and girls in the armed service at training camps in continental United States, likewise, be sent by December 10. This applies as well to the training centers of the WACS, WAVES, SPARS and members of the Marine Corps women's reserve.

Must be Sent to Collector of Internal Revenue by October 31

Arthur D. Reynolds, collector of internal revenue, today called to the attention of employers that during the month of October returns must be filed and remittances made for the income tax withheld from salaries and wages paid to employees under the new Pay-As-You-Go plan. This return, Form W-1, covers tax withheld during the period, July 1 to September 30, and will include both the income tax and victory tax withheld during this quarter.

The return is due to be filed in the office of the collector of internal revenue, St. Paul, on or before October 31. The law provides severe penalties for the failure of the employer to file his return within this one-month period or to pay the tax on or before the due date, the minimum penalty being $10.00 in each such case.

Tax is withheld by the employer at the date of 20% on each payment of salary or wages in excess of the appropriate family status withholding exemption of the employee, or at the rate of 3% in excess of the victory tax withholding exemption, whichever is greater. The employer may also use tables of optional withholding provided by law in computing the tax withheld if he so desires. The employee furnishes the employer with a certificate showing his family status, whether single, married or head of family, and listing his dependents.

Q. Why should oil be changed every two months or at 1,000 miles—whichever comes first?

A. Your car produces nearly 1 gallon of water per gallon of gas burned. Short-run driving fails to expel all this water. Some gets into the crankcase and contaminates any oil—especially in cool and cold weather.

Here's your easiest-on-the-battery motor oil!

The cue for motor oil selection this fall is—save that battery, protect that engine, stretch those gas coupons. Change to Standard's famous Iso-Vis 10 W, the fastest starting, easiest-on-the battery 10 W motor oil you can buy.

At today's reduced speeds, oil consumption is greatly reduced, but batteries are older. Under rationed driving, they recharge less, run down faster. Too-heavy oil increases battery drag, endangers the motor when starting cold, wastes gasoline.

Iso-Vis 10 W gives instant lubrication, yet stays tough under heat—gives full engine protection. Get it today. And make an early appointment with your Standard Oil Dealer for complete winter-conditioning . . . weekdays, if you can, please.

Have a Coca-Cola = Na Zdravi
(HERE'S TO YOU)

. . . or how to greet a visiting Czech

Everyone knows that the way to make friends is to be friendly. Have a "Coke", says the American airman, and Here's to you, replies the Czech flyer with instant understanding. This simple gesture is a world-wide high-sign of good intent. Around the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become the symbol of welcome among the kindly-minded.

ARMISTICE DAY SET FOR SCRAP DRIVE CLEANUP

War Production Board Makes Plea for Final Effort to Reach Goal

SEEK AN AVERAGE OF 1,000 LB. PER FARM

Asks to Have Scrap Material Moved Before Arrival of Winter Snow

The re-dedication of Armistice Day this year to a final cleanup of all scrap throughout the northwest, as a tribute to the boys in the armed services, was asked today by War Production Board officials in charge of the nationwide "Victory Scrap Bank" drive for obsolete iron and steel required for the war effort.

Volunteer organizations that have already completed their county drives were urged to make one more thorough survey of their respective territories in an effort to drag out every last pound of available scrap from farms, homes, stores and shops.

"We're in a critical situation on the collection of scrap iron and steel in this area," explained Norman S. Olson, northwest WPB salvage manager, "because we'll soon have snow blanketing our farms. If we don't get the scrap iron and steel out this month, it will have to lie dormant until the thaw next spring. That is why we have put such pressure on the gathering of scrap during October and November. Most of the field work will be done now and farmers can devote some time to gathering up their scrap."

Reports filtering in from the "Zero Day" in the scrap drive in most of the northwest indicate that considerable scrap was gathered up. However, Mr. Olson stressed the fact that the northwest, including farms, industries, homes and stores, is asked to produce 500,000 tons of scrap by the end of the year. The average sought from the farms is 1,000 pounds each.

"We all have relatives or close friends on some foreign battlefield now," Mr. Olson said. "Bear in mind what that soldier or sailor is going through and think of what he might be going through later on if we don't provide him with the weapons of war and protective devices he must have. Scrap iron and steel are an essential ingredient of the materials our soldiers must have."

Hallowe'en Festival Is Outstanding Success

Killed in Action

PFC. LEONARD SANDERS
Who gave up his life for his country September 23, in the Italian campaign. He is the son of Mrs. Emil Griebstein of this city, and was one of the owners of the Home Lumber company here. Memorial services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Lutheran church.

Attracting a total attendance of approximately 1,400 children, the series of three Hallowe'en parties given in the arena and Auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening were acclaimed as an outstanding success. Sponsoring the festival were the city recreation board and the Lions club, with James Parkins as general chairman.

The costume parade held early Saturday evening under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Berg attracted a record number of entries. The grand prize was won by Gordon Odegaard, while about fifty awards were conferred on as many children. Heading the procession were members of the Lincoln high school band.

Six hundred children attended the afternoon party for the smaller children in the arena, and were entertained with games, as well as with a tumbling act by Lincoln school pupils directed by Quentin Jones, and a dance by Bessie, a mock horse.

Patty Clinton and Allen Gilbertson were awarded prizes for the most original costumes, others winning awards including George and Sharon Hanna, Judy Anderson, Jane Olson, Kathleen Geving, Kenneth and Evan Jones, Beverly Wegge, Darlene LaFave, Freddie Dablow, Jackie Warner, Jimmie Rowe, Billy Randall, Jean Peterson, Barbara Bishop, Marlyn Johnson and Jack Stewart.

Among those winning prizes at the evening party in the arena were Irving and Gary Forsberg, Jimmy Parkins, Loren Borsheim, Jack Almstadt, Allan Hanson, Walter Johnson, Delores Wynnemer, Marlene Langevin, Marlis Bowman and numerous others.

The dance for high school students staged in the Auditorium in the evening under the supervision of Fleming Gibson, Lions club president, also was a highly successful affair, attracting a record attendance.

SCHOOLS GIVE OUT 10,375 COPIES OF RATION BOOK FOUR

Applications Still Being Taken at Ration Board Office

During the recent registration for Ration Book IV conducted in the schools of Pennington county, a total of 10,375 books were issued, it was announced this week by Miss Barbara Vonava, chief clerk of the local ration board.

Of the total, 6,134 books were issued in the Thief River Falls schools and 4,241 in the village and rural schools of the county.

Books are being issued to belated applicants this month at the ration board office in the Harts building, so that the final total for the county is not yet available.

Indications are, however, that the aggregate number of books issued will be substantially below the 1940 population total of 12,900 for Pennington county.

VICTORY AIDES WILL OPEN CANVASS SOON

Voluntary Contributions to be Received by Lund Thru Saturday

Pennington county last night had passed the two-thirds mark toward the attainment of its $8,000 quota for the National War Service Fund. Collections up to that time aggregated $5,622.62, it was announced by Robert J. Lund, treasurer.

Those in charge of the campaign point out that the encouraging feature of the drive to date is that all contributions received up to this time from the rural sections of the county have been brought or mailed in voluntarily, no personal solicitation having been made as yet in those areas.

Chairman W. E. Dahlquist stated today that within the next few days solicitors from the Victory Aides organization will call on all citizens who as yet have made no contribution, in an effort to bring the drive to an early and successful conclusion.

In the meantime, it was pointed out, voluntary contributions will continue to be received until Saturday at Mr. Lund's office across from the postoffice. In such cases, the solicitors will be notified and the donors' names will be checked off the list.

Few Acts of Vandalism Reported on Hallowe'en Night to Local Police

Altho a few scattered instances of Hallowe'en vandalism were reported in the city Saturday night, the offenses, according to Police Chief L. W. Knadle, were much less numerous than years before the custom of holding community Hallowe'en parties was instituted. The decline in the activities of the pranksters also is ascribed in part to a prevalent feeling that such acts constitute a form of sabotage in wartime. Major offense reported to police consisted in the tipping over of several of the few remaining outhouses in the city.

ANOTHER MEAT STRETCHER

"I want ideas to make all kinds of meat go a long way," one young woman answered when asked what sort of cooking information she felt she needed most.

"You see, I used to have two or three standby recipes for making a little bit of meat look like a lot. I thought it was better to be a master hand at a few recipes than to use a lot of them—and never really do justice to any one. But now—with rationing—one just has to know something about fixing all kinds of meat—so that one can make the most of whatever meat one can get."

I'm sure lots of women have felt this same way about it being smart to have a variety of different recipes for different types of meat at hand. So here's a veal recipe to add to your meat repartiere. It's called—

STUFFED VEAL ROULETTES

- 3 slices bread, cubed
- 3 tbsp. milk
- 1 small egg, beaten
- ½ lb. pork sausage (bulk)
- ½ cup finely chopped onion
- ¼ tsp. salt
- Dash of pepper
- ½ tsp. sage
- 1 lb. veal steak (have butcher flatten veal into 6 thin pieces about 3x5")

Mix bread cubes, milk, egg, pork sausage, chopped onion and seasonings. Spread each piece of veal with layer of bread stuffing. Roll up, fasten with wooden picks or skewers. Sauté until golden brown in a little hot fat in heavy skillet. Add enough water to cover bottom of skillet. Cover. Bake about 1 hour in a moderate oven (350°). Add more water during baking, if necessary, to prevent meat from cooking dry.

This will make 6 servings. And here's a menu built around these veal roulettes—

Veal Roulettes with Milk Gravy
Steamed Rice
Fresh or Frozen Peas and Cubed Carrots
Grapefruit and Avocado Salad in Lettuce Cups
Sweet French Dressing
Bread and Butter
Fresh Strawberry Shortcake

Late applicants for War Ration Book IV may apply now in person at the local ration board. Bring Ration Book III with cover completely filled out.

New point changes for processed foods went into effect October 3rd. Apricots, cherries, figs, grapefruit, and plums increased as much as 8 to 11 points per No. 2 and 2½ cans. Canned snap beans and all varieties of corn except corn on the cob decreased while dried peas and lentils went off of rationing entirely.

The cost of living spurred by an increase in clothing and food prices rose 0.4% from August to September after a decline of 1.5% in the preceding three months. The upset was due mainly to the discontinuance of lower priced clothing lines. The food increase for the nation was 0.1%. Meats and butter remained steady, eggs were up seasonally, fruits and vegetables as a group down slightly.

New Sleeves

Watch sleeves! This is a season when they are made to play all sorts of high-style capers. So be sure that your sleeves are of the newer types that date your dress or your blouse as of summer 1943 vintage. Here you see a gown pictured that is sleeved most intriguingly with new-type flaring capelike sleeves with scallops daintily appliqued with cutout petals of the very fine rayon chiffon in fresh periwinkle blue and white print which fashions the entire dress. This season's sheer rayon prints were never prettier, and for warm summer days they make the dress ideal. This most attractive dinner gown is of the now-so-fashionable short length.

'Pudding Bomb!'

The "pudding bomb," used with good effect in the Egyptian desert, is said to be more potent than the "Molotov cocktail" for rendering German tanks hors de combat. Thrown at a tank, the "pudding" sticks to the side until it explodes.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Rev. Martin Birkholz, Mankato, Unites Selma Solley-Glenn Miest

Palms and white chrysanthemums were used for decorations and only the soft glow of tall flickering tapers lighted the altar and auditorium of the St. Paul Lutheran church in St. James Sunday, Oct. 24, when Selma Solley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Solley of Goodridge, and Glenn A. Miest, AMM 3/C of St. James exchanged wedding vows. The service took place at 6:30 P. M. and Rev. Martin Birkholz of Mankato officiated, using the double ring ritual.

Mrs. August Klammer presented a program of nuptial music before the ceremony and played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner for the processional, and "Mid-Summer Nights Dream" as the recessional. Mrs. M. K. Hegstrom sang two selections, "Oh Promise Me" and "O Perfect Love."

Attendants were Dorothy Jorgenson, maid of honor, and bridesmaid, Ellen Selvig. The best man, Erwin Rettke, AMM 3/C, was assisted by Orville Miest, brother of the groom. Ushers were also two brothers, George Miest, Jr., and William Miest.

The bride's gown of princess style had a tight bodice, full skirt and train. It was fashioned of white brocaded Skinner's satin with sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves finished in points over the wrists. Her net veil, edged in lace, was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible and a single orchid from which hung streamers of white satin ribbon and bouvardia. A three strand pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

A two course wedding supper served at the home of the bridegroom's parents, followed the service. Later in the evening there was an informal reception for relatives and friends. The young couple left the following day for a short honeymoon trip to the cities.

The bride has been employed by the Hintgen Drug Company in St. James and will return to her work in the near future. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Miest of St. James, is now in the navy stationed at Wold Chamberlain Field, Minneapolis, as aviation master mechanic.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The surgical dressings arrived last Friday so work began Monday afternoon and continues every week through Thursday evening. The two open nights are Monday and Thursdays.

Miss Millicent Johnson, Home Nursing Consultant, from St. Louis area office will be in the city between Nov. 4th and 9th to meet with the home nursing committee and health officials in regard to contacting trained nurses for enlistment in the army and navy. We also need volunteer nurses aides and home nursing students. There is still time to enroll for classes. Get in touch with Mrs. O. G. Lynde home nursing chairman.

The Red Cross, as the official recruitment agency for the Nurse Corps, has monthly recruitment quotas to meet and must not fail the army and navy. It asks community cooperation in meeting the requirements of the armed forces—a public opinion that will turn more and more qualified nurses to the bedsides of our wounded men.

You know, no doubt, some nurse who could qualify for army and navy service and who can be influenced to enter the service. Won't you help persuade her that it is her war time duty to use her professional skills where they most needed? You know, surely, women who can fill the nurse gaps at home by becoming nurse's aides. Maybe they are close as your own family. Won't you stress to them this home front need and their ability to fill it?

Maybe you are one who can and should take the 24 hour home nursing course for the sake of your own family and community health in general. Won't you be the booster for your block?

The sewing room of the Red Cross will be open this Friday and every Friday from 2 to 5 P. M. for the making of hospital supplies for the armed forces. We are asking for volunteer workers for this very important phase of war work. Make it a habit to spend at least one afternoon a week doing sewing, knitting or surgical dressings.

PUT KITCHEN FATS TO WORK

With fats and oils rationed, America's housewives have a valuable source of cooking fats in meat drippings, fat trimmings from uncooked meat, cured pork rinds, and fat skimmings from soups and stews. They can be saved and used for baking, frying, and seasoning.

Use of these fats is vital to the government's fat conservation program. If all cannot be used in the kitchen, the surplus and waste fat should be sold to a retail meat dealer as fats are a valuable source of glycerin used to manufacture ammunition. One pound furnishes enough glycerin to fire four 37-millimeter anti-aircraft shells.

Kitchen fat can be valuable in the war effort. Save it! Use it!

HOW TO RENDER FAT
1. Trim excess fat from all uncooked meat and keep in refrigerator until ready to render.
2. Chop fine or grind.
3. Render in double boiler.
4. Strain through cloth.
5. Cool to room temperature.
6. Cover tightly and store in refrigerator. (May be mixed with other rendered fat or drippings which have been strained.)
7. Use for baking, frying, and seasoning.

Funeral Services for A. Bring Conducted Saturday Afternoon

Last rites were conducted in the Bethesda church at Newfolden Saturday for August Bring, who died Wednesday of last week of injuries received when a train collided with his truck at a railroad intersection at Newfolden. Rev. P. M. Brattle, assisted by Rev. Romholm and Rev. Myhrer of Newfolden officiated at the services, which were conducted at the home at 1:30 and at the church at 2 o'clock, and burial was made at the Newfolden cemetery.

Mr. Bring was born May 18, 1895, in No Maine twp. near Newfolden. In 1917 for a term of 11 months he served his country in the first World War, and in three years was married to Miss Alma Tunheim. To his union were born three children, Gordon, Ardelle, and Bernice. In the summer of 1921 he moved with his wife to Newfolden, then to West Valley twp. and back to Newfolden where they made their home on the farm of his father-in-law for five years. Finally in 1928 the family moved back to West Valley twp. to make their permanent home.

Left to mourn besides his wife and children are one brother, Gust Bring, Strandquist; three sisters, Mrs. Peter Doran, Plummer, Mrs. George Scholy of Necomb, N. Dak., and Mrs. Ellen Vinje of Portland, Ore. A sister and a brother preceded him in death as well as his parents.

Leatherneck Rifles

The rifle first became a part of Leatherneck equipment on August 22, 1776, when Maj. Samuel Nicholas ordered muskets for the marine corps.

Farmers and other producers of livestock may easily determine whether or not they are eligible to slaughter without a license and to consume meat without giving up ration points, under a simplified procedure announced jointly today by the Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration.

1. OPA changed its meat rationing regulation to simplify the requirements covering point-free home consumption of meat by livestock producers.

2. WFA authorized an individual to slaughter for home consumption without a license or permit if he is entitled under OPA regulations to consume the meat point-free.

"We are attempting to make the requirements covering home-slaughter and point-free meat consumption as clear and simple as possible, both to aid the farmer and to conserve meat supplies for civilian and military use," the two agencies explained. "It is of the utmost importance that livestock producers understand who may and who may not slaughter without a license and consume meat point-free.

"Meat obtained from slaughtering on a farm provides a large segment of the population with its meat needs. Under war-time rationing, it is necessary to set limitations on the point-free consumption of this meat, in order that as much as possible may become a part of the total supply available for rationing.

"Farmers and others who produce livestock may, of course, continue to serve at their own table the meat they raise without giving up ration points. The simplified limitations make it clear, however, that those who are not bona fide producers of livestock are not entitled to eat more meat than their ration stamps will buy."

Under the OPA revision a person may consume meat without giving up ration points only if (1) the livestock was raised from birth or (2) for a period of 60 days immediately before slaughter, or (3) the weight has increased at least 35 per cent between acquisition and the time of slaughter. In all instances, the raising of the livestock must take place on a farm or other place which the livestock producer operates.

"In addition, to be considered eligible to slaughter and consume meat point-free, a person must have resided more than six months of each year on a farm which he operates, or must have given personal attention and supervision to the raising of the livestock on his premises for at least a third of the time during the period (one of those listed above) on which he bases his claim to the right to consume the meat point-free.

If a person has his livestock custom-slaughtered, he must meet these same conditions, in order to get the meat from the slaughterer without giving up points. He is also required to give a certificate to the slaughterer containing the facts showing he is eligible to consume the meat point-free.

Farmers or other persons who raise livestock and meet the requirements covering home consumption of meat, may, of course, serve the meat, point-free, to those who eat at the table—including farm workers. Prisons, asylums, restaurants and other so-called "institutional users," however, are not permitted point-free use of the meat from livestock they raise.

Those who meet the conditions permitting point-free consumption will now be permitted by the WFA to slaughter for home consumption without a license or permit. With this one exception, all others who slaughter meat for themselves or for delivery to others must have a WFA permit or license as in the past.

These changes are expected to make it an easier matter for a producer of livestock to determine whether or not he may consume meat point-free. It is hoped that this understanding will protect supplies of meat for essential military and lend-lease needs by stopping diversion of meat from legitimate distribution channels.

At the same time, today's action will disturb as little as possible the established custom of livestock producers in slaughtering the meat they raise for home use.

Funeral Rites Held Friday at Oklee for Mrs. Signe Myrum, 81

Funeral services were held at the Ebenezer church in Oklee Friday for Mrs. Signe Myrum, age 81, who passed away at the home of her son Ole Myrum Wednesday, Oct. 27, following a four day illness. Rev. Lerohl officiated at the rites and the body was taken to Rolette, N. Dak., for burial.

Following her husband's death in 1916, Mrs. Myrum returned to Oklee to make her home with her son Ole.

Surviving are four sons and one daughter; Tom of Fargo, Sam of Rolette, Halvor and Ole of Oklee, and Mrs. A. H. Larson of Minneapolis; and 26 grandchildren. Besides her husband, one infant son, four brothers, and three sisters preceded her in death.

Mrs. Fossum, who was 76 years old at the time of her death, was born in Allamakee County, Iowa, June 8, 1867. Her marriage to Albert Fossum of Waukon, Ia., took place in 1889 in Waukon, and following her husband's death she came with her daughter to this city, where she made her home until moving to Minneapolis in 1930.

Allen Duane Fossum with the marines in the South Pacific, Sgt. Leighton K. Fossum of San Francisco, and Luther O. Fossum of St. Paul; one sister, Mrs. Julia Rippe of Baudette. Her husband, son Allen, and infant daughter preceded her in death.

Emily Fossum was also born in Allamakee County, Iowa, June 17, 1890, and after moving to this city was graduated from Lincoln High School with the class of 1912. She was then employed at the Winton Nichols Lumber Co. in this city, and prior to moving to Minneapolis she served as assistant city clerk here. At the time of her death, she was employed at the Minneapolis court house in the county treasurer's office.

Columbus, History's Man of Mystery, Remains Puzzle to World's Scholars

ALTHOUGH 451 years have passed since an intrepid navigator named Christopher Columbus sailed westward to unknown horizons, the world still knows almost nothing of that sailor whose discovery has been termed the most important event since the birth of Christ.

Less is known about Columbus than almost any other great figure of history. Who was he? Where and when was he born? What was his early life? What did he look like? Was he educated or illiterate? Where, when and how did he die? Where is he buried? These and many other questions cannot be answered by today's historians with any degree of accuracy.

As to his identity, some scholars would have us believe that he was Spanish. Others say he was Portuguese, others Jewish. This point likely will never be cleared up.

Columbus' Birthplace.

There are at least 17 cities in Italy where the tourist of more peaceful times can see the "birthplace" of Columbus. Outside of Italy, Columbus was "born" in a dozen places in Spain, Portugal and France. Other "birthplaces" are being discovered every few years.

The date of his birth is controversial. The best authorities believe he saw the light of day between 1446 and 1451. His early life remains as historically obscure. It has never been proved that he attended a university, or that he ran away to sea, or that his father was a wool-comber, as is often alleged. Legend, myth and fiction crowd each other in the early pages of his life, making interesting reading but unreliable history.

There are more than 40 different portraits of Columbus, no two of which seem to depict the same individual, and none of which seems to have been painted during his lifetime. These portraits show many varied characteristics and range from a lace-collared dandy to a gaunt, stern-visaged individual who appears to be chiseled out of unyielding rock.

Death at Valladolid.

After the return from his fourth voyage Columbus seems to have been ill physically and mentally. Many authorities agree that he died on May 20, 1506, at Valladolid, Spain; but his death appears not to have been noted in the records of that city until 27 years later.

One version of the story of Columbus' final resting place has it that he was buried in Valladolid, his bones later being removed to Seville, thence to Santo Domingo and then to Havana.

During the Spanish-American war, when the Spaniards thought the Americans might capture the bones of America's discoverer, they went back to Seville.

You can take your choice of many stories concerning almost any phase of his life—or his death.

Perhaps the only thing which can be said with any degree of certainty is that Columbus was not an American.

TEST SLATED HERE FOR ARMY & NAVY COLLEGE PROGRAM

Details on Exams on Tuesday Available at Lincoln High School

The second qualifying test for the army specialized training program and the navy college program V-12 which will be given throughout the country on Tuesday, November 9, will be administered at the Lincoln school, W. G. Claffy, principal, announced today. A pamphlet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at the principal's office. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are recent high school graduates or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to Mr. Claffy in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both army and navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test each candidate will be given a choice of service preference, but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The army specialized training program and the navy college program enable students to continue academic training at government expense following induction into the armed services. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training, lead to a commission in the army or the navy.

Auxiliary Notes

O. Grinde, and again last Sunday by the Silverton church congregation.

Postmaster Urges First Class Mail for Holiday Greeting Cards in 1943

Because of the many advantages that result, Postmaster Andrew Anderson today urged the mailers to send their greetings at the first-class rate postage, explaining that when so sent the greeting may be sealed and contain written messages not otherwise permitted, therefore having a personal appeal which is, of course, more appreciated by the recipients; that such greetings are dispatched and delivered first, given directory service; and if necessary, returned without charge, provided the senders' return card is shown on the envelope.

On the other hand, printed Christmas greetings mailed in unsealed envelopes at the third-class rate which cannot be delivered as addressed, because of the removal of the addressee or for other reasons must often be destroyed as waste, thereby causing disappointment.

What So Proudly We Hail

Old Glory, with the flags of our Allies, England, Russia and China, waves proudly on many battle fronts these war-scarred days. It carries its message of hope and freedom to the humblest souls of the oppressed peoples in the conquered lands and definitely warns the aggressor that the day of reckoning is at hand. In the history of our nation the flag has had a notable series of traditions to endear it to the hearts of Americans. The battlefields of this war will add to its great glory. The bravery of America's fighting men recalls the words of Oliver Wendell Holmes: "One flag, one land, one heart, one hand, one Nation, evermore!"

No Coupon Rationing of Coal in Prospect by OPA

There will be no coupon rationing of coal during the coming winter, Chester Bowles, general manager of the OPA, has announced. The statement was made to clarify the coal situation in the northwest, where many persons normally using anthracite have been unable to obtain deliveries. With coupon rationing out of the picture, deliveries are being curtailed so as to spread supplies as evenly as possible.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD WITH PLENTY OF FORESIGHT

Mahnomen,—Five-year-old Geo. Paul demonstrated he has the vision to handle big business recently and isn't going to spend his life doing little jobs that can be handled by machinery. The small boy started hand bucking a little cordwood in his own yard but he quickly caught the buzz of a power-driven saw at a nearby neighbors. Without further ado young Geo. walked over to the power-driven saw informed the operator there was some wood to be sawed in his yard. The the utter amazement of the lad's father, next day he found the wood sawed.

Post-War Plans for Servicemen Studied on 25th Armistice Day

Telegraph keys clicked the magic words from coast to coast: "The Armistice has come! The war's over!" Probably the greatest outpouring of American emotion in history was unleashed. Big city streets were blackened with yelling celebrants. They paraded, danced, embraced, beat on wash basins, and shot off guns above a chorus of automobile horns as saloon keepers rolled out barrels of wine for the street mobs.

And in many dwellings quieted by the absence of a loved one, women thankfully murmured: "He's coming home."

Thus, America reacted to the end of World War I on November 11, 1918, and thus we probably will react to the end of World War II. Our debts to our nation's warriors no doubt will be felt keenly on this, the 25th anniversary of Armistice day, as they battle for the same principles their fathers fought for.

This annual day of remembrance, with its speeches and parades, helps the homefront worker to say "thanks" to the lads who advance through the mud and jungle of the Solomons, who crouch in dirt holes near enemy lines in Italy as shells from both sides burst about them, who are tossed into icy, oily sea water by enemy torpedoes; and who send Axis planes plummeting earthward despite howling, screeching enemy fighters, rattling anti-aircraft and glaring, sweeping searchlights.

Planning for the Future.

But America's appreciation for her warriors is not being shown merely by one day of celebration. Quietly working behind the scenes of this wartime drama, the national government, state governments, and patriotic societies have been planning peacetime jobs, education and security for all the Johnnies who will come marching home.

According to President Roosevelt: "Among many other things we are, today, laying plans for the return to civilian life of our gallant men and women in the armed services. They must not be demobilized into an environment of inflation and unemployment to a place on a bread line or on a corner selling apples. We must this time, have plans ready—instead of waiting to do a hasty, inefficient and ill-considered job at the last moment.

The Master Plan.

"I have assured our men in the armed forces that the American people would not let them down when the war is won.

". . . The least to which they are entitled, it seems to me, is something like this:

"1. Mustering-out pay to every member of the armed forces and merchant marine when he or she is honorably discharged, large enough in each case to cover a reasonable period of time between his discharge and the finding of a new job.

"2. In case no job is found after diligent search, then unemployment insurance if the individual registers with the United States employment service.

"3. An opportunity for members of the armed services to get further education or trade training at the cost of their government.

"4. Allowance of credit to all members of the armed forces under unemployment compensation and federal old age and survivors' insurance, for their period of service. For these purposes they should be treated as if they had continued their employment in private industry.

"5. Improved and liberalized provisions for hospitalization, rehabilitation, and medical care of disabled members of the armed forces and merchant marine.

"6. Sufficient pensions for disabled members of the armed forces."

Other Post-War Measures.

On the heels of this statement the National Resources Planning board released a 96-point demobilization and readjustment plan which included similar post-war benefits for service men and women.

Among the state governments, Oregon is reported to be planning college education and the financing of homes or farms for its returning World War II veterans.

Selective service boards are reported to be getting ready to reverse their present function after the war, and will become a job finding agency for men leaving the military forces.

Government benefits, however, are only part of the opportunities greeting American fighters when their heroism and sacrifices have brought victory and peace. Thousands of new and fascinating jobs may be expected to accompany industry's swing to peace-time production. Some new and startling scientific advances have been put aside temporarily during the war. Other innovations have been discovered during wartime, necessarily for speed and durability. They include the fields of television, aviation, plastics, farm chemurgy, the automotive industry and many others.

Next Thursday will be the 25th anniversary of the Armistice that ended the last war, and in many respects conditions in Germany today are worse than they were on November 4th of 1918. Today many German cities lie in ruins whereas the Germany of 1918 had not experienced enemy bombing or gun fire. On November 4th, 1918, as today, German armies were falling back under enemy pressure, and then, as now, there were evidences of a breaking down of morale. In 1918 Germany had knocked Russia out of the war and had only the western front to defend. Today German armies are being thrown back on hundreds of miles of fighting fronts with thousands of other miles along which an attack may be expected at any time. The armistice of 1918 came as a surprise. The crack-up, when it comes this time, will not be surprising.

There seems to be general satisfaction with the results of the Moscow conference and now that the three great powers have reached an agreement on the conduct of the war and the general procedure to be followed when the war ends, we can set aside our worries about a lot of things. There is good reason to believe that the terms of the Moscow agreement were arrived at in good faith. Fortunately there are no conflicting interests of importance to keep these three great powers from working together in harmony. Russia probably wants, and certainly deserves, a few concessions, including outlets to the sea. Britain and the United States will be satisfied with a maintaining of the status quo, seeking only the establishment of a lasting peace. Recognition of China as an equal by these powers should make it possible to establish order in Asia. Upon this Big Four rests the responsibility of stamping out lawlessness in the world, restoring independence to smaller nations and inaugurating a plan of world-wide regulation that will provide an effective method of settling international differences. It is a big order but at least we are moving in the right direction.

One of these days our youngsters are going to be tempted to cross the river on a coat of thin ice. This is a proper subject for a fireside chat in every home that houses a normal boy.

In spite of the fact that we had a backward growing season there is much ripe corn in the country this year and Dave Gustafson's corn show promises to be an interesting affair. The program should be instructive too, and well worth the time of those who seek more information on the progress being made in development of varieties of corn that are suited to our needs and to our growing season.

John L. Lewis has won another skirmish with the President and as a result, tempted by the fruits of the forrest, we have penetrated deeper into the jungle of inflation.

To both William Douville and Harry Kinghorn our congratulations on the election results—to Mr. Douville as the winner and to Mr. Kinghorn for having been relieved of a thankless and profitless responsibility . It's more pleasant to win than to lose of course, and there is small consolation in the thought that your losing is the result of the overconfidence of your friends, and that, undoubtedly, is Mr. Kinghorn's position. But to the winner, whose troubles lie ahead of him, our best wishes for a successful administration, and to the loser, whose troubles lie behind him, our thanks in behalf of the city for many years of excellent community service.

We were encouraged this week by the information that the War Department's report on the Red Lake River development project had been submitted to Congress but we were later discouraged when we were informed that the project had been rejected by Secretary of War Stimson. His objections were based on temporary considerations however. He pointed out that the project involved manpower, equipment and materials that could not be spared now. Later on there will be an abundance of these at present scarce commodities and so there is reason to be hopeful. According to Associated Press reports on the plans, the work would involve an initial expenditure of a million dollars. The annual maintenance cost was estimated at $44,010.00. Benefits were estimated at $60,700 annually. Other details of the report should be made available in the near future.

It isn't only an Armistice that November 11th is the anniversary of. In our state it is also the anniversary of a storm that took a toll of many lives and the approach of this date suggests that we are getting into the season of the year when rough weather can be expected. Winter has no special hazzard for those who are prepared for it. It is well to be prepared, however.

A round of cheers to the Lions Club and to the members of the city recreation board for another swell Hallowe'en party, the fourth successive year for this community venture. The kids had a good time and acts of vandalism were negligible. Apparently the plan sponsored by the Lions is the right answer to the problems of this witches' holiday.

FREEDOM FROM WANT

(New Ulm Journal)

The reason why the people in the temperate zones have always progressed faster and farther than the people in the torrid zones is because they never enjoyed "freedom from want."

Down along the equator life is very easy. You can get your food from a tree and you can build a shelter which is fairly comfortable all year around. You do not need much clothing and the fight against the elements is not very difficult. As a result civilization down along the easy, lazy equator has never advanced far. Why should anyone work when the "freedom from want" is so thoroughly assured.

The line of civilization and development has always marched far north or south of the equator. Here men have had to fight the elements . . . the cold of winter as well as the heat of summer. They have had to wring their living from the soil and fight the resistance of nature. In this struggle they have grown strong, built cities and farms and developed our civilization to where it is today. It is doubtful whether they would have done this had there been "freedom from want" because man is naturally lazy. Growth and development have come individually to men because they had the whip of necessity at their backs and the desire to improve themselves as they went along. Only the natives along the equator have had this "freedom from want" and where have they ever developed a country of homes, or a nation of painters, writers, inventors, leaders, business men or manufacturers?

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

In travelling over the Highway between Red Lake Falls and Thief River Falls as often as I have done this fall, I can truly agree with Henry Iverson's Public Opinion of October 28 issue. It reminds me of the story about the man and his Model T. He took his hands off the steering wheel to put his hat on. In doing so he went in the ditch, because he took the wrong steering wheel after he had put his hat on. That could have happened on these roads maybe. The condition they are in now makes fine tire savers.

Egg yolks with richer shades of yellow are due to increasing the amount of yellow corn and green feed eaten by the chickens. Too much green feed tends to give the yolk a brown or green "off tint."

No Limit to Growth
Among cold-blooded animals there seems to be no limit to growth. There is no such thing as a full-grown rattlesnake, or a full-grown trout, or a full-grown oyster. Fish continue to grow as long as they live, or at least as long as they continue to obtain food in a quantity greater than the amount needed to maintain the body in a normal state of upkeep and repair.

United States Supplied Tobacco.
One shortage, which the United States may have to make up, is in tobacco. Australia's homegrown output is not enough for its needs. Before the war, the United States supplied most Australian smokers, shipping some 20 million pounds a year, in addition to more than 20 million cigarettes.

Do you want to see that baby of yours with tears streaming down his face loaded into a transport to be sent he knows not where? To fight for he knows not what—in 18 or 20 years from now? The Motherhood of the World can and must change the world. Are we too slaves, that without a word of protest, we see our sons and daughters sacrificed on the altar of Satan? MUSKRAT SEASON WILL BE OPENED DURING DECEMBER

Regulations Announced for Trapping Season by Department

Muskrats may be taken only by trapping during the period beginning at 12 o'clock noon on December 1 and ending at 12 o'clock noon on December 31, 1943, in all portion of Minnesota except upon state refuges, according to an order issued today by Chester S. Wilson, Commissioner of Conservation.

The state-wide season on muskrats, is, however, subject to the following restrictions:

No person shall set or use more than 50 traps for muskrats at any one time.

No person shall set, visit, or remove any trap for muskrats between the hours of 9 P. M. and 7 A. M., war time.

No trap shall be set for muskrats within 50 feet of an active beaver house, burrow, den, dam or other abiding place of such beaver.

No opening shall be made in any muskrat house for the purpose of inserting or removing traps, unless the same shall be sealed by replacing all material removed and setting it down.

It is further ordered that no muskrats may be taken at any time prior to November 1st, 1944, except as above provided, nor in any manner in violation of the above-stated provisions and restrictions.

Officials of the Division of Game and Fish revealed that it is probable that the Talbot Lake and Thief Lake public hunting grounds will be open to muskrat trapping. They point out that this year's regulations have been simplified so that it will be easier for both law enforcement agents and trappers to operate. Reports indicate that muskrats are abundant throughout the state except in the northeastern portion. They are particularly numerous in the southeastern section of Minnesota, and a good harvest is predicted.

Governor Reports Rise in Production on Farms

Though beset by shortages of help and machinery, with less favorable growing conditions than last year, Minnesota farmers have harvested greater areas during 1943 than 1942 and increased production of many vital food items, Governor Edward J. Thye said in a speech this past week, paying tribute to contributors of Minnesota citizens to the war effort. Minnesota farms produced more than 235,000,000 bushels of corn in 1943, or 25,000,000 more than last year, the Governor said. The total pig crop should run well over 8,000,000 pigs a substantial gain over last year's 7,500,000. Egg production for 1943 is up 20 per cent, compared with last year, he added; dry bean production, up 100 per cent, and potato production, 5,000,000 bushels higher. In other lines, he said, Minnesota will come close to equalling last year's record production.

Lincoln High Football Team Winds Up Season Friday Night

Barging Toward Japanese Shipping

The eventual destination of this ammunition is the interior of Japanese ships where it will be thrown by Allied guns. This barge is loaded with projectiles of both armor piercing and bombardment variety. The cases hold ammunition for anti-aircraft guns. Steadily increasing Allied pressure is pushing the Japs back home.

Crookston Eleven Wins Bruising Game Friday

The Crookston Pirates, capitalizing on a couple of breaks—recovering a fumble on the Prowler 21-yard line, and receiving the benefit of an offside penalty that nullified a Prowler pass interception—defeated the locals, 13 to 6, in a bruising game played here Friday night.

Coach Hanna's team, although they outpointed the Pirates in yardage gained and in first downs flashed a consistent offense only twice during the encounter. After Crookston had received the opening kickoff and gained only three yards in three running plays, the Prowlers, on a punt, took possession of the ball on their 46-yard line. On a fake pass, Roy Rupprecht circled left end to the Crookston 35-yard line; Billy McKechnie shot off right tackle to the 18-yard line; Herb Claffy and Rupprecht picked up a couple of yards, and then Claffy side-stepped through tackle for a first down on the Pirates' 7-yard line. But the drive was halted when McKechnie lost a yard at right tackle, Claffy gained only 3 yards on a sneak through center, Rupprecht failed to gain, and Claffy on a fourth down, fumbled. Don Youngquist punted out to the Crookston 45-yard line.

Midway in the second period Crookston marked up their first score when, after a Toddie Johnson punt had given the Prowlers the ball on their 21-yard line, Howie Casmey recovered a Thief River fumble. Don Youngquist, on a lateral from Dave Wilson, turned right end for an 11-yard gain; Bill Reynolds was stopped on a try at left tackle; Wilson, on a cutback, gained 6 yards; and Reynolds then punched over left tackle for the touchdown. Youngquist circled right end for the extra point. The Prowlers at this point were handicapped by the loss of Herb Claffy, who aggravated a back injury and was forced from the game.

The Prowlers, led by Larry Rullen, opened the second half with a three-first-down spurt, carrying the ball to the Pirates 24-yard line. A quick kick, by Youngquist, from the Crookston 30-yard line, was downed on the Prowler 5-yard line, and McKechnie's kick out was taken by the Pirates on the Thief River 40-yard line. A pass, Wilson to Youngquist, was good for a first down on the 24-yard line; Youngquist picked up 2 yards at right end; Wilson failed to gain; Bill McKechnie intercepted a Pirate pass and raced to midfield, but the play was void and the Prowlers were penalized 5 yards for offside play; a Wilson to Sellberg pass was complete on the 5-yard line; and another pass, by the same players, connected for a touchdown.

The Prowlers, with Claffy back in the line-up, chalked up their lone touchdown in the final period. Holding for downs, the locals received the ball on their 18-yard line. Rullen knifed thru center and sprinted to the 40-yard line; Claffy scampered around right end for 9 yards, and then added 16 yards and a first down on a try at right tackle; Les Vigness went around left end to the Crookston 18-yard line; Rullen added 4 yards at left tackle; and after Claffy had been held for no gain, Rullen made it first down on the 5-yard line; Vigness then swept left end for the touchdown. The try for point, a line plunge, failed.

Their Last Bow

Eight members of the Prowler football squad—Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Bill McKechnie, Roy Rupprecht, Cal Ripley, Ray Offerdahl, Don Fretland, and Bob Mattson—made their final appearance in blue-and-gold football togs Friday night. It perhaps would have been nice if these Prowlers could have made their last bow a victory, and a study of the game's statistics reveals that coach Glenn Hanna's boys were at least entitled to a tie. The Prowlers, even with Claffy out of the lineup during most of the game, racked up 13 first downs, gained 229 yards by rushing, and 26 yards by passing, for a total of 255 yards. They lost 18 yards from scrimmage, giving the locals a net yardage of 237. The Crookston Pirates were credited with 11 first downs, rushed the ball for 131 yards, and gained 107 yards by passing. The Pirate backs were thrown for losses totaling 42 yards, giving Crookston a net total of 196 yards. There's not much satisfaction in facts and figures after a game has been lost, but they show that the Prowlers, against a team that averaged 175 pounds in the line and 162 pounds in the backfield, played even-stephen football.

Could Have Been Different

And there's not much doubt but that the outcome of the game would have been reversed if Herb Claffy and Ninak Carlson had been able to continue in the game. Herb had received a back injury during Wednesday's practice, and the Pirates aggravated that injury Friday night. Heat treatments during the half-time intermission eased the pain somewhat and Herby returned to the game in the final minutes to spark the Prowlers to their one touchdown. Ninak received a blow on the left elbow that paralyzed the arm and it was thought for a while that he had suffered a chipped elbow. Examination after the game revealed that the injury was more painful than serious.

But in spite of Friday night's loss, the graduating Prowlers can look back on this season with considerable pleasure, especially when they recall the 39 to 0 defeat of East Grand Forks and the surprising 27 to 0 conquest of Bemidji. And of this group of departing Prowlers the fans will agree, I think, that captain Norm Furuseth and tackle Tony Dorn belong with the all-time Prowler football greats.

Birthday Presents

It's pretty convenient for a high school coach to have a birthday fall on the day his team is playing an important game. Crookston coach Herschel Lysaker had a birthday on Friday and his Pirates were hopped up more than usual in their efforts to give him a birthday-present win. And another coach that benefited by a birthday was H. E. "Hans" Hanson, East Grand Forks mentor. His team had lost five games in a row, and by decisive scores, but last Friday, against Grand Forks Central, the Little Green Wave scored a 6 to 0 triumph, and that was a birthday present, too.

Goose Limit

George Mostue hit the goose jackpot last Friday morning. Doing some early-morning hunting along the Red Lake river, George bagged two geese, the day's limit. One of the geese weighed 10½ pounds and the other tipped the scales at 9½ pounds. And George admits that his first shot, which was aimed at the biggest goose in the fifteen-bird flock, was a miss.

League Bowling

The City and Business bowling leagues began their season's schedules last week, and it appears that some fine competition is shaping up for the winter months. The City league, especially, should create some first-rate bowling, with the Thief River Phamacy and Oen's teams being installed as the title favorites. The Pharmacy has come up with a powerhouse quint, having Cal Colvin, Dr. Homer Hedemark, Frank Kobliska, Ed and Wally Carlson in its lineup. The Oen's though, are capable of pushing the Pharmacy, for they have Karl Kollitz, Gordy Reierson, George Mostue, Clair Loretz, and Wally DuChamp on their roster.

Denies Rumor of Further Cut in Gas Coupon Value

Denying rumors of impending cuts in the value of gasoline coupons, Harold W. Bangert, district OPA director, pointed out that the gasoline quotas announced last month by PAW apply for the balance of the year. "Reports that at midnight or soon the value of some or all coupons will be cut are unfounded", Mr. Bangert said. "The quotas have been set and will not be reduced. There will not be a cut in coupon value of gasoline ration".

J. BRANDT ATTACKS GOVERNMENT PLAN TO GIVE SUBSIDIES

President of Land O'Lakes Says Dairy Farmers Do Not Benefit

"The farmer today is being blamed for an onrushing inflation in America. Later on he will be blamed for receiving gratuities from the government in the form of subsidies.

"At the same time," John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., told the annual meeting of Land O'Lakes District No. 40 in Harvey, North Dakota, this week, "the farmer is neither receiving high earnings nor benefiting from the subsidies."

Food subsidies, Brandt pointed out, are consumer subsidies, advanced by the government as measures to hold down the cost of living and reduce inflation.

"But instead of combating inflation," he said, "these unwanted subsidies only make the situation worse, increasing the tempo of the inflationary spiral as they bring new borrowings by the government.

"They are also ineffective in reducing the cost of living," Brandt continued. "The subsidy on butter means little. With a 16 point value placed on butter under the rationing system it is virtually impossible to effect any noticeable saving in living costs, particularly if we adhere to the rationing rules and buy only that amount of butter we can afford at 16 points. This is also true with meat, cheese and other items. You can't save on something you can't buy. Probably many of those who are buying these articles in sufficient quantities to effect any savings are paying black market prices. This is even more inflationary.

"The whole subsidy-rollback program just does not make sense when one considers the fact that even if it were put into effect to the fullest the average pay envelope would not be affected to any great degree."

In estimating the possible effect of savings in the cost of living due to subsidy payments, Brandt declared that if the farmer gave his products away the cost of living would be affected less than 20 per cent.

Brandt pointed out that dairying, which represents about one-fifth of the nation's agricultural income, faces serious consequences now and in the future as a result of bad planning and unfair price regulations. He said that as a result dairying will continue to suffer in the post-war period.

Restrictions on Girdle Elastic Are Removed by War Production Board

All restrictions on the use of elastic fabric in girdles, corsets, combinations, sanitary belts, garter belts, and brassieres have been lifted by the War Production Board, according to northwest officials.

Following closely on the recent WPB action permitting manufacture of elastic thread and fabric from synthetic rubber, the move simply completes the pattern for production of elastic-type garments made possible by the increasing supplies of synthetic. The only restriction still in effect limits quarterly output of corsets, combinations and girdles to 75 per cent of 1941 first quarter production.

Officials cautioned against any undue optimism as to the quantities of elastic-type garments to be made immediately available to consumers, however. Considerable experimentation and testing remains to be done before large-scale output of elastic-type garments can be attained, they said. At best, it was felt, no all-rubber garments will be on the market until the early part of 1944. And it will be some time after that before full-scale production will be possible.

SMALL SCHOOL BOY COLLECTS BOUNTY

Middle River.—Annoyed with a sly fox who hovered about the community, ten-year-old Kenneth Hagstrom vowed he'd do something about it if the fellow would only come around when he was home from school. Patience and a short wait gave the young man an opportunity to use his .22 caliber one Saturday morning not long ago. Not only did he have the satisfaction of shooting the fox but he is $4.00 richer as that is the amount of bounty on a fox which he received from the county auditor.

OPA Supplies Index on Fuel Oil Consumption for the Winter Season

Fuel oil users will be able to tell whether they are properly budgeting their ration to last through the winter.

As of October 25, fuel oil users in this area should have used not more than 3 per cent of their total yearly fuel oil ration.

OPA, in cooperation with the United States Weather Bureau and the fuel oil industry, has worked out a formula based on the weather prevailing in each area, and on the proportion of the heating year which has elapsed.

The percentage reported is the maximum amount of the heating ration which should have been burned, actual consumption should be a good deal less. If the ration is being consumed at this maximum rate (3 per cent by October 25), no reserve supply will be available to meet possible spells of unusual cold weather.

Time-Tested Advice About Chest Colds!

Grandma Was Right
Time Has Proved It

Today, the first choice and family standby for relieving miseries of colds in millions of homes is the same home-remedy grandma used . . . Vicks VapoRub! What better recommendation could a product have!

When you rub time-tested VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work 2 ways at once —and keeps on working for hours to relieve coughing spasms and congestion in the cold-clogged upper breathing passages, to ease muscular soreness or tightness. STATE HIGHWAY PERSONNEL CUT IN PAST MONTHS

415 Employes Now in Service and Many Others Take Defense Jobs

The demands of war dug deeply into the personnel of the Minnesota department of highways, according to figures released by Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann. Since the declaration of the national emergency May 27, 1941, the department has furnished 415 men and women to the nation's military forces.

Nearly 1,200 others have either resigned or been granted leave of absence to accept more essential or more remunerative work in connection with defense construction, munition plants, and various other essential industries, in many cases replacing persons who have joined the military forces.

During the first nine months of 1943, the average number of employes in the department was 2,763, compared to 3,443 in the same months in 1942, 3,039 in 1941, 3,745 in 1940, 3,578 in 1939 and 5,677 in 1938. The decrease in personnel has been most noticeable in the months of June to September, when construction in normal years is heaviest. This year the average number of employes in these months was 2,945, compared to 3,807 in 1942, 4,567 in 1941, 4,452 in 1940, 4,081 in 1939, and 7,211 in 1938.

LAND O'LAKES NEWS

WHY ISN'T THERE ENOUGH BUTTER?

THAT WAS THE HEADING of a page ad run by Land O'Lakes recently in Washington and other Eastern Markets, and called to the attention of our national representatives and Senators.

THE REASONS, as outlined by the ad, included the following: (1) production decreases due to official lack of understanding, rather than poor farm management; (2) Government storage holdings; (3) increased buying power in America; (4) unequal distribution because butter is not rationed separately . . . like sugar; and (5) lack of price or rationing control on fluid cream used in making butter.

THOUSANDS of grocers, other milk and butter companies, and national figures have praised Land O'Lakes for its efforts—as typified by this ad—in explaining the butter shortage to the public and advocating the logical methods that the Government should take to help the situation.

THIS LEADERSHIP, not only for the good of the Northwest dairy farmers, but for the entire industry, is but another reason why YOU should investigate the many advantages of a marketing membership in Land O'Lakes.

U. S. Seizes 30 Tons of Scrap on Minnesota Farm

Courtesy St. Paul Dispatch.

Fairmont, Minn.—Thirty tons of useless iron and steel implements rusting away on the farm of Elmer Celander near here were seized by the federal government in an unusual proceeding necessitated by the urgent need for scrap metals for the war effort.

Included in the pile on the Celander farm were three obsolete steel dump carts not being used, parts for tractors, threshing rigs and other farm machinery, steam engines, boilers and loose scrap such as broken pieces of iron and steel.

The seizure order resulted from Mr. Celander's refusal to turn the scrap into the "Victory Scrap Bank" drive now under way, although other farmers throughout the northwest were volunteering their scrap for the drive. Some even donated it in the name of church, charitable or other organizations. Celander continued to refuse even when WPB officials from Minneapolis sought to convince him of the urgent need for scrap iron and steel to make the materials needed for winning the war.

When a deputy United States marshal had served the requisition papers necessary for the seizure, Mr. Celander was told he will be paid for the scrap on the basis of a total value of $325. From this will be deducted expenses incurred in taking it off the farm. H. D. Fitz, Martin county salvage chairman, said the seizure was "a tribute to the farmers who have put their scrap into the war effort voluntarily, the salvage committees that have worked hard to bring the scrap picture before the people and the soldiers on foreign battle fronts who need equipment badly."

LET US HONOR THE LIVING

NOV 11 – DEC 11
Cut-a-Cord
for every local boy in service
US

NEWSPAPER PULPWOOD COMMITTEE

NEXT THURSDAY is Armistice Day. In other years that day has been dedicated to the memory of the men who gave their lives in World War I. But this year we believe those honored dead would rather join with us, the living, in paying honor to the men of another generation who have taken up the weapons that fell from their lifeless hands.

This year we in this community are asked to observe Armistice Day not with words but with deeds. This year we have a special responsibility.

This Armistice Day marks the beginning of a new drive to make up the shortage in pulpwood. Everyone who can possibly do so is asked to cut an extra cord in honor of some friend or relative in the service.

There are two good reasons for putting the drive on this basis.

First, it takes nearly a ton of pulpwood to supply each man in the service with the many things he needs.

Second, the present pulpwood shortage, 2 1/2 million cords, is just about equal to the number of service men who come from the pulpwood-producing areas.

So if every one of us in this and other pulpwood-cutting communities cuts an extra cord for our service man, the emergency will be met. No fighting man will lack any of the thousand-and-one war essentials that are made from pulpwood.

No boy shall die because we failed.

JAMS, PRESERVES AND JELLIES NOW UNDER RATIONING

Creamery Butter Continues to Cost 16 Points, Says OPA Agency

The sale of jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters to consumers, which has been frozen since October 23, was resumed Sunday, October 31, at the point values listed on the new official table of point values for processed foods issued by the Office of Price Administration.

The November ration cost of creamery butter will stay at 16 points a pound, while other butter, margarine, and cream cheese will rise two points.

Beef is the sole meat category in which no point reductions are made. It is expected to show a further production decline of 5 per cent this month and military purchases will continue to be heavy.

The new November chart also lists twelve point changes in canned and bottled fruits, vegetables, and juices, nine up and three down. Other changes include the elimination from rationing of pickled, spiced and brandied fruits.

The point values which have been set for jams, jellies, preserves and fruit butters are intended to move a proportionate share during November of the total available stocks of this group. If they move too fast, point values can be raised for December, and if their sale is slow a downward point adjustment would be in order.

The decision to change the point value of any commodity is governed by two factors—the supply available for civilians and its actual movement during the past few months. The supply picture varies with the production and the amount set aside for the government's military and Lend-Lease requirements.

Beauty Operators Meet in Minneapolis Nov. 7-8

More than 1,500 hairdressers and beauty experts from all parts of Minnesota are expected to attend the annual convention of the State Hairdressers and Cosmetologists' association in Hotel Radisson, Minneapolis, November 7 and 8.

Nationally known leaders in beauty care, who will address the meeting, include Edna L. Emme, president of the National Beauty organization, C. W. Godefroy, past-president, both of St. Louis, and Ernest Baberle of Chicago, originator of hair styling methods.

A campaign will be proposed to bring hundreds of former operators, who have retired from the field through marriage, back to the industry. Ways and means of establishing reciprocity between states so that qualified operators may migrate to different states during war time, will be proposed.

Paint to Protect Cement

Although decoration is generally the motivating reason for painting a house, the prevention of moisture absorption by porous surfaces such as brick, stucco and other cement mix materials is equally important. Frequent saturation is conducive to surface dusting and unsightly stains. Upon freezing the moisture expansion may result in serious crumbling. Correctly formulated paint will seal the surface and thus eliminate the cause for disintegration and staining.

Thank You

BOYS and GIRLS

—OF—

Thief River Falls

You've made a real contribution to the war effort. You helped us out when there was no other help available.

YOU HAVE PICKED 72,914 BU. OF POTATOES AND HAVE EARNED $5,633.12 FOR YOURSELVES

WHICH YOU HAVE TAKEN BACK TO THIEF RIVER FALLS

If it hadn't been for your help the potatoes might still have been in the ground. Hungry people somewhere will appreciate what you have done.

WE ALSO WANT TO THANK

the Thief River Falls school board, Mr. Fjelsted, Mr. Claffy and Miss Havel, school executives, who spent many extra hours to make this project possible, the Civic & Commerce Association, the bus drivers, and Mr. Palmer, the county agent, and Mr. Olson of the U. S. Employment office for helping to organize the project.

We know that this project could not have been carried out without the marvelous co-operation we received from the people of Thief River Falls, and especially the parents. We farmers were told last spring to increase our acreage. We wondered where the help would come from. We were told that when the time arrived potato picking help would come from somewhere, and you furnished that help. We say Thanks again. It's cooperation like this that will win the war.

WE HOPE YOU WILL COME BACK NEXT YEAR

Have a "Coke" = Good winds have blown you here

... a way to say "We are friends" to the Chinese

In far-off places, when Coca-Cola is on hand, you find it cementing friendships for our fighting men. China knew Coca-Cola from Tientsin to Shanghai, from Hong Kong to Tsingtao. To Chinese and Yank alike, Have a "Coke" are welcome words. They belong with friendliness and freedom. From Atlanta to the Seven Seas, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of good will among the friendly-minded.

Johnny Is Lost!

An item which appears all too frequently in our newspapers is the one which reads: "Johnny Black, aged three, wandered off today and was lost for many hours. When found he was two miles from home. Neighbors and police helped the frantic parents in their search."

Such an occurrence leaves few adults unmoved. It fills most parents who read it with sympathy for the distressed mother and father, and also with a feeling of relief and gratitude if they never had a similar experience.

Even though the greatest vigilance were exercised, it probably would be impossible to prevent a youngster from occasionally straying away and becoming lost. A policeman tells how, when the weather turned warm and sunny last spring, nearly every day he was directed to look for one or two lost children in the area he was serving. A child is playing in the sandbox, or in the yard, and mother hurries to answer the telephone, or to tend to something in the oven; or perhaps a neighbor stops to pass the time of the day. The child temporarily with no one to restrain him, leaves the yard and goes farther and farther afield. Finally he is confused by the strange houses and people he has never seen before. He keeps going, probably trying to go home, but in a wrong direction. By the time he is found, he a is tired and frightened little fellow.

If it is impossible to prevent children's getting lost now and then, the next best thing to do is to make sure the lost youngster will be returned home as quickly as possible when picked up.

First, all children should be taught their full name and address as early as possible. It is tragic for a child to be able only to say "Johnny" or "Mary," when the last name, which can be easily learned by children, gives such a quick method of identification.

Second, every child should wear some form of identification, such as his name and phone number or address on a tag around his neck, or on an identification bracelet. Even though a child who is old enough to talk, may know his name and address well, he may be afraid to talk to strangers, or be so frightened that he can't talk. Many hours of heartache would be prevented if all children wore identification tags.

WARNINGS TO FATHERS WHO HUNT PHEASANTS

Albert Lea.—What happened to Manford Reim a couple days before opening of pheasant season could happen to any man with an ambitious young son. It seems for some time Dad Reim had been pretty satisfied with his foresight in having a couple boxes of shells ready for the big event. But on the night before opening he came into the house to find his young son on the floor in the midst of piles of powder, shot and split open shells. To his shout, "What on earth are you doing?" the son looked up and replied: "Making BB's to sell."

SOO ENGINEER AND FIREMAN KILLED IN N. D. ACCIDENT

Harold Fyffe, One of Victims, Former Resident of This City

The engineer and fireman of a Soo Line passenger train lost their lives late last Thursday afternoon when the engine and baggage car of a westbound local were derailed at Venlo, N. D., 15 miles southeast of Enderlin.

Killed were Jack H. Carlson, Enderlin, the engineer, and Harold T. Fyffe of Minneapolis, formerly of Thief River Falls, the fireman. They died instantly when pinned under the coal tender as it left the track and rolled into the ditch.

Witnesses said the train, traveling at full speed, apparently hit a ridge of dirt on a track crossing near the station. The engine jumped in the air and fell to the side of the track, with the tender piled on top. A combined baggage and mail car was tipped crossways of the track and a passenger coach was derailed but not tipped.

Mr. Fyffe, with the Soo Line since 1920, was born in Farmersville, Illinois, July 17, 1899, and was a veteran of World Wars I and II. He served in the first World War from May 17, 1917, until January 20, 1919, and in the current war from August 12, 1942, until receiving his discharge April 9, 1943.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The sewing room of the Red Cross opened last Friday afternoon and will be open every Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 P. M. until the work has been completed. Mrs. Lars Hylden, Chairman reported that only two ladies came to take sewing home with them.

One of the reasons the surgical dressing room was closed on Fridays was to give the volunteer workers a chance to spend an afternoon in the sewing room. This work is not hard; it is cutting out and sewing of hospital such as covers for hot water bottles, hospital shirts etc—Mrs. Hylden with Mrs. Booren assisting has asked that any one offering to help cut out the patterns should please bring along her scissors.

Miss Millicent Johnson, home nursing consultant, from the St. Louis office was in town last Thursday consulting with Mrs. O. G. Lynde, home nursing chairman, on the possibility of getting registered nurses from this community to help teach home nursing classes. She was pleased with the number who obtained home nursing certificates last year and hoped that we may reach our quota this year. There have been a number that have notified Mrs. Lynde of their wanting to enroll and if there will be sufficient number enrolled, a class can be taught both in the afternoons and evenings. Please call Mrs. Lynde of your intentions of joining up.

We are never too crowed with helpers in the surgical dressing room. There are 25,000 dressings to be made and since this is the last quota to be received this year, we are anxious to have the work completed before the Christmas holidays. Won't you do your part?

ANNOUNCE RULES USED IN PAYMENT OF FOX BOUNTIES

County Auditor Senstad Explains Procedure to be Followed

To clarify regulations relating to the collection of fox bounties in Pennington county, Auditor A. M. Senstad today explained the procedure to be followed.

He stated that the person killing a fox should first present his application with the carcass to his town clerk for verification before going to the game warden, who will affix an official seal to the carcass.

The application may then be presented at the office of the county auditor for payment of the bounty on the basis of $4 for an adult fox or $2 for a cub.

Children's Non-leather Shoes Soon Available Without Ration Stamps

A new supply of children's non-leather shoes for general wear will be available ration-free about the first of the year, providing some relief to the shortage of youngster's shoes, the OPA has announced.

OPA is limiting ration-free sales to small sizes to encourage production in the pre-school and early school age ranges where the most serious shortage is now being felt.

The shoes will have canvas uppers, with soles made principally of heavy woven fabric, reinforced with vulcanized rubber. The shoes will be suitable for general wear.

DR. MECKLENBURG PRESENTS MOVIES HERE ON TUESDAY

World Traveler Entertains Large Audience in the Auditorium

An audience that filled the main floor of the Auditorium Tuesday night witnessed the showing of colored motion pictures of scenes in Europe, accompanied by explanatory comments by Dr. George Mecklenburg, pastor of Wesley Temple in Minneapolis.

The speaker, whose appearance was sponsored by the men of the Community church, was introduced by Rev. S. S. Olafson, pastor, following the invocation by Rev. G. S. Thompson.

Dr. Mecklenburg showed pictures taken by him in 1939, just before the outbreak of the war, in the course of a tour of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Hungary, Russia, Rumania and the Holy Land.

The date of his appearance here was advanced one day to Tuesday owing to the fact that his presence was required in Minneapolis Wednesday.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Food for the Adolescent

Adolescent boys and girls gain in height and weight very rapidly. Some gain as much as six inches in height and twenty-five pounds in weight in a single year. At the same time they are extremely active. Because of the food needed to maintain this growth and energy, this age has been appropriately described by New Englanders as having a "hollow leg."

If plenty of food is available, adolescent boys, who seem to be "always hungry," are likely to eat all they need. Girls, however, who are more likely to have finicky appetites, sometimes crave sweets, pickles and highly seasoned foods, while at other times they have little appetite. Research has shown that where a well-balanced diet is supplied, adolescents have much less tendency to choose peculiar food combinations.

The chief concern for parents of adolescents is to see that enough food is eaten to meet the greatly increased energy needs. The boy may be growing so fast that he actually needs more than his father. The girl may need more food than her mother. Both boys and girls will not get enough food to meet their needs, unless foods that are high sources of energy, such as those containing starch, sugar, or fats, are eaten in generous amounts. Butter, cheese, cream, bacon, cookies, peanut butter, jelly and jam, baked beans, macaroni and cheese, ice-cream and rice puddings are high in energy.

Children may eat these foods without restriction, provided that they are eaten in addition to and not in place of the essential foods such as milk, eggs, vegetables, fruit, potatoes, meat and whole-grain or enriched bread or cereals. These must be eaten to supply minerals, proteins and vitamins in adequate amounts.

Besides three regular meals a day, additional food such as an afterschool lunch is likely to be needed. If the after-school lunch is followed by outdoor activity and the appetite for the evening meal is not diminished, parents may be sure that the additional food is beneficial.

Federal Agency Urges Christmas Lighting be Limited to Home Trees

Limiting of Christmas lighting to Christmas tree decorations this year was urged today by the office of war utilities as a means of conserving critical fuels and materials from which electricity is produced.

OWU officials said that electric light bulbs are short at present and strict conservation is necessary. Widespread consumption of bulbs during the holiday season will mean a greater scarcity later on.

They also said that normal consumption of electricity is at its peak during the Christmas season, and that avoidance of additional loads, such as street lighting, exterior home decorations and special lighting of commercial institutions, will mean savings in fuel, manpower, transportation and fuels.

Woman Pilot

By Cornelia Fort

(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with Woman's Home Companion.)

(Here is one of the most remarkable articles ever published—a personal story by the first woman pilot to die on war duty in American history. Shortly after it was written, Miss Fort, 24, of Nashville, Tenn., was killed when the bomber she was piloting crashed in Texas.)

I knew I was going to join the Woman's Auxiliary Ferrying squadron before the organization was a reality, before it had a name, before it was anything but a radical idea in the minds of a few men who believed that women could fly airplanes. But I never knew it so surely as I did in Honolulu on December 7, 1941.

At dawn that morning I drove from Waikiki to the John Rodgers civilian airport right next to Pearl Harbor, where I was a civilian pilot instructor. Shortly after 6:30 I began landing and take-off practice with my regular student.

Coming in just before the last landing, I looked casually around and saw a military plane coming directly toward me. I jerked the controls away from my student and jammed the throttle wide open to pull above the oncoming plane. He passed so close under us that our celluloid windows rattled violently and I looked down to see what kind of plane it was.

The painted red balls on the tops of the wings shone brightly in the sun. I looked again with complete and utter disbelief. Honolulu was familiar with the emblem of the Rising Sun on passenger ships, but not on airplanes.

I looked quickly at Pearl Harbor and my spine tingled when I saw billowing black smoke. Still I thought hollowly it might be some kind of coincidence or maneuvers. It might be, it must be. For sure, dear God!

Then I looked way up and saw the formations of silver bombers riding in. Something detached itself from an airplane and came glistening down. My eyes followed it down, down, and even with the knowledge pounding in my mind, my heart turned convulsively when the bomb exploded in the middle of the harbor.

I knew the air was not the place for my little baby airplane and I set about landing as quickly as ever I could. A few seconds later a shadow passed over me and simultaneously bullets spattered all around me.

Suddenly that little wedge of sky above Hickam Field and Pearl Harbor was the busiest, fullest piece of sky I ever saw.

We counted anxiously as our little civilian planes came flying home to roost. Two never came back. They were washed ashore weeks later on the windward side of the island, bullet-riddled. Not a pretty way for the brave little yellow Cubs and their pilots to go down to death.

When I returned, the only way I could fly at all was to instruct Civilian Pilot training programs. Weeks passed. Then, out of the blue, came a telegram from the war department announcing the organization of the WAFS, and the order to report within 24 hours if interested. I left at once.

Because there were and are so many disbelievers in women pilots, especially in their place in the army, officials wanted the best possible qualifications to go with the first experimental group. All of us realized what a spot we were on. We had to deliver the goods or else. Or else there wouldn't ever be another chance for women pilots in any part of the service.

The attitude that most nonfliers have about pilots is distressing and often acutely embarrassing. They chatter about the glamour of flying.

Well, any pilot can tell you how glamorous it is. We get up in the cold dark in order to get to the airport by daylight. We wear heavy cumbersome flying clothes and a 30-pound parachute.

You are either too cold or too hot. If you are a female your lipstick wears off, and your hair gets straighter and straighter. You look forward all afternoon to the bath you will have, and the steak. Well, we get the bath, but seldom the steak: sometimes we are too tired to eat and fall wearily into bed.

None of us can put into words why we fly. It is something different for each of us. I can't say exactly why I fly, but I "know" why as I've never known anything in my life. Of this I am most positive.

I knew it when I saw my plane silhouetted against the clouds, framed by a circular rainbow. I knew it when I flew up into the extinct volcano Haleakala on the island of Maui, and saw the gray-green pineapple fields slope down to the cloud-dappled blueness of the Pacific.

PULPWOOD'S Part in the Invasion...

American Petroleum

Earliest mention of American petroleum, which was known to the Indians, was made in a letter dated July 18, 1627, in which Joseph de la Roche D'Aillon, Franciscan missionary, described the oil springs near what is now Cuba in western New York state. Petroleum had been known centuries before to the ancient peoples of the East. Prior to the use of petroleum as a lubricant, vegetable and animal oils had been used for that purpose.

Postwar planning is becoming a popular pastime that may do some good if the planners recommend long-range improvement programs that can be released in an orderly manner, but such planning can be harmful, too, if it results in an avalanche of public building projects released for immediate construction as soon as the war ends. Postwar planning should be encouraged chiefly to cushion the shock of unemployment that will come some time after the war. How soon after the war we will be confronted with an unemployment problem no one knows. It probably will not come for several years. The most practical preparation for the period of unemployment that we can make at this time is to get ourselves into good financial condition so that we will be able to provide for ourselves when the depression does hit us. We should discourage the idea of federal grants for improvements of a purely local nature because the federal government is already over its ears in debt. If Uncle Sam is to remain solvent we will have to quit asking him to support us and start supporting him for a change.

Most reassuring news from the war fronts this week was the speech delivered by Adolf himself. No longer does he hold out hope to the people he has led down the path to ruin. The order now is to fight blindly on in a lost cause—or else. The people have the choice of being shot by the enemy or shot by the Gestapo, and there could be no more convincing proof that the German people have had their fill of war than this threat that if they falter they will be executed. Under such pressure Hitler may be able to retain control for a while but not for long. The superman's days are numbered.

A thought for Thanksgiving—remember to be thankful last week's storm didn't visit our community. The damage it might have caused to our turkey flocks can be appreciated more readily now that the checks for this crop are being cashed.

This talk about a paper shortage isn't hokum, and at the rate pulpwood stocks are dwindling we will soon feel the results. The American public can no doubt get along with less paper without serious consequences. This is one commodity with which we have been very wasteful. Nevertheless being forced to curtail our uses of any product causes inconvenience and drastic curtailment of our supply of paper might even become serious. Manpower shortage is the bottleneck that is causing the trouble. There are not enough pulpwood cutters and that is the reason farmers are being urged to "cut a cord or a carload." Our community should be able to cut quite a few carloads this winter.

Seventy-two year old Cordell Hull returned from Moscow yesterday, and we venture the guess that his biggest personal thrill of the history-making journey was his airplane ride half way around the world and back. Moscow is now closer to Washington than New York was from Philadelphia 200 years ago and Mr. Hull probably had less personal discomfort in his journey of many thousands of miles than Ben Franklin experienced on a trip to Boston.

Not much specific information is coming out of the South Pacific these days but enough to indicate that there is action. Evidently Japan is not going to give up Rabaul without a struggle, even at the expense of the fleet, and we probably will have some bad news along with the good when the story is told.

GIVING THE BOY A JOB
(Long Prairie Leader)

Nation's Business tells of the experience of a man who wanted to employ his 16 year old boy in his factory during the summer vacation. The boy wanted to work and the old man was proud of the fact. However, when he started out to employ the boy he found he was required to—

Apply to the city government for a special permit for the employment of a minor.

Serve formal notice on the War Manpower Commission that job was about to be filled.

Deduct 20 per cent from wages paid to the boy, for income tax purposes.

Apply, at the end of the boy's employment, to the Internal Revenue Bureau for permission to refund the 20 per cent, since the boy would not be earning enough in the vacation period to make him eligible as an income tax payer.

Report the boy's earnings along with his own, at the end of the current tax year, and pay taxes on them, since the boy is a minor.

PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editor:

Newspapers are carrying a news item that the Red Lake Flood Control Project has been rejected by the War Department is misleading. The War Department and its splendid staff of engineers have done everything possible to speed up this project. Its presentation to Congress at this hour is the best evidence to the contrary.

We are pleased to know that it has been presented to Congress, but because of the War we are well aware of the facts given by Secretary of War Mr. Stimson, that Congress would be reluctant to act at the present time. We pray and hope that conditions will moderate in the near future so as to allow Congress to act upon this, one of the most important Flood Control Projects in Minnesota and the Northwest as a whole.

Food is one of the most essential products to successful conduct of the War. Soldiers without food with train loads of bullets, rifles, tanks and planes would mean nothing.

The Red Lake Flood Control Project is a project for the production of more food, a bread basket, with more milk, butter, chickens, eggs, turkeys, pork, mutton, and meats thrown in for good measure, which is some of the most essential products for the successful conduct of the War, on any of the 72 fronts the world over which our boys are fighting today.

WAR WORKERS OF THE SEA

Seamen of the merchant marine face the hazards of days, weeks or months in open boats exposed to cold, heat, snow and rain. To the United Seamen's Service, a member agency of the National War Fund, falls the task of contributing to the costs of their hospitalization and convalescence, in cooperation with the War Shipping Administration.

Looking Backward

1933—TEN YEARS AGO

Mayor E. L. Tungseth was reelected to office by a landslide vote, and all incumbent aldermen were retired from office. — Supt. Morris Bye addressed the Rocksbury Community club at an Armistice Day observance.—J. O. Votter of this city was elected president of the 12th Minnesota Volunteer Infantry association at the annual reunion at Fort Snelling.—Bert Norby, general contractor in charge of the new Auditorium project, was injured in a fall in the building.—Dr. O. F. Mellby was elected president of the Lutheran College association of Northwestern Minnesota.—Miss Mildred Nelson of Argyle and Charles Booren of this city were married November 4 in Argyle.—An advance of 12 cents a pound in turkeys was being made in the Thanksgiving turkey pool.

1923—TWENTY YEARS AGO

Local Soo Line officials attended the funeral in Minneapolis of Edmund Pennington, president of the system.—A new mayor, J. S. Arneson, was elected Tuesday, as well as an entirely new council with the exception of Harry Brumund, who was reelected. — Members of the Lincoln high school football team were entertained at dinner at the Math Barzen sr. home.—G. H. Sandum of Minneapolis, former local resident, was a visitor here.—A total of 47 men and teams are engaged in hauling gravel on a four-mile section of the angle road southeast of the city. County Engineer B. F. Umland is in charge of the work.

No Fibbing

A homely woman sat staring morosely at her reflection. She turned her face this way and that way. All angles were carefully inspected. Finally the examination was completed and she sneered at the mirror, "You pitiful sissy, not even once could YOU tell just one little white lie."

SCHEMERS

"Their parents made the match, I believe."

"I thought they opposed it?"

"Yes; that's how they made it."

Early Education

A man was in court for stealing a sum of money and heard the judge say, "And in addition to the sum of money, you also took some jewelry."

"Yes," replied the prisoner, "I was educated to believe that money alone would not bring happiness."

Too Many Jobs!

Jim—Then you didn't have any trouble finding one?

Bill—One? Why, I've had four jobs in the last four weeks.

Good Example

Mummy had decided it was time to persuade little Monica to go to bed. "Be good, like chickens," she said, "D'you see, they are all in bed early!" "Yes," replied Monica, "but the mummy hen goes at the same time as they do."

An Efficient Mole Trap

To catch moles, find a run that is used regularly. With a post hole digger dig a hole the size of a gallon bucket through the run, so that when the bucket is placed in the hole the top of the bucket will be just below the tunnel. Plug each end of the tunnel with loose dirt. When the mole presses dirt out he will fall into the bucket and cannot climb out. Then place a board over the hole, flat with the surface.

No Particular Indian

Several Indians have been publicized as the original of the Indian head or "Buffalo" nickel, but James Earle Frazer, who designed it, said the head is an idealized portrait and represents no particular Indian. Several Indians posed for him, at the time he was making preliminary studies, including Chief Two Guns White Calf of the Blackfeet tribe, and Iron Tail, a Sioux chief of the Pine Ridge reservation.

Cellulose Raw Material

Rayon is an artificial silk of which cellulose is the principal raw material. The process by which the artificial silk filaments are prepared is similar, in principle, to the spinning processes of silk worms and spiders, the idea of copying which was suggested by R. A. F. de Reaumur in 1734 and by Robert Hook in 1664. Cellulose is, as is generally known, made from wood or cotton hulls.

Snappy Repartee

A newly enlisted soldier the other day stepped into the office of his company commander at Camp Wolters, Texas. Standing before the captain's desk, he snapped smartly to attention, saluted and stood silent. The captain, hoping to refresh the man's memory on military courtesy, asked: "What do you say?" This phrase must have been part of the vernacular to the rookie. "Not much," he answered. "Whadda you say?"

New Use for Lead

Porches Into Nurseries

This year when the birth rate is rapidly increasing and a housing shortage exists in key areas, many families are converting porches into nurseries. Attractive pastel-colored rooms can be quickly and inexpensively built with insulating panels. These panels are especially adaptable to a baby's room, because they possess acoustical qualities which will deaden noise from the street and other rooms in the house.

N. W. MINNESOTA DODGES BLIZZARD ON PAST WEEK-END

Heavy Snowfall Demoralizes Traffic in Southern Part of State

Northwestern Minnesota was fortunate in escaping entirely a week-end blizzard that invaded southern and central Minnesota, depositing a heavy snowfall that measured one foot in depth in Minneapolis, badly demoralizing traffic. The snow diminished farther north, extending as far as this side of the Detroit Lakes.

Temperatures dropped here over the week-end, and the pool in the river has been frozen over since Monday, November 8, about the average date for this event in recent years. The low temperature reading for the week was 18 above zero Wednesday morning.

A stiff wind from the south prevailed this morning, and there was a threat of snow.

The local Townsend club will hold a meeting next Sunday afternoon, November 14, at 3 o'clock in the Civic and Commerce room, E. B. Bakke, officer of the club, stated today.

SHELL CONSERVATION OF THE MOST EXTREME

Bagley.—An almost unbelievable story of catching 13 live, wild ducks without shells is related by a group of local hunters. Coming upon an almost inaccessible pot hole in the hills which was crowded with ducks one of the party crawled thru the brush to the very edge of the pot hole, took careful aim and fired. Whereupon the immediate vicinity became a scene of the wildest confusion as ducks and hunters ran everywhere. Apparently the ducks became so confused when the gun was discharged that they lost all reason in their hurry to gain height enough to clear the trees surrounding the pot hole. As the woods were too thick to enable them to fly they were forced to content themselves with running through the underbrush with hunters hot in pursuit. When the excitement had died down the result was 13 ducks caught by hand and nine dead ducks from the one shell fired—twenty two ducks.

FARM MACHINERY STATUS TOPIC AT CHICAGO MEETING

Conference Deplores Unduly Optimistic Reports Being Given out

Representatives of twenty-seven state and regional units affiliated with the National Retail Farm Equipment association went on record at the national food producing equipment conference held in Chicago recently as being opposed to the unduly optimistic publicity given out by government agencies on the farm machinery situation for the coming year. Quite recently news releases covering the new rationing regulations hav indicated that many items of farm equipment will be available in greatly increased quantities in the very near future.

While the farm equipment retailers in attendance at the conference were enthusiastic over the increased allotment of raw materials authorized by the War Production Board, they pointed out that many vital raw materials as well as component parts essential in a completed power farm machine would undoubtedly be slow in being delivered to the implement manufacturers which would result in further delayed deliveries of completed machines to farmers.

Dealers were urged by NRFEA President, Carl A. Nordlund of Auburn, Nebraska, to immediately contact their farmer customers and determine the quantities of repair parts that will be needed to keep existing machinery in operating condition throughout all of 1944. Close and complete cooperation between farmers and local service dealers will help assure adequate stocks of replacement parts.

Mr. M. Lee Marshall, Director of the Office of Materials and Facilities of the War Food Administration told the conference that "Present factors point to a better machinery situation in 1944—with more machinery available, more timely deliveries and better distribution." Mr. Marshall continued to say "However, a word of caution is in order. We can expect some difficulties to remain. Limited plant capacity, together with the extremely heavy demand for similar parts for military use, for making component parts may, for example, delay the delivery of bearings, magnetos, transmissions, carburetors, connecting rods, crank shafts, discs and other items that are needed to complete some types of equipment and get it into distribution channels. I think it is reasonably safe to say we will in general get the machinery authorized under L-257 but some difficulties will remain in machinery production as long as the war continues."

Basketball

Prowler basketball prospects, based on the early season practice sessions, are in a "dim-out" stage. Only two returning lettermen — captain Billy McKechnie and Virg Evenstad — are in the squad of thirty or more Prowlers that are reporting to coach Glenn Hanna for the daily practice drills. Of the remaining members of the Prowlers ten-man tournament squad of last year Jack Melby, Milt Reierson, Don Berg, Bud Eide, Bob Wright, and Bob Abbott have been graduated; Bill Bye has transferred to Anoka; and Art Forsberg is ineligible.

With the opening game of the schedule only three weeks away, the Prowlers meeting Fosston on Dec. 3rd, coach Hanna will have to push the squad in order to develop a starting five. McKechnie and Evenstad are certain of places on the first five, being slated for the forward line. Herb Claffy, who was out of action last year because of an ankle fracture, will be given a try at forward. Marvin "Ninak" Carlson, from last year's Frosh team, and Burdell Merritt, a senior and track captain, will probably be tested at the guard positions. Other promising candidates on the squad are Norm Furuseth, Chuck Richards, Phil Kays, Dick O'Hara, Roger Tunberg, Allen Thompson, Woody Schmeltzer, Cliff Aase, Johnny Powell, Bill Holmes, Alvin Carpenter, and Kenneth Swanson, the latter three being transfer students and lettermen from St. Hilaire.

Fosston Has Hopes

Fosston high school principal Erwin Reiersgaard stated, when he "worked" the Pirates vs. Prowlers football game here a couple of weeks ago, that the Greyhounds really intend to "go places" this year. Their entire squad of last season, led by Russell "Blackie" Hagen, is returning for another year of play; and the Greyhounds will be primed for the contest against the Prowlers as they will have played the Bemidji Lumberjacks on the Tuesday preceding the game against the locals. Well, Hagen counted 11 points in the game that Fosston lost here last year, with the locals running up a 37 to 18 score, and they say that Blackie is better this year.

Playing Fosston here on Dec. 3rd; the Crookston Pirates here on Dec. 10th; Grand Forks Central at Grand Forks on the Dec. 11th; and Detroit Lakes at Detroit Lakes on Dec. 17th, it's evident that the Prowlers are due for some rough treatment.

Women's Bowling Averages

If the first month's averages are an indication of the season's bowling, the battle for the Women's City League individual bowling honors will be a ding-dong affair. The Land O'Lakes Bea McLeod; Log Cabin's Dolories Urdahl; and Squirt's Doris Langevin, have all posted averages of 142; while J & B Drugs Faythe Nelson and Seven Up's Pat Lea are carrying 141 averages; and Martha Narverud of the Narverud Cleaners and Bea Embury of the Jung's Bakery have 138 averages. You can't get competition any closer than that.

Officially Closed

Now that Dickie Biddick has checked in the football equipment, all that remains to be done to wind up the season is the election of a captain for 1944, and that job is usually a spring-time chore for the lettermen. It's revealing no secrets to state that Herb Claffy appears due to succeed Norm Furuseth as Prowler football captain. A private poll of the lettermen indicates that Herby will be nearly a unanimous choice. But regardless of who is named captain, that captain will lead a promising Prowler football team next season. With Claffy, Ninak Carlson, Wes Hovie, Les Vigness or Larry Rullen in the backfield, the Prowlers will be able to field the fastest and niftiest backfield in the region; and with Chuck Richards, Bob Baker, Billy Nelson, Allen Thompson, and Roger Tunberg returning for line duty the forward wall, although losing Furuseth and Dorn, will be strong enough.

Flight or No Flight

Hunters report that the mallard and bluebill flight moved through on Saturday and Sunday's high wind; and then there are reports from Winnipeg and other Canadian points that the ducks are just beginning to move south. It's a fact, though, that a number of flocks of ducks were going south during the week-end. Dr. Homer Hedemark was in Thief lake on Sunday, using a boat and decoys, and he had some fine shooting, both mallards and bluebills; Wally DuChamp, Joe Dostal, Harold Hellekson, and Art Johnson were in a small lake south of Union lake and they had some bluebill shooting; Herb Jung reported that the bluebills were flying at Union lake on Sunday; but Ole Ness said that Crystal lake and Paulson lake were below par. George Mostue and Haakon Olson hunted in the Fosston territory, near Cross lake, and they reported only fair bluebill shooting.

Nut Prices Are Placed Under Price Ceilings

All edible tree nuts were brought under price control for the first time this week by the Office of Price Administration in a manner which should both bring savings of at least 10 cents a pound to the ultimate consumer and ease a "squeeze" on food processors such as bakers and confectioners.

The four most important domestic nuts are walnuts, almonds, filberts and pecans. (Peanuts already are under price control). The four go in about equal proportions to the food processors and to the public-in-shell, shelled, roasted, salted and mixed.

OPA took this action after data submitted by the United States department of agriculture had shown that the price of edible tree nuts, generally, had more than doubled since 1942.

Dressed Turkey Prices at Retail Are Increased

Increases of one-half to three cents a pound to the retail price of dressed turkeys were established this month by OPA on the authority of the Director of Economic Stabilization.

The action affecting dressed and plucked turkeys was made necessary by increased farm prices which processors have to pay for live birds.

The action was taken to insure the processing of turkeys by widening the margin between the prices for live and processed birds only enough to insure that sufficient turkeys shall be processed for the civilian market.

Consumers in the Fargo-Moorhead area can expect to pay from 40½ to 51 cents per pound for their Thanksgiving turkeys depending on size and quality of the birds.

JOB OFFICE SEEKS WORKERS TO AID IN PROCESSING HOGS

Present Staff in Stockyards Inadequate to Handle Huge Influx

U. S. employment offices are now acting as "on the spot" hiring agents of the packing industry in South St. Paul, in a concerted effort to obtain 2,000 men and 500 women. These workers are needed to enable the plants to operate at full capacity and thus adequately process the hogs now moving to market at from 22,000 to 25,000 per day.

Any person interested in these jobs can obtain complete information and be hired by the nearest USES office.

Authority to hire workers, says Dreng Bjornaras, state WMC director, gives the government's agency an opportunity to develop a consciousness on the part of the public that the processing of these animals is patriotic work.

"As long as the plants are not operating at full capacity, and as long as animals produced by farmers to meet the nation's call for food are unprocessed, it is just as patriotic to work in the packing industry as it is to help produce shells, guns, planes, ships, and tanks", Bjornaras said.

A recent survey shows that employment in the packing industry is declining, while shipments are increasing. The industry has liberalized its workers standards. Any man over 17 is acceptable. The companies will hire for almost any period and are limited principally by the demands of selective service.

HAMBURGER NOW TAKES 8 POINTS A POUND

The ration point value of hamburger has been increased one point to eight points a pound, effective at once, by the OPA. At the same time, OPA broadened its definition of hamburger to permit additional meatier cuts of the lower grades of beef—now being produced in large quantities—to be sold as hamburger.

November 11th . . . the 25th anniversary of the original Armistice Day . . . finds the world's greatest Nations again locked in bloody conflict.

That future Armistice Days may mean more, the fervent prayer of every citizen is that World War II accomplish what World War I failed to gain.

If the present struggle will put an end to dictatorship and international outlawry for all time—if it will bring us lasting peace—then the sacrifice of human life and treasure so keenly realized on this 25th Armistice Day will not have been in vain. May God, in His wisdom, direct that result.

TO MAP POST-WAR PLANS AT 9TH DIST. MEETING NOV. 18TH

Representatives of Seven Counties Invited to Crookston

Selections of postwar public works planning committees for seven counties in the ninth congressional district will highlight a meeting to be held in Crookston the afternoon of November 18.

The county committees will be charged with creation of a five-year shelf of needed legitimate public works projects for each of the counties. At least one year's projects will be translated into blue print and detailed specifications ready for immediate contract lettings to provide employment for returning servicemen. Each county's program is part of a master, state wide postwar public works planning project.

The state project, initiated by the Northwest Good Roads association of Minneapolis, has the backing of all civic, commerce, farm, service, professional and business groups in the ninth district. Planning by each county before the war ends will remove the need for imposition by federal authorities of a colossal relief, day labor or pump priming scheme to provide employment for returning servicemen and war workers.

Representatives from Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Norman counties will attend the meeting to be held in the city hall.

TURN BAD FOR TRUCK GOOD FOR MOTORISTS

Aitkin.—A turn in the road on the south side of Mille Lacs Lake proved very bad for a huge transport truck loaded with approximately 5,000 gallons of gasoline but very fine for motorists. As the truck made the turn an axle broke causing it to fall into a ditch on its side. Gasoline flowed, and flowed, and flowed, and people swarmed, and swarmed, and swarmed to the scene. Indians, passing motorists, and closeby residents with wash tubs, milk cans, pails, bottles, and jugs took what they could of the precious fluid. Hundreds and hundreds of gallons of gas was salvaged—and not a coupon presented.

REPORT INDICATES 32 FATALITIES IN MONTH OF OCTOBER

Proves to be Worst Month of Year, Says Highway Department

Minnesota's good record of reducing traffic accidents had another setback in October. Thirty-two fatalities have so far been reported to the Minnesota department of highways. This exceeds the previous worst month, September, when 28 deaths were recorded. Figures may be increased if further deaths are reported, as fatalities are charged to the month when the accident occurred.

October traffic deaths were only four less than in the same month in 1942. September deaths were only five less than in September, 1942. In the months of January, February, March, April, June and July, traffic deaths in 1943 were less than half as many as in the same months in 1942.

Total traffic deaths for the first ten months in 1943 so far reported were 200, compared to 370 in the same months in 1942, a reduction of 46 per cent. From January to August there was a 55 per cent reduction in traffic fatalities, but September and October deaths were only 13 per cent less than in the same months in 1942.

Seventeen of the 32 killed in traffic in October were pedestrians. Five of the 17 pedestrian deaths occurred in Duluth. Nine pedestrian victims were past 60, four were children under ten.

The reported traffic fatalities do not include all motor vehicle deaths, it is emphasized. Only accidents on public roads or streets are classed as traffic accidents. Unofficial reports have been received of three motor vehicle deaths. One was a child hit by a car being backed out of a private garage, one a child playing in a private yard when the car was started, and one an adult crushed between a truck and loading platform.

WOUNDED PHEASANT FLIES DIRECT TO FRYING PAN

Sports Dress Made Of Tablecloth

Exhibit Shows How to Use Ragbag.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Children's pinafores and dresses made of the men-folks' discarded shirts led to new avenues of thought, as did also a most attractive cartwheel hat which was actually made from an ordinary cane seat taken from an old chair. Bright yarn but ole stitching finished off the edge of the wide brim, and the crown was designfully worked with the bright yarn—a hat any milliner would not hesitate to include among the choicest of new summer styles.

These clever made-over garments were displayed at an exhibition in Chicago, to show the possibilities of salvaging discarded clothing. Domestic science teachers and well-known designers and dressmakers attended.

A discarded tablecloth was the material for a clever sports dress. One young girl wore a charming afternoon frock which she had made out of an old lace curtain. Other items included a smartly styled chemise dress which she had pieced together from two worn shirts, one white and the other striped white and brown. A stunning housecoat was conjured from an old evening gown and brocade drapes furnished material for another housecoat.

Bathing suits made from discarded shower curtains were right up to the minute in "style." A beach bag and shoes evolved from a man's discarded felt hat also showed up in this style parade of smartly wearable and good looking makeovers.

The gathering was one of encouragement and inspiration to "make the most of what you have." All over the country enthusiasm is running high among women who have taken up home sewing with a will in their eagerness to aid the war effort. Pattern companies are specializing on fashions that are simple to make, sewing centers are offering every facility, and fabric departments in the large stores are even conducting classes in sewing. It's the fashion to "make your own."

Dainty Sheer

No matter how attractive and seriously minded they may be during the war activities of the day, or the grind of office or classroom, young girls cling to sentiment when it comes to the party frocks they'll be wearing during their carefree off-duty evening hours. Here is one of those lovely creations that may well be selected to play a multi-role. Such as for instance the graduating frock or the bridesmaid gown that later serves so charmingly as a party frock for big-moment occasions, as will be sure to happen the whole summer through. And what could be more fittingly sentimental than this dress so sweetly fashioned of crinkled cotton organdie frosted as it is with a rose-motif patterning. It is styled with a quaint fitted basque, puffed sleeves, off-shoulder decolletage and full skirt just such as made grandma a belle in the long ago.

Fads and Fancies

Novelty earrings are important in the fashion picture. Very interesting and most unique is a new-this-season earring which has a mirror glass center that scintillates with every move of the wearer.

New in the millinery field are hats made of a natural straw imported from China, which is appropriately called Chiang straw. Exclusive with a New York millinery house, a percentage of the proceeds from the sale of wide brims, calots, sailors and a shape called Casablanca, fashioned of this attractive straw, will go to the Chinese War Fund.

Stone Named for Turkey

Dark Hallway Lightened

To lighten a dark hallway, one housewife had the two small square panels removed from the upper parts of two bedroom doors. These openings were fitted with ground glass on which an artist painted amusing silhouettes with black paint. This ingenious device allows light to enter the hallway and holds from its safety angle, gives a decorative note to the doors. Decalcomania may be used instead of painted designs, if preferred.

NO ARMISTICE TODAY

TWENTY-FIVE years ago this world went wild with joy. The world cried "Peace". But there was no peace. There was only a truce.

This time there must be no truce. This time we are grimly determined to see the job through. We will make whatever sacrifice is necessary. We won't let it happen again.

Armistice Day this year marks the beginning of a new call upon our patriotism. A call directed especially to the people of this community.

One of the gravest threats to our all-out war effort is a shortage of pulpwood. We who live in the pulpwood-cutting areas are asked to make good that shortage. We will be paid for our wood, of course. But we are asked to do it as our special part in the war—backing up our own boys in the service.

In whose honor will you cut your cord? A son? A brother? A friend?

Give us his name, and yours, so that both may be entered on the roll of honor. No boy shall die because we failed.

FILL OUT THE COUPON AND MAIL TODAY!

PREPARE NOW FOR STORMY WEATHER, WARNING ISSUED

Highway Department Points out Hazards of Winter Driving

Be prepared for bad weather, is the advice of W. F. Rosenwald, traffic engineer of the Minnesota highway department to motorists and truckers who must travel in winter. Snow and sleet may come any day, he adds, recalling that one of the worst storms in many years came on November 11, 1940, and took many lives.

"Preparation for winter travel should first of all aim to keep the car or truck moving safely," said Mr. Rosenwald. "This includes conditioning the machine for winter driving, with anti-freeze in the radiator, an adequate heater, frost shields, defrosters, a check of the battery, a check of the exhaust pipes to guard against carbon monoxide leaks, and a set of tire chains for use on slippery roads. Be sure you have enough gas to reach your destination.

"In bad weather you may always be able to keep going. Carry a snow shovel and tow rope, to get out of bad spots, and give you a new start.

"In extremely bad weather, even these precautions may not be enough. Besides equipment to keep you going, it is well to carry extra clothing to keep you alive and comfortable in case you get stranded. A pair of blankets, a heavy coat, warm cap, mittens and overshoes, takes little room, and may be life savers in emergency. Don't leave your motor running if you are stuck in a drift, or you may die from carbon monoxide gas.

"Weather reports should be checked and storm warnings heeded. Don't take chances on the weather. Bad storms often come quickly after a beautiful sunshiney day. Watch for icy and slippery spots on the road. Regulate your speed according to conditions. In storm or slippery weather it is often necessary to go much slower than the 35-mile an hour maximum wartime speed limit."

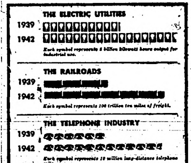
Increased Demand Placed On Service Industries by War



How war's impact has added to the responsibilities of America's utility, railroad and telephone industries is shown graphically in the above chart.

The magnitude of the added volume of work placed upon the men and women of these great service industries is difficult for the layman to grasp. The chart is worthy of study.

In every instance these industries have met war's challenge while maintaining practically normal standards of service to the civilian population. The workers who have quietly carried on these enormous tasks are not eligible to receive official government awards for their truly great wartime accomplishments.

In an effort to give credit where credit is so obviously due, General Cable Corporation — the nation's leading independent supplier of electrical wires and cables, — has undertaken to publicize their records of accomplishment. An editorial from the New York Times calling attention to the patriotic contribution of these war workers, has been reproduced in a General Cable advertising release from Coast to Coast.

DUCK DECOYS ARE ATTACKED BY HAWK

Ely.—Duck decoys are intended to lure migratory waterfowl within gunshot, but two local sportsmen got a predatory hawk lured by the duck decoys. Hunting on Little Indian Sioux river, 30 miles north, C. M. Nelson and J. W. Trygg witnessed first a large hawk make a vicious attach on a group of papier-mache ducks and finally Nelson extremely irritated at the destruction of his decoys took a shot at the bird. Mr. Hawk flew off but not a single duck appeared.

1943 Fall Directory of Seeds Is Now Ready

The 1943 fall seed directory of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, now off the press, is of special interest to Pennington county farmers this year, says County Agent Ernest Palmer. Because of the shortage of many seeds, he urges farmers to line up good seed early. The directory contains several hundred names of seed growers whose fields passed the official crop improvement association inspection during the summer.

One of the features of the directory this year is a list of 218 farmers who have for sale a supply of the new Vicland and Tama oats which are being strongly recommended for Minnesota.

A copy of the fall seed directory may be obtained by writing to the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, University Farm, St. Paul 8, Minnesota or by calling at the county agent's office.

WE IN THIEF RIVER FALLS Can't Win the Purple Heart but . . .

Yes, believe it or not, our morale and our cooperation here at home has a lot to do with the actions of our fighting men across the sea. There are several things we can do to combat the evils that arise in a wartime economy, black markets . . . false rumors . . . inflation, and discouragement among our soldiers. The following are six suggestions as to definite things we can do:

1. Buy and hold war bonds.
2. Pay cheerfully our share of taxes.
3. Comply with the rationing rules to conserve scarce things.
4. Buy only what we need and make that last longer.
5. Write often and keep our letters cheerful to the service men.
6. Protect our American liberties in our own community.

War is a job that occupies our soldiers twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. There are no days off on the battle-front. We here at home must not let our boys down by relaxing for one minute in our contributions to the War Effort.

HITCH-HIKER PAYS FOR HER OWN RIDE

Brewster.—With existent gas rationing hitch-hiking isn't the old free game it used to be. If ya wants "hitch" ya makes a deposit under de hood! Opening the hood of his car at a local filling station Fred Koster was startled beyond words to find a chicken sitting (or setting?) on the motor. Closer observation disclosed an egg which the hen had deposited in payment for her "hitch".

Another Tribute to "Mr. Dooley"*

CIVILIAN AWARDS

Testimony to the effect that the stimulus of the Army-Navy "E" and the Maritime "M" production awards has been very great constantly is accumulating. Both management and labor on the home front have been helped to even greater efforts and results by these recognitions of unselfish devotion to the great task of turning out the vital materials of war. Now both directors and workers in a category other than those previously recognized are to receive an achievement award for work well done. These are the seasonal processors of food. The fact that they are not year-round operators makes them ineligible for Army-Navy "E" recognition. But if they meet the same high standards demanded for that badge of honor they are to receive the award of the War Food Administration's "A" flag. Qualifications considered in selection for the award will include ingenuity in the development of war food products, low absenteeism, cooperation in the various food purchase programs, accident prevention and the like.

A number of vital factors on the home front still lack recognition in the form of public awards. The power and utility companies, the communications companies, and even the enormously busy railroads do not fall within the technical requirements for existing awards. There would seem to be little reason why the powerful incentive which existing awards for merit have supplied should not be extended to such fundamentally important elements as the electric light and power industry, which has shown an increase of 73 per cent in its kilowatt hour output since 1939; or the telephone industry, which last year handled 93 per cent more long-distance calls than in 1939; or the American railroads, which in 1942 increased the ton miles moved as compared with 1939 by 92 per cent and the passenger miles by 135 per cent in the same period. The service industries have done and are doing an outstanding war job. They, too, deserve an accolade.

* We have prepared a booklet, "Bill Bailey Got the Credit But the Man Behind the Gun Was Mr. Dooley", of particular interest to the Power Utilities, the Railroads, the Telephone Industry, and the Electrical Wholesalers. A copy will be sent on reply to any request on a company letterhead. Address: General Cable Corporation, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

FEWER TIRES WILL BE AVAILABLE IN AREA THIS MONTH

Allotment of New Truck Tires Has Been Reduced 30 Per Cent

A 30% reduction of new truck tires and a 14% reduction of new passenger car tires available for rationing in November as compared with October was announced today by the Office of Price Administration.

New tires (grade 1) available for rationing in North Dakota in November, according to quotas received in the district OPA office in Fargo, are 3147 new passenger tires and 1566 new truck tires, as compared with October figures of 3617 new passenger tires and 2540 new truck tires.

For the entire Fargo-Moorhead OPA district, including all of North Dakota and 18 western Minnesota counties, the November quota is 4201 new passenger tires and 2007 new truck tires, as compared with the October figures of 4887 and 3208.

The North Dakota November quota for new passenger car tubes is 3749, and for new truck tire tubes is 2088, as compared with the October quota of 3347 passenger car tubes and 2577 truck tubes. The district quota for tubes is 5191 passenger tubes, and 2482 truck tubes, as compared with October figures of 4619 and 3100.

At the same time OPA increased by 25% the quota of used recapped passenger car tires (Grade III), in order to accommodate the anticipated greater demand for used tires resulting from the scarcity of new tires.

Have a Coca-Cola = What's the good word?

Your American soldier carries the keys to comradeship wherever he goes. Have a "Coke", says he to the eager youngsters at home, and it's like saying, What's the good word? It's a phrase that's understood in New Zealand or Newport, at home or in far-off places. Around the world Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the gesture of good will, saying Let's be friends.

IF YOU BAKE BREAD
this Betty Crocker
"Perfect" Bread Recipe?

WISH YOU COULD HEAR what women say about this recipe! It's the result of years of perfection. You'll probably say you never tasted such home baked bread before. Such full, high loaves. Such glorious flavor! Such excellent texture.

HERE'S THAT BETTY CROCKER "PERFECT" BREAD RECIPE YOU'VE PROBABLY HEARD ABOUT!

Recipe makes 2 1-lb. loaves. For 4 loaves, double the recipe. For 8 loaves, use 4 times the amounts (and only 2 cakes of yeast). Recipe adapted to Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour—perfect results assured with this flour only.

1 cake Compressed Yeast (or 1 pkg. fast granular yeast) . . . 2 cups lukewarm Liquid (water, milk, potato water—or a mixture) . . . 2 tbsp. Sugar . . . 1 tbsp. Salt . . . about 6¼ cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour . . . 2 tbsp. Shortening (melted and cooled)

CRUMBLE yeast into mixing bowl. Add liquid at lukewarm temperature (80°). Stir in sugar and salt and let stand until thoroughly dissolved (about 5 minutes). Add ½ the Gold Medal Flour. Beat with spoon until almost smooth and very elastic (batter will fall from spoon in "sheets").

Beat in melted and cooled shortening. Add most of remaining flour and work it in with the hand (possibly using the maximum amount) until dough is possible to handle. Mix well.

Turn the dough onto a lightly floured bare board, cover, let stand 10 min. to tighten up, then knead until smooth and elastic. Round up and set to rise in a greased bowl (covered with damp cloth) at proper temperature (80°) until double in bulk, about 2 hours. Punch down the dough. Round up and set to rise again until not quite double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Mold into loaves. Put into greased bread loaf pans, 3½" x 7½". In larger pan, use more dough accordingly. The dough should fill pans ½ full. Cover with a damp cloth, and let rise at proper temperature (80°) until sides of dough have reached top of pan and center is well rounded above (1½ to 2 hrs.). The dough should feel very light when touched gently with finger.

Bake 35 to 45 minutes . . . using a hot oven (450°) for the first 15 minutes; then reduce heat to quick moderate oven (375°) to finish baking. When baked, bread has a hollow sound when tapped and comes away from the sides of the pan.

"I tried many brands of flour but never have I found one as completely dependable as Gold Medal Kitchen-tested Flour. Its uniformity of baking surprised me at first but I've found every sack gives me the same fine results. It's Gold Medal for me every time."
MRS. R. E. LEE
334 E. Main, Hutchinson, Minn.

"I often say a good flour is like a good friend, always the same. And certainly every sack of GOLD MEDAL 'Kitchen-tested' Enriched Flour lives up to that saying. I have used GOLD MEDAL for 10 years, and I have yet to have a baking failure."
MRS. L. W. KNADLE
109 Markley Ave. So., Thief River Falls

Our experts can quickly detect "flaws" in wheat. Such imperfections as might cause low volume cause our wheat buyers to reject thousands of tons of wheat annually. We refuse to buy any batch of wheat that does not pass our rigid tests.

BETTY CROCKER brings you here a bread recipe that will surpass your fondest expectations. Perfected by her staff over a period of years, it well deserves to be called "perfect." It is simple, complete, easy to follow. It will yield golden-crusted loaves of superb quality, fragrant and delicious as any you have ever tasted. You owe it to yourself to try this recipe!

But be sure to use it of course with Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour. It is "tailored" to that flour—adjusted to its fine baking characteristics.

You'll find Gold Medal gives a dough that's easy to handle. Its gluten is not too strong. Whatever you're baking . . . Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour and the Betty Crocker recipes in the sack will prove the surest, easiest, simplest way to baking success.

Find out why Gold Medal is the most popular brand of flour in America . . . by a wide margin! Get a sack today! It's made by GENERAL MILLS, Inc., Minneapolis, Minnesota.

NOVEMBER TO BE CHRISTMAS MAIL MONTH THIS YEAR

Postmaster General Walker Issues Urgent Appeal to Public

Delivery of the annual flood of Christmas gifts and cards on time, always a serious problem, "will be more than a problem this year—it will be an impossibility—unless Christmas mailings are made largely in November," Postmaster General Frank C. Walker warned today.

"Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit with war materials and personnel, and the postal service has sent more than thirty-one thousand experienced employees into the Army and Navy," Mr. Walker said. "The only solution to the Christmas problem is: Mail in November. Mark your parcels, 'Do not open until Christmas.' That is the only way to avoid disappointment on Christmas Day not only for many civilians but also for millions of members of the armed forces who are still in this country.

"It is also the only way to avoid the possibility of a Christmas emergency in the transportation and postal services. If the public will cooperate by mailing their Christmas parcels during November, we can handle a small volume of light, last-minute mailings, such as cards, up to December 10—but we can do that and avoid an emergency only if November is really 'Christmas Mailing Month.'"

Postal officials pointed out that the volume of mail now is far above any previous records, that railway cars by the hundreds have been diverted to war service and that the air lines have only about half as many planes as they once operated.

More than two hundred thousand extra temporary employees normally are employed to help with the holiday postal rush. This year, the extra employees will be largely women and high school boys and girls who are unable to work the long hours usually required and whose work will be relatively slow.

State Authority Urges Farmers to Arrange for 1944 Seed without Delay

C. H. Schrader, director of the weed and seed division of the state department of agriculture, dairy and food, today urged farmers to line up their 1944 seed supplies early and not wait until March when much good seed grain may have been fed to livestock. He reminded growers and dealers at the same time that germination and purity tests can be made immediate by the state seed laboratory so that seed can be properly tagged and legally put on sale as such.

A certification of germination made now by the laboratory at University Farm is good for nine months and will hold well into the next growing season. There is no charge for the first five samples sent to the laboratory for testing.

The grower or dealer who has the necessary tests made now has two important advantages. He can put the seed on sale immediately and get it into the hands of those who will need it, and he avoids the risk of delay in testing which results from a rush of last-minute samples reaching the laboratory in late winter and spring.

Triple Sub Launching

For the first time in ship launching history, three submarines were launched simultaneously. The scene was the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yards. Pictured is the "Pomfret," one of the new submarines.

Mayor-elect Wm. J. Douville late last week revealed his plans to effect a thorogoing reorganization of the Thief River Falls police department immediately following his assumption of office early in January.

This was learned when all members of the present staff received mailed notification that their services would no longer be required after the new mayor takes over his duties.

Questioned by the Times as to his plans for the department, Mr. Douville stated that he intends to appoint a new chief of police and three patrolmen, in addition to appointing a woman to fill the new office of police matron, as well as a patrolwoman.

The women members of the force, he explained, will deal with enforcement of the curfew ordinance and, in general, the curbing of child delinquency.

In this connection, he stated, he will seek the support of the city council in creating a board to serve in an advisory capacity in combating the delinquency problem.

The men whose services will be terminated include L. W. Knadle, with the department since 1930 and chief the past two years; and Patrolmen Wm. Sheedy, Robert Black, Leonard Johnson and Jack Williams.

PTA ADVOCATES LOCAL CURFEW ENFORCEMENT

Committee to Suggest Revision of Ordinance to City Council

SUPT. P. L. FJELSTED ADDRESSES MEETING

Cites Contributions Being Made by Public Schools to the Nation

Following a discussion led by Mrs. Blanche G. Korstad at its meeting in the Lincoln high school auditorium last Friday evening, the Parent-Teacher association went on record in favor of modernizing the present local curfew ordinance enacted in 1906, and then strictly enforcing its provisions.

President Irving E. Quist was instructed to appoint a committee to meet with representatives of other local groups for the purpose of formulating suggested provisions of the new ordinance to be submitted to the city council for its guidance.

The discussion brought out the opinion that the present ordinance, fixing a 9 o'clock curfew in the summer months and 8 o'clock during the winter is now outmoded. Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted reported having received complaints of small children being seen on the streets late at night, as well as of children smoking.

Rev. G. S. Thompson expressed the view that the rise in juvenile delinquency in recent years cited by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, applies also in this community.

Opening the program with a brief address, President Quist presented Supt. Fjelsted, who discussed the contribution of the schools in meeting the nation's needs, stating that the public schools deserve a large part of the credit for this nation's achievement in developing an army of more than 7,000,000 men in a year and one-half.

The speaker also brought out the fact that, dealing with pupils of all grades of intelligence, the school cannot be expected to turn out a uniformly fine product.

The program included also a playlet, "Let Me Come Back", by a group of senior students under the direction of Miss Charlotte Bradley, while musical features included a saxophone solo by Donna Mae Twete and a vocal solo by Edward Anderson.

Mayor H. W. Kinghorn Asks Citizens to Back Christmas Seal Drive

I hereby endorse the sale of Christmas seals to raise funds for the fight against tuberculosis. Many communities throughout the United States are even now faced with a war-time increase in tuberculosis.

The Christmas Seal has, during the past thirty-six years, been a leader in the fight against tuberculosis, which has reduced deaths from this disease more than 75 per cent.

In order to meet the challenge of increased danger due to the war an expanded program requiring the complete support of the citizens of this community, must be carried out.

I, the mayor of Thief River Falls, do hereby call upon every man, woman and child to contribute generously to the Christmas seal sale to the end that the threat of tuberculosis may be removed from our homes, our states, and our nation.

Mayor H. W. Kinghorn.

Market Is Created in Area for Cattail Fluff

Due to wartime conditions which have curtailed imports of kapok and feathers, a new local market for cattail fluff to be used as a substitute has been created by the Burgess Battery company thru its processing factory at Ashippun, Wisconsin, it was announced this week.

Cattail fluff, known commercially as "Typha", is now being used in stuffing pillows and cushions of all types, airplane insulation, life preservers and other articles.

The company urges farmers who can furnish cattail fluff in any quantity to get in touch with Joe Maruska, Thief River Falls, district agent; or with Delmar Hagen, Gatzke, or Joe Kappes, Badger, who will serve as buyers. The company is paying four cents a pound stripped for the material.

SECRETARY OF WAR WITHHOLDS APPROVAL

Expresses Opinion Project Should be Deferred Until War Ends

Released for publication this week thru the agency of Congressman Harold Hagen is the favorable report of the office of the chief of army engineers in Washington, D. C., on the Red Lake-Clearwater river flood control project, which was submitted recently to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and to congress.

The complete report is published elsewhere in this issue of the Times, and its findings will be of much interest to residents of the affected area.

While the project has surmounted the hurdle of receiving the endorsement of the office of engineers, Secretary Stimson has withheld his immediate approval on the ground that the project is not directly essential to the prosecution of the war.

In his letter accompanying transmittal of the report to the lower house of congress, Secretary Stimson stated, "The under secretary of war advises that the project recommended in the report appears to be a desirable one under normal conditions, but one that is neither essential nor of indicated value to the war program, and that the construction of the project, if authorized, would involve a substantial amount of manpower, construction equipment and critical materials without being of any indicated value to the war effort.

"There is no objection to the submission of the report, but this department does not approve the submission of any estimate of appropriation for construction, or the initiation of any construction on this project until after the war."

The following explanatory statement was supplied by Brig. General John J. Kingman of the board of engineers for rivers and harbors in transmitting the report to the chief of army engineers:

The board of engineers for rivers and harbors has reviewed the report of the district and division engineers and concurs in general in their conclusions. It finds that large areas of Red Lake River basin are subject to frequent flooding by overflow from the water courses or by the overland movement of surface water where

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Lorentson of this city, was gowned in white slipper satin fashioned along very simple lines with the skirt extending into a train. She carried a white orchid on a white prayerbook with baby pink roses and dainty white pompons tied with love knots on two shower ribbons. Mr. Lorentson gave his daughter away in marriage.

Other members of the bridal party included the matron of honor, Mrs. Helen Onstad of Minneapolis, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a gown of rose colored marquisette with lace and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and pompons; and Gladys Anderson, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wearing a light orchid gown of marquisette and carrying a colonial bouquet of talisman roses and pompons. For her flower girl costume, Mary Onstad, niece of the bridegroom, wore a gown of dusty blue taffeta and had a nosegay of scattered flowers.

Lennert Lorentson, brother of the bride, was best man, while Clarence Hallstrom and Fenil Anderson served as ushers.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Lorraine Swanson of St. Hilaire, cousin of the bride, and other nuptial music included vocal selections by Mrs. Rosemarie A. Nesse, roommate of the bride at college.

The church was decorated for the occasion with large baskets of fall rust pompons with colored oak leaves, and the pews were marked with satin ribbons and sprays of bittersweet.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lorentson were hosts to 60 guests at a wedding reception in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The Swedish Mission Covenant ladies aid served the lunch with Mrs. O. J. Lundell and Miss Clara Lund acting as hostesses. The main attraction of the lunch served was a two-tiered pink and white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bridegroom's sister, LaVerne Lanska, cut the cake and served it after the bride and groom cut the first piece. For her son's wedding, Mrs. A. F. Lanska wore a dress of blue light wool with yellow and white pompons for her corsage. Rev. V. L. Peterson, who had been in St. Paul on business, returned in time for the reception.

MODERNIZING THE CURFEW

Sponsored by the Parents and Teachers Association, a meeting of representatives of various civic and fraternal organizations will give consideration to the need for changes in our curfew ordinance. The present ordinance is as antiquated as the horse and buggy and impossible to enforce. The effort to make it workable is in line with what other communities thruout the country are doing.

The present tendency in meeting this problem of youth delinquency is to place more responsibility upon parents, and in what is considered the model ordinance of today provision is made for the punishment of parents who fail to give their children proper supervision. Young people are not straight-jacketed and there is ample leeway for proper youth activities.

In seeking assistance from other organizations in their attempt to improve conditions locally, the Parent and Teachers Association is acting wisely. Any ordinance of this kind can be effective only to the extent that it has the support of public opinion. Thief River Falls does not have any unusual youth problem. Our difficulties are very similar to the difficulties faced by other communities of this size. Because of our recreation facilities and our many organized activities we probably have less delinquency here than in most places. The effort to secure a workable curfew ordinance is sponsored by reasonable people who hope to find a more satisfactory answer to our particular problem and the effort deserves wholehearted support.

To subsidize or not to subsidize is the argument of the week in Washington and in this argument the administration probably will have its way, not with the consent of Congress but in spite of congressional opposition, because of the broad powers that Congress has already conferred upon the President. Subsidies are wrong under present conditions because they are fundamentally dishonest. By resorting to subsidies the administration in effect accomplishes by subterfuge and borrowed money a result it lacks the courage to achieve in an honest and forthright manner. The way in which subsidies are being handled suggests that we are returning to the vote-buying methods of previous political campaigns. Butterfat, for instance, is being subsidized in two ways, through the creameries and also by a distribution of the money Uncle Sam borrows from us direct to producers. Granting that the double subsidy is justified, the total grant could be distributed through the creameries alone and save a tremendous amount of additional bookkeeping and manpower. Such a simplified procedure, however, would not serve the purposes of a political campaign in which the individual is to be reminded as often as possible that he is receiving many favors from a benevolent patron who asks nothing more than a vote in return.

Japanese press agents are telling tall tales of victories at sea. Such yarns are not spread with the idea of fooling us. Their purpose is to build up morale among their own people and to discourage ideas of continued resistance among the nations they have conquered. In this war of propaganda the Japs unfortunately have received too much co-operation from the press agents of our own war machine who have not always been truthful in telling our story. As some of these stories have later been proven untrue the Japs no doubt have found it easier to convince those whom they wish to convince that all our statements are falsehoods. Our first version of the bombing of Tokyo, for instance, was only remotely related to the facts which were made known to us only after several months. Our war machine press agents have little to be proud of.

Elsewhere in this issue is published the complete report of the Chief of Engineers of the War Department on the Red Lake river development project as it was presented to Congress. This report is very favorable and while the project is not approved for immediate construction, it is now in good position for speedy action in the postwar reconstruction program. With the information that is now available it will be possible to make more definite preparations for the contributions that will be expected of us. These are reasonable and there should be no difficulty in meeting the requirements.

Another $1,500 is needed to put Pennington County over the top in the War Service Fund drive and Victory Aides are now asking people who have not already contributed to make their donations. Seventeen worthy service and relief organizations will share in the funds that are being raised and this money is to provide for their needs for the coming year. This is an opportunity to make a Thanksgiving Day gift to the people of those nations who have little to be thankful for. Have you done your bit?

Cattails are in demand. The war has found a use for these weeds that in the past have served only as ornaments or as torches. The fluffy fibres are needed to take the place of kapok in the construction of life preservers and cushions, and a price of four cents a pound is being offered for them. Here is a ready-to-pick crop that can be harvested thruout the winter months.

The party will take the place of the annual 4-H banquet which it was found impossible to stage this year because of wartime restrictions.

JUNIOR CHAMBER TO ENLIST WOMEN IN MARINE CORPS

Local Group Shares in Drive for More Members of Corps Reserve

Newest branch of this nation's armed forces, the United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve has already more than proved its worth by releasing thousands of young, eager Marines for combat duty at the front.

And this month the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Thief River Falls is cooperating with the Marine Women's Reserve in sponsoring an intensive recruiting campaign throughout the state.

Primary objective in the drive, according to Wallace Carlson, president, is to acquaint as many girls as possible with the corps and with the unlimited opportunities it offers.

No special training is required of applicants for enlistment in the general service of the reserve. If they can meet the requirements as to age, education and physical standards, the Marines will provide all the additional training—even in special, technical lines—at no expense to the girl.

Age limits for enlisted women: 20-35, inclusive. Education required—at least two years' high school credits.

Officer candidates will be selected from qualified enlisted personnel.

Married women are eligible—if they're not married to Marines. They cannot have children under 18.

U. S. ARMY ENGINEER OFFICE ENDORSES RED LAKE RIVER PROJECT

Flooding is also caused by backwater in the drainage ditches which have been constructed in the past without adequate outlets. On the other hand, the diminution or almost complete cessation of flow in Red Lake River during droughts causes serious inconvenience and damage to municipalities and industries located along the stream because of inadequate or unsatisfactory water supply.

The proposed improvement would eliminate a large percentage of the flood damages resulting from overflow from the streams and would insure sufficient low-water flow in Red Lake River to provide adequate and reasonably satisfactory water supplies for municipalities and industries.

The channel improvement, in conjunction with regulation of the outflow from Red Lakes, would incidentally provide sufficient channel capacity to carry the discharge from drainage ditches and would permit the rectification, improvement and extension of the drainage systems at reasonable cost, thereby providing additional benefits to land which is now subject to flooding by backwater from the ditches or by the overland movement of surface water. The construction of the proposed project is economically justified.

The board believes that the resulting benefits are sufficiently general in character to warrant the use of federal funds for construction of the project. It recommends the adoption of a federal project for improvement of Red Lake river, including Clearwater River, for flood control and other useful purposes, as outlined in the report of the district engineer, and with such modifications as, in the discretion of the secretary of war and the chief of engineers, may be advisable, at an estimated first cost to the United States of $902,910, with $2,000 annually for operation and maintenance of the control dam and supervision of the entire project, subject to the recommended terms for local cooperation.

Mrs. Elma M. Heinze Passes Away in City; Rites to be Monday

Mrs. Elma M. Heinze, wife of Charles L. Heinze living south of the Greenwood cemetery, passed away Wednesday at a local hospital at the age of 77 years. Rites will be conducted from the Trinity Lutheran church Monday at 1:00 P. M. and at the Holt Lutheran church at 2:30 P. M. that same day. Rev. G. S. Thompson will conduct the rites here while Rev. T. C. L. Hanson will officiate at Holt. Interment will be at the Holt cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Heinze besides her husband are a son Frank Heinze of this city; a brother, Oscar Hanson of Mahnomen; and four granchildren. She was preceded in death by a son in 1934.

Mrs. Heinze was born near Oslo, Norway, June 24, 1866. At the age of fifteen she came to the United States and lived in Chicago, later moving to Excel twp., Marshall county where she lived until 1900. POSTOFFICE AGAIN PLEADS FOR EARLY YULETIDE MAILING

Dispatch Christmas Mail before End of November, Is Request

"Mail in November" does not mean "Mail on November 30," Postmaster Andrew Anderson said today.

Reports from large postoffices indicate that little Christmas mail has been started on its way by the public, although the press, radio, and business concerns are cooperating splendidly in spreading the word that November mailings are necessary this year if deliveries are to be made on time.

While postoffice officials anticipated that their advice to the public to "Mail in November" would bring no very heavy mailings until about November 15, it was hoped that a fair volume would be received during the first 2 weeks of the month.

Mailing of a huge volume of gifts and cards in the last 2 or 3 days in November will result in serious congestion in the postoffices and transportation facilities, with consequent delays. The mailings should be spread over a longer period to avoid a last-minute jam and to assure delivery by Christmas.

If gifts are mailed during November, it is quite probable that some parcels and cards will be delivered rather early; this can do no harm. But if some gifts are mailed late, it is certain that many of them will arrive after December 25; and this will result in disappointment both for civilians and for members of the armed forces who are still in this country.

No Choice

One has no choice on entering this world; and not a great deal afterward.

NEW REGULATIONS MUST BE HEEDED BY DEER HUNTERS

Chief of the Conservation Department Announces Changes in Laws

Deer hunters, during the special open season which begins Saturday, must observe many new regulations, State Conservation Commissioner Chester S. Wilson said today.

Among the provisions hunters must remember, he said are the following:

An automobile is subject to confiscation if it is used to transport deer illegally.

Seals now may be placed on deer when they are brought to a road, before loading on any vehicle, or when they are brought to any hunting camp, farm or other dwelling overnight.

The seal must be placed between the tendon and the bone of the deer's leg and locked.

Sale of deer hunting licenses are prohibited after the third day of the season.

WAR PRODUCTION CHIEF ENDORSES PULPWOOD DRIVE

Urges Cutting Cord of Pulpwood for Every Man in Service

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, today declared that greater pulpwood production is necessary to maintain a steady flow of necessary supplies and equipment to American and Allied fighting fronts.

In a letter to Walter M. Dear, chairman of the newspaper pulpwood committee, Mr. Nelson indorsed the newspaper drive starting Armistice Day, to Cut-a-Cord of pulpwood for every local boy in service. He also commended the newspapers "for this patriotic effort in behalf of a vital war material."

"During my recent tour of Allied bases," Mr. Nelson said, "I noted the numerous uses of pulpwood products, particularly for packaging supplies and equipment, by our fighting forces. It is essential that steady flow of supplies be continued if we are to maintain our advance against the Axis powers."

The Cut-a-Cord drive, which climaxes the Victory pulpwood campaign, started early in August, will continue until December 11. Its objective is to overcome a threatened 1943 pulpwood shortage which imperils military and essential civilian industry requirements.

More than 1200 pulpwood-producing communities in 27 states are enlisted in the new Cut-a-Cord drive. Each community has a local newspaper pulpwood committee which hopes to reach or exceed its quota of extra cords of pulpwood equal to the number of its inductions in the armed services.

Farmers Selling Meat Must Get Ration Points

Farmers may sell a portion of the meat that has resulted from farm slaughtering but must collect ration points and must have a farm slaughtering permit, Harold W. Bangert, District OPA Director, emphasized again this week.

The number of points a farmer should collect is listed on the official table of point values for rationed meats, fats and dairy products which is available at both the county war board and the local war price and rationing board offices.

A farmer selling meat must report his sale of rationed food and also turn in to his local board the points he collects.

Keeping Score

The Squad

The 1943-44 edition of the Prowler basketball team will be selected from the following squad: Billy McKechnie, Norm Furuseth, Burdell Merritt, Bill Holmes, Woody Schmeltzer, Virg Evenstad, Herb Claffy, Ken Swanson, Al Carpenter, Chuck Richards, Phil Kays, Ninak Carlson, Roger Tunberg, Johnny Powell, Allan Thompson, Brad Hanna, and Cliff Aase. Of this seventeen-man squad, five players—McKechnie, Furuseth, Merritt, Holmes, and Schmeltzer—are seniors; six players—Evenstad, Claffy, Swanson, Carpenter, Richards and Kays—are juniors; and the others—Carlson, Tunberg, Powell, Thompson, Hanna, and Aase, are sophmores. And it's from this sophmore group, which has considerable size, speed, and ability, that the Prowlers championship prospects will come.

Coach Glenn Hanna intends to carry the squad at this number, seventeen, until after the Christmas holidays, when he plans on paring the squad to fourteen. He will get a definite clue as to the makeup of his starting lineup this evening when the Prowlers meet Eddie Flasch's "alumni" team in an informal scrimmage. Eddie, who's receiving his army training at Austin, Texas, is home on furlough, will have Armand Pederson, who's home on furlough, too, Gordy Relerson, Carl Lee, Jimmy Welton, Gordy Lucas, and a couple of others in his squad.

Some Fine Scores

Judging by the scores that were posted, local bowlers were indulging in some "inflation" during the week. LeRoy Carlson, bowling with the Hartz Bakery quint, rolled a 256 game; Harold Olson, pilot on the Eagles P-38 team, cracked the pins for a 248 game, and a 601 total for the three-game series, and that's the first 600 total of the year; and Ed. Carlson, of the Pharmacy, chalked up a 232 game. Wally DuChamp, doing some "open" bowling Thursday, with Roy Oen, proved that he's ready to make a strong defense of his city individual championship, for he turned in a 279 game. Wally had a spare in the first frame, and then laid in a string of nine strikes.

The Duck Flight?

The when and where of the northern duck flight is about as much of a mystery as the Rudolf Hess flight, and the answers are as puzzling. Local hunters, and that means such nimrods as George Williamson, Busher Hallstrom, Gil Gilbertson, Hank Storhaug, Ames and Irey Pederson, Wally DuChamp, Abby Jaranson, Art Johnson, Cal Colvin, Doc Snyder, Jack Narverud, Herb Jung, Oscar Ellingson, Harold Olson, Ole Ness, George Mostue, Doc Hedemark, and others, have come to the conclusion that the flight, especially the mallards, passed through on Nov. 6th and 7th. But they are not agreed as to what became of the bluebills, whether they moved through east or west of here, except to say that the bluebill shooting was the worst in years.

Deerslayers, Inc.

Most of the disappointed duckhunters will exchange their shotgun for a rifle on Saturday and, donning plenty of red flannel, will be out after deer. Reports indicate that the territory contains a considerable number of deer, although Woody Almquist states that there aren't as many deer in the country southwest of here as there were last year, and Jake Muran, bachelor living near Carmel, said that he hadn't seen as many deer this year as in former years. The activities of the poachers may be the reason that the deer herd seems smaller.

There are a number of new provisions that the deer hunters must keep in mind this year, such as, (1) an automobile is subject to confiscation if it is used to transport deer illegally; (2) seals may now be placed on deer when they are brought to a road, before loading on any vehicle, or when they are brought to any hunting camp, farm, or other dwelling overnight; (3) the seal must be placed between the tendon and the bone of the deer's leg and locked; (4) sale of deer hunting licenses will be prohibited after the third day of the season; (5) hunters are urged to turn over all deer hides to commercial channels for manufacture of military equipment.

Ceiling prices on Grade B poultry are 1½ cents less than Grade A and on Grade C poultry, 4 cents less than Grade A.

On dressed, Grade A chickens, the ceiling prices that processors or wholesalers may pay to producers are: for broilers, fryers and young roasters, 35.5 cents; fowl, 30.5 cents; and for old roasters, 26 cents.

For dressed young turkeys, the ceiling on birds under 16 lbs. is 41.2 cents; for medium (16 to 20 lbs.), 39.2 cents; and heavy (20 lbs. or over) 37.7 cents.

16 Italians Die for Shooting of Nazi

Mourning relatives gather around the fresh graves of 16 Italians who were killed by the Nazis in retaliation for the shooting of a German soldier. The soldier had stolen a chicken from a local family. Inscription on the cross reads: "They died from the forces of Nazilism and Fascism." According to reports from Italy, this scene is common in many towns through which the Nazis are retreating before the might of Allied armies which were steadily rolling toward Rome and Berlin.

1916 OVERLAND TO SCRAP PILE

Jackson.—A 1916 Overland touring car that has been gathering dust in Martin Sevetsen's old red barn for over 20 years landed into the scrap pile last week. Way back in 1922, a man by the name of James Foster, veteran of World War One, unable to find storage in a downtown garage left it in the Sevetsen barn saying he would return for it in a few weeks, but he never did come back for it, so Mr. Sevetsen has turned it over to the scrap pile.

Report of Army Engineers on Red Lake River Project

The Times presents herewith the complete report of Major General E. Reybold, chief of army engineers, to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, recommending the carrying out of the proposed flood control project on the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers and their tributaries. While the project has received the approval of the army engineers, Secretary Stimson has rejected a proposal that the work be instituted at once, holding that it is not essential enough to the prosecution of the war.

To The Secretary of War:

1. I submit, for transmission to Congress, my report with accompanying papers and illustrations on preliminary examination and survey for flood control of Red Lake River and its tributaries, Minnesota, including Clearwater River, Minnesota, authorized by the Flood Control Act approved June 28, 1938.

2. Red Lake River, the principal tributary of the Red River of the North, has its source at the outlet of Lower Red Lake in the northwestern part of Minnesota, flows generally westward through a meandering course for 196 miles and empties into the Red River of the North at East Grand Forks, Minnesota. The drainage area contains 5,711 square miles, comprising all or parts of nine counties, of which about 500 square miles are water surface, with 977 square miles set aside for an Indian Reservation and 124 square miles for wild life refuges. The principal tributary is Clearwater River, drainage area 1,420 square miles, which enters from the south at river mile 91.2. About 50 per cent of the basin is classed as farm land and the remainder consists of water areas, swamps, marshes, peat bogs, and other types of uninhabited submarginal lands, much of which is publicly owned. The total population on the watershed was about 69,000 in 1940, including approximately 2,000 Indians, which is equivalent to 13 persons per square mile of land area. The principal cities are Crookston, population 7,161; Thief River Falls, population 6,019; East Grand Forks, population 3,511; and Red Lake Falls, population 1,530, all located in the western part of the watershed. The inhabited portion of the basin is primarily an agricultural region, devoted principally to general farming, stock raising and dairying, including the necessary processing of agricultural and dairy products. Many of the Indians are engaged in lumbering, fishing, gathering of wild berries, herbs, and wild rice, and the production of maple sugar. The principal crops are hay, wheat, oats, barley, corn, rye, flax and potatoes. There is no navigation on the river and the basin has adequate rail and highway transportation facilities.

Rainfall Cited

3. The average annual precipitation on the Red Lake River Basin is 20.40 inches, the major portion of which falls during the spring and summer months, with about 18 per cent falling in the form of snow during the winter season. The watershed is subject to severe local thunderstorms, as well as to prolonged general storms, which occur, for the most part, during the 5-month period from May to September inclusive. Extensive areas in the basin are flooded practically every year, either by early spring floods resulting from snow melt or by late spring or summer floods caused by excessive rainfall, which often spread over the flat areas where no adequate drainage channels exist. The early spring floods, which occur before the planting season begins, cause very little damage, but the late spring and summer floods cause extensive damage from loss of crops and livestock. No loss of human life from floods has been reported. Sixteen major floods are known to have occurred since the year 1880, of which the flood of July, 1919, is believed to have been the most devastating. It is reported that the entire country in the vicinity of Thief Lake, in the northern part of the basin, was flooded to depths ranging from 4 to 8 feet during this flood, and that over 500 families lost practically all of their possessions. Portions of Crookston were flooded and many families driven from their homes. It is estimated that the sum of $50,000 was expended for immediate relief of the flood victims. The flood of June, 1911, caused the Clearwater and Red Lake Rivers to remain above flood stage for 46 days, which inundated 28,600 acres of farm land, with destruction of or damage to the crops on 21,000 acres. The estimated total annual direct and indirect flood damages for the entire basin resulting from all types of floods are $258,000, of which $87,360 is caused by direct overflow from streams. Flood damages within the Indian Reservation are negligible.

Relief Measures Sought

4. Local interests desire relief from floods caused by direct overflow from the streams, or by backwater in drainage ditches and believe that this could be accomplished by providing increased channel capacity in Red Lake River upstream from Highlanding, river mile 159, and in Clearwater River between the town of Plummer, river mile 31.6, and Ruffy Brook. Residents along the lower Thief River desire assurances that the Mud Lake wild life refuge will be operated so as to cause no aggravation of flood conditions along lower Thief River. Residents of the upper Thief River Basin, and in those portions of Red Lake River and Clearwater River Basins not subject to flooding from direct overflow from the streams or ditches, desire a generally improved system of drainage ditches, including more adequate outlets for the main ditches. It has been suggested that the sites of numerous reservoirs which were used in the past by logging companies could be utilized for storage reservoirs for flood control and conservation purposes. Municipalities and industries along Red Lake river desire water conservation in order to provide increased low-water stream flows which will insure adequate and satisfactory water supplies.

Ample Flow from Highlanding

6. In general, the channels of Red Lake River downstream from Highlanding, river mile 159, and of Clearwater River below Plummer, river mile 31.6 have sufficient capacity to carry all ordinary floods without flooding of adjacent land, but upstream from these points the terrain is so flat and the surface so nearly level that no adequate water courses have developed. Consequently, a large portion of the upper watershed remains constantly wet, and extensive open marshes and peat deposits are scattered over the entire area. Large areas are frequently flooded by direct overflow from the streams and the drainage ditches, as well as by the overland movement of surface water across the broad, flat areas where no adequate water courses exist. The hydraulic capacity of the channels of Red Lake River above Highlanding and Clearwater River above Plummer is very small, and the efficiency of the channels is usually greatly reduced during the summer by weeds, thereby causing the flood waters to remain on the land during long periods of time. Furthermore, the divide between the watersheds of the two streams is very low and floods in one stream may over-top the divide and spread into the other watershed. The two streams should therefore be considered jointly with respect to flood control. A comprehensive program of drainage, principally by means of judicial ditches financed by obligations against the land, was carried out between 1910 and 1916, which resulted in the settlement and attempted cultivation of many former lake beds, marshes, peat areas, and submarginal lands. The plan has proved to be only partially successful, and ownership of much of the land involved has reverted to the counties or the state because of delinquencies in taxes or the drainage obligations, or both. On the other hand, the region is subject to droughts, during which the flow in Red Lake river is not sufficient to meet the needs of the municipalities and industries located on the stream. A stop-log structure built by the Indian Service at the outlet of Lower Red Lake controls the outflow from the lake.

Would Rectify Upper Channel

6. The district engineer finds that the most desirable plan for improvement consists of providing a rectified and enlarged channel 37.2 miles long, with a bottom width of 40 feet, in Red Lake river throughout the reach between river mile 150.8 near Highlanding and the head of the river, and of modifying the existing control structure at the outlet of Lower Red Lake so as to provide for the installation of three hand-operated Taintor gates, one stop-log bay, one sluice gate with an approach channel 800 feet long, having a bottom width of 70 feet, capable of discharging 1,000 cubic feet per second when the lake is at normal pool elevation 1174.0. The plan also includes rectification, clearing and enlargement of the channel of Clearwater River between river mile 41.5, near the town of Plummer, and a point 0.9 mile upstream from the mouth of Ruffy Brook, so as to provide a bottom width of 40 feet throughout the lower 28.5 miles and 30 feet throughout the remaining 9.2 miles. The upper 15.5 miles of the channel improvement in Red Lake River and the control structure are within the Indian Reservation, and 15.4 miles of the channel improvement in Clearwater River are along the southern boundary of the reservation. The estimated total first cost of the proposed improvements is $988,950, including $56,010 for bridge alterations, lands, easements and rights-of-way, and remedial measures in the town of Waskish. The district engineer believes that the proposed improvement would eliminate 84 per cent of the average annual direct and indirect flood damages along the upper Red Lake River resulting from overflow from the streams, and 80 per cent of those along the upper Clearwater River, which is equivalent to total average annual flood control benefits of $69,900. The proposed regulation of the outflow from Red Lake would provide adequate low-water flows in Red Lake River to meet the requirements for water supply and sanitation, which would result in additional estimated annual benefits of $10,800. The total average annual benefits which may reasonably be expected are, therefore $80,700, which in comparison with total average annual costs of $44,010, gives an annual cost to benefits ratio of 1.0 to 1.83 for the entire project.

No Damage from Refuges

7. Local interests along the Thief River believe that the Thief Lake and Mud Lake wild life refuges aggravated flood conditions along the lower river during the flood of 1938, but the district engineer finds that this is largely an erroneous conception and that flood conditions were not materially changed by the refuges. However, responsible authorities are installing extensive improvements at the refuges which will diminish rather than increase flood damages along the river below. The district engineer believes that control of the levels of Red Lakes should rest with the War Department in order to insure the most advantageous operation of the proposed project, and that local interests should provide, without cost to the United States, flowage easements for stages in Red Lakes up to elevation 1177.0 and furnish a cash contribution of $33,220 in lieu of altering bridges. He also believes that the Indian Reservation interests should furnish all lands, easements, and rights-of-way within the Reservation but should not be required to share in the cash contribution, and that local interests outside of the Indian Reservation should furnish the entire cash contribution, maintain all of the improved river channels, including those within the Indian Reservation, and provide for treatment of sewage or other wastes before discharge into the streams. Local interests outside of the Red Lake Indian Reservation have indicated their concurrence in, and their belief that the required cooperation would be forthcoming. The Red Lake Indians and the Bureau of Indian Affairs, with the approval of the Department of the Interior, have indicated their concurrence in the proposed project, and their general accord with the requested cooperation, including the transfer of the control of Red Lake to the War Department and permission for local interests outside of the reservation to maintain the improved channels within the reservation.

Recommend Project

8. The district engineer concludes that the proposed plan of improvement is economically justified, and that the entire plan should be undertaken as a unit by the United States in order to realize the maximum benefits.

9. The district engineer recommends the adoption of a Federal project for improvement of Red Lake River, Minnesota, including Clearwater River, for regulation of Red Lakes, for flood control in portions of Red Lake and Clearwater Rivers, and for increasing the low-water flow in Red Lake River, at an estimated net initial cost to the United States of $902,940, provided that control of the levels of Upper and Lower Red Lakes be transferred to the War Department, and responsible local interests give assurances satisfactory to the Secretary of War that they will, without cost to the United States, provide all flowage easements and rights-of-way; hold and save the United States free from damages due to construction works and operation; make a cash contribution of $33,200 in lieu of altering bridges; take over the maintenance and subsequent replacement of all bridges improved by the United States; maintain the improved river channels; control the contamination of Red Lakes, Clearwater and Thief Rivers by rural areas and villages without sewer systems; require that municipalities which discharge sewage into Red Lakes, Clearwater or Thief Rivers treat their sewage before discharge into the streams so as to effect a reduction in the biochemical oxygen demand of not less than 85 per cent for towns of 1,000 population or greater; and of 35 per cent for municipalities having a population less than 1,000; and prevent the construction of any new dams or the raising of any existing dams in Red Lake, Clearwater or Thief Rivers downstream from Lower Red Lake, Clearwater Lake, or Mud Lake, unless authorized by the War Department. He further recommends that the United States operate and maintain the proposed Red Lake control dam and supervise the entire project at an estimated cost of $2,000 annually. The division engineer concurs in general in the conclusions and recommendations of the district engineer.

Advantages Cited

10. The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors finds that the exceedingly flat terrain, with the lack of adequate stream channels, retards the run-off and causes frequent flooding of extensive areas of farm land in the upper portion of the Red Lake River Basin, with resulting serious loss of crops and livestock. Furthermore, during droughts the diminution or almost complete cessation of stream flow in the Lower Red Lake River may cause serious inconvenience and damage to municipalities and industrial interests because of inadequate or unsatisfactory water supplies. The improvements outlined in the report of the district engineer would provide a reasonably satisfactory solution of the water supply problems and the control of floods resulting from direct overflow from streams within the Red Lake River Basin. It would also provide for construction at small cost of adequate direct outlets for the existing drainage ditches, which would permit the rehabilitation and extension of the drainage systems. The Board concurs in general with the conclusions of the reporting officers and recommends authorization of a Federal project for flood control and other purposes in the basin of Red Lake River, Minnesota, including Clearwater River, substantially as outlined in the report of the district engineer, with such modifications thereof as, in the discretion of the Secretary of War and the Chief of Engineers, may be advisable, at an estimated first cost to the United States of $902,940, with $2,000 annually for operation and maintenance.

Agrees with Engineers

11. After due consideration of these reports, I concur in the views of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors. The proposed channel improvement would eliminate a large percentage of flood damages resulting from overflow from the streams and would incidentally provide channels in Red Lake and Clearwater Rivers of sufficient capacity to carry the discharge from drainage ditches, thereby providing for rehabilitation, improvement and extension of the drainage system, which would materially improve conditions as regards flooding by overflow from the ditches and by overland movement of surface water where no adequate channels exist. The proposed control works at the outlet of Lower Red Lake would insure the release of sufficient water from the lake to meet the needs at all times of municipalities along Red Lake River. I accordingly recommend adoption of a Federal project for improvement of Red Lake River, Minnesota, including Clearwater River, Minnesota, for flood control and other purposes, substantially as outlined in the report of the district engineer, subject to such modifications thereof as, in the discretion of the Secretary of War and the Chief of Engineers, may be advisable, at an estimated total cost to the United States of $902,940, with $2,000 annually for operation and maintenance, provided that control of the levels of Upper and Lower Red Lakes be transferred to the War Department, and responsible local interests give assurances satisfactory to the Secretary of War that they will, without cost to the United States, provide all flowage easements and rights-of-way; hold and save the United States free from damages due to construction works and operation; make a cash contribution of $33,220 in lieu of altering bridges; take over the maintenance and subsequent replacement of all bridges improved by the United States; maintain the improved river channels; control the contamination of Red Lakes, Clearwater and Thief Rivers by rural areas and villages without sewer systems; require that municipalities which discharge sewage into Red Lakes, Clearwater or Thief Rivers treat their sewage before discharge into the streams so as to effect a reduction in the biochemical oxygen demand of not less than 85 per cent for towns of 1,000 population or greater; and of 35 per cent for municipalities having a population less than 1,000; and prevent the construction of any new dams or the raising of any existing dams in Red Lake, Clearwater or Thief Rivers downstream from Lower Red Lake, Clearwater Lake, or Mud Lake, unless authorized by the War Department.

GOVERNOR ED THYE TO HEADLINE INT. FALLS PULP RALLY

To Pilot Train of Pulpwood from North Minnesota Communities

Northern Minnesota citizens Saturday, Nov. 20, will mark the most unusual effort in the history of Koochiching and adjoining counties with a Victory Pulpwood Festival in International Falls. It is part of the campaign being conducted nationally by newspapers to stimulate cutting of war-vital pulpwood.

A milestone in the campaign, the event will emphasize the tremendous cutting job that has been done this fall — and that which must be carried on this winter. In this area the campaign is guided by the Koochiching county victory pulpwood committee, headed by Melvin Johnson, farm leader and pulpwood cutter.

Gov. Edward J. Thye will be No. 1 guest of Koochiching county with representatives from more than 30 other surrounding communities also present.

Clad in a lumberjack outfit presented by the festival committee, Gov. Thye will pilot a trainload of pulpwood from northern Minnesota communities into International Falls as a highlight of the day's program. He also will lead a pulpwood truck parade through the city to the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company woodyard for unloading. His appearance there will be preceded by a day's inspection tour of surrounding pulpwood camps.

The governor also will participate in a public meeting on the future of Minnesota's forests, sponsored by the county committee and the Minnesota Forest Industries committee. In the evening he will participate in a nationwide broadcast from the school auditorium and meet with labor union representatives.

Civil Service Agent Is Here Today to Consult on Jobs in Navy Yards

Skilled men, helpers and laborers are urgently needed for vital war work at the Puget Sound, Mare Island and Hunter's Point Drydocks navy yards. Because of the shortage of available manpower on the West Coast, the entire country is being searched for recruits.

Transportation will be paid by the navy department from the place of recruitment to the place of employment. Salaries range from 88c per hour to $1.27 per hour. Time and one-half is paid for all work over 40 hours per week and the average work week at present is 48 to 52 hours.

A representative of the U. S. civil service commission will be at the U. S. employment service office at Thief River Falls today to conduct interviews and offer immediate appointment, according to Russell E. Olsen, manager.

DESTROYER-ESCORT BUILT IN 25 DAYS

NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN SHIP CONSTRUCTION

Beats World War I Destroyer Time of 45½ Days—Bethlehem Set Both Marks

Has Large Gun-Power for Both Offensive and Defensive Service; Equipped for Surface, Depth Bomb and Anti-Aircraft Combat

Beating all prior records, the destroyer-escort Reynolds was completed and delivered Nov. 3 to the U. S. Navy, by the Bethlehem-Hingham Shipyard just 25 days after keel laying.

The Reynolds is a hard-hitting, fighting unit with great fire-power and speed, a bigger, more powerful ship than the destroyer Reid, which held the previous production record of being built in 45½ days, during World War I. Bethlehem built both ships.

The Reynolds has terrific battle armament for surface, depth bomb, or anti-aircraft combat. Her main battery has guns mounted in three turrets which can revolve in a complete circle to follow a target, and can be fired by a trained crew with amazing accuracy and rapidity. Aft is a 40-mm. Bofors gun, each barrel capable of firing 120 rounds of 2-pound projectiles per minute. She has numerous 20-mm. Oerlikon machine guns with a potential fire-power of nearly 400 shells every 60 seconds. Also, along port and starboard rails aft of amidships are a flock of K-guns which can toss out the famous 300-pound "ash cans" which make it unhealthy for any submarine within hundreds of yards.

VAST PURCHASES BEING DAMMED UP UNTIL AFTER WAR

Insurance Company Survey Shows U. S. Will Want 2,000,000 Cars

More Americans plan to buy a new automobile within the first year after the end of the war than any other major item; a new home is the second most frequent purchase found on Mr. and Mrs. America's postwar shopping list. It is shown by replies to an inquiry made to 25,000 policyholder families of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

A new radio ranks third among postwar purchases now planned, and an extensive trip, either U. S. or foreign, is close behind, the survey shows.

Eager anticipation of coming improvement and new "gadgets" described in current newspaper and magazine articles and advertisements, was disclosed by replies which listed such items as home air conditioning, plastic kitchen equipment, and frozen food cabinets. Almost two-thirds of the prospective postwar home owners stated their intention to build rather than buy, suggesting a desire to incorporate new ideas in construction and equipment.

"What major purchases do you expect to make when the war is over—say within the first year after the removal of wartime restrictions?" was the question. Over 13 per cent of the families queried—one out of every eight—sent in their postwar "shopping list." This unusually high questionnaire return is another measure of the eager interest of the U. S. public in postwar products, the report points out.

Most lists name several major purchases planned; many remark that it will take considerably more than a year, perhaps several years, to manage all of the purchases listed. Many more say that present automobile or household equipment is nearly worn out, and list mechanical refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, etc., as "must" purchases at an early date.

Tabulating the replies to the inquiry, the report shows that slightly over 50 per cent of the families responding plan to buy an automobile within the first year after wartime restrictions are removed. This represents 6½ per cent of the entire 25,000 queried; even assuming that most of the families who failed to send in shopping lists are not planning any purchases, extension of the tabulation would indicate a banked up demand for at least 2,000,000 automobiles in the United States as soon as they can be made available, the report says.

One-third of those replying expect to build or start buying a home soon after the end of the war. Of these families, 60 per cent intend to build, 32 per cent plan to buy, and 8 per cent are undecided.

Fiber Tax Tokens

Colorado is now collecting its state sales tax in red fiber tokens instead of aluminum discs, the federation of tax administrators reported. The tokens are cut, dyed, embossed and packaged at the state penitentiary, and cost approximately $1.25 a thousand to manufacture, or about $12,500 for the ten million the state requires.

FEWER LICENSES REVOKED TO DATE IN CURRENT YEAR

State Director Doubts that Record Reveals Better Driving Habits

Consistent with the trend in previous months in 1943, revocations and suspensions of drivers' licenses in October were far below the 1942 figure, according to the monthly report made to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways, by E. P. Lee, supervisor of the drivers' license division of the Minnesota highway department.

There were 140 revocations and 271 suspensions, compared to 277 revocations and 496 suspensions in October, 1942. In the first ten months of 1942, there were 1,629 revocations and 2,412 suspensions, compared to 2,837 revocations and 4,311 suspensions in the same months in 1942.

"For a time it seemed plausible that the decrease in revocations and suspensions reflected better driving habits," said Mr. Lee. "In the first eight months of 1943, traffic fatalities in Minnesota were 55 per cent under the 1942 record. The high rate of fatalities in September and October, however, casts doubt on this theory.

"Less travel is one reason for the drop, but the reduction in license revocations and suspensions is considerably greater than the reduction in traffic. Another probable reason is the reduced personnel of many traffic law enforcement agencies. Revocations are based on convictions for the more serious violations or on other information usually furnished by local authorities. It may be significant that 48 counties had no revocations and 45 had no suspensions in October."

Of the 140 revocations in October, 130 were either for driving under the influence of liquor, or for inebriacy. Of the 271 suspensions, 75 were for excessive speed, 50 for reckless driving, 48 for failure to establish financial responsibility, 22 for failure to obey signs and signals, 19 no drivers' license, 57 miscellaneous.

HOUSE VOTES DOWN BILL ENCOURAGING THE USE OF OLEO

John Brandt Warns of Other Attacks Impending on Dairy Industry

While alertness of Northwest leaders has figured prominently in the defeat of oleomargarine manufactures in the Fulmer bill attack against the dairy industry, John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries and head of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, this week declared that other attacks on oleo regulations are in the making.

"These continued efforts of the opposition to nullify rules of many years standing that protect public as well as dairy farmers will demand that Northwest dairy people retain all the unity of purpose that they have exhibited in the recent defense against the Fulmer bill," Brandt declared.

He pointed out that as soon as the Fulmer bill had been tabled for the duration of the present congress, or until January 1945, by vote of the House Committee on Agriculture, oleomargarine spokesmen promised to carry the fight to the Senate.

According to these plans, a bill similar to the Fulmer proposal will be introduced in the Senate soon. An effort will be made to have the bill considered by the Senate finance committee instead of the Senate committee on agriculture. Another proposal, the Maybank bill, which would eliminate federal oleo taxes for the duration, has already been introduced in the Senate.

The Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee took a leading role. The powerful resolution of this official organization representing all the dairy industry of Minnesota will be an important part of the record of the hearings.

Last Rites Conducted Monday Afternoon for Mrs. Kristei Hinden

Last rites were conducted Monday at 2:00 P. M. for Mrs. Kristei Hinden, 431 N. Merriam Ave., who passed away Wednesday evening of last week at the age of 68 years. The services were held at the Gulbranson funeral home and burial was made at the Greenwood cemetery.

State Officials Expect 40 Per Cent Decline in Liquor Taxes This Year

Adding a new commentary on the changes brought on by war, state officials this week revised to a new low their estimate of the reliance which the state can place on its liquor drinkers in helping to finance the state.

Examining anew the decline in liquor taxes, T. G. Driscoll, commissioner of administration, advised the legislative advisory council that another $400,000 must be sliced off of the estimated return from the tax for the current fiscal year, ending June 30th, 1944.

Driscoll said that present trends indicate the state may expect not more than $3,600,000 from the tax for this year. Previous estimates have been $4,000,000. If receipts fall to the level Driscoll predicts, it will mean a drop of more than 40% from the peak in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942. In that year liquor taxes brought in $6,210,000.

GOODRIDGE

Jay Payne Passes On

Our Mayor Jay Payne passed away at his home here Thursday evening. In his passing, Goodridge has lost a person who has always had the interest of the town and its people, both old and young, first in his heart, from the time the town was started. He was the one who saw to it that a building was moved in from the country to start our first school. That building is now part of the Lutheran church. He and Mrs. Payne operated the Post Office until a few years ago. When work was impossible for the young men to get, he got the N.Y.A. officials to make work possible. One project was the building of a skating rink that provided many hours of clean recreation for our young folks. Just this fall, even though his health was very poor, he got out and took a keen interest in seeing that our streets were regraveled while it was possible to get it done. We could always count on Jay to help with anything that bettered the community and his clear thinking and sound advice will be greatly missed. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Payne. His son Dan and daughter Mrs. Rokne survive him.

Y. P. S. Meeting

Missionary Lenora Erickson gave a very fine talk about China and the Philippines at the Y.P.S. in the First Lutheran Church on Thursday evening. In the afternoon Roy Barton of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McEnelly and family joined the group for lunch.

Another Goodridge resident passed away suddenly this week, Martin Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peder Olson died Sunday evening. He had been employed on a farm all summer and came home last week. He was suffering with boils but continued to grind feed, which was his winter work, as late as Wednesday.

Win Trips to National Club Congress, Chicago

OUTSTANDING records of achievement in 4-H wartime production and conservation projects, conducted by the Extension Service, have won state championship honors for six Minnesota club members. As a reward, each will receive an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 1. The six state winners are:

MARY McNEAL, 18, of Long Prairie, is the state's highest scoring participant in the 1943 National 4-H Canning Achievement contest, for which Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. provides the awards. During 6 years in club work, the girl put up 4,570 quarts of meats, vegetables, fruits, soups and jellies, and won many placings on her exhibits.

HELEN ZRIMER, 15, of Herman, receives her award from American Viscose Corp. for having the top ranking record of planning, selecting, constructing, assembling and caring for her wartime wardrobe in the National 4-H Victory Dress Revue. This program encourages participants to dress appropriately, healthfully and economically for all occasions.

MARY DUKVEL, 18, of Minneapolis, receives the Montgomery Ward trip award for her "all around" 4-H girls' record. During 8 years in club work, she sewed and remodeled 70 garments, prepared 1,213 dishes, baked 1,010 batches of breads and pastries, made home improvement articles, and canned 1,777 quarts of foods, as well as completed 18 projects, and served 3 years as assistant leader.

ROBERT K. BULTIK, 20, of Porter, won top honors in the Westinghouse 4-H Rural Electrification contest for his exceptional ability in utilizing electric power for time- and labor-saving purposes on his farm. His 9 year 4-H record shows that he built an electric brooder, made lamps, and helped repair electrical appliances.

VIOLETTE LOIJA, 20, of Wadena, is given the Chicago trip by the Educational Bureau of the Spool Cotton Co. for her superior record in the current National 4-H Clothing Achievement activity. The girl made over or mended 281 of her own and family's old garments to help save vitally needed new cloth and labor for military uses, as well as crocheted and knitted accessories for her wardrobe.

CLARA SCHLURTER, 19, of Hutchinson, state winner in the National 4-H Food Preparation Contest, is rewarded with the coveted trip by Servel home economics department for her exemplary record in helping to "Make America Strong." She contributed immeasurably to the war program by making the greatest possible use of home-produced food, and preparing 381 nutritious, balanced, wholesome meals, and 110,449 bakings for her family.

Thirty-five college scholarships, totaling $7,000 provided by the same donors are awarded the national winners in the above contests.

Full Larder in Australia

Australia as a base for offensive war against Japanese invaders to the north is one to which shipments of most United States food supplies are unnecessary. Pacific ships can thus carry more tanks, planes, and ammunition.

The magnitude of supplies available for United States forces in Australia is indicated by the surpluses normally exported. More than a third of the foodstuff produced in the continent has been finding its way in recent years to foreign markets.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

There are only five weeks left until Christmas! Last week we had nine thousand 4 by 8's (surgical dressings) left to be made up before the Christmas holidays. If we averaged 400 dressings at each meeting we could be finished by the 10th of December, counting six meetings a week. This would give everyone including the instructors two whole weeks of uninterrupted Christmas preparations.

If we leave the work for just the present few who so willingly donate their time, it means that the work will drag out and be left for mostly the instructors to finish. Why not show the real Christmas spirit by remembering others? This would only be calling out an average of twenty people a meeting.

There are at least 1500 capable women in this city. Of this number there should surely be twenty ladies who could come out each working day. It has been suggested that Trinity ladies who cannot come out on Monday afternoons try to make it on Wednesdays as there have been just two and three workers on that day.

Please remember that the sewing room is open every Friday afternoon for the making of hospital supplies. The work is easy and if you would rather take the work home with you than work there, that is your privilege. Bring your scissors along if you intend to work in the room, as there is still work to be cut out.

National headquarters advises that all regular subscriptions to the Red Cross Courier must be accompanied by remittance. This new payment-in-advance policy has been adopted to simplify handling subscription records and to reduce operating expenses. All subscription orders should be mailed to the Midwestern Area office in St. Louis, Mo. (5).

Mrs. Lynde, chairman, is starting a home nursing class beginning next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Knox school. Those who have not already notified her of their intention of taking the course, please get in touch with Mrs. Lynde before Tuesday. There will be an afternoon class, too, if there is a sufficient number interested.
